WILD time in Wall Street. Frightened gamblers threw overboard one million shares in yesterday's "first hour." The day's proceedings, 3,726,000 shares, broke "all records for all time." There are many sheep among humans. One, frightened, jumped over the precipice, others follow. The big men go to the foot of the hill, pick up the remains, and that is "the profit."

THE excuse for the panic, which won't last, is the interstate commerce commission's veto of the "Nickel Plate" consolidation of railroads.

Consolidation would be a good thing, properly planned, and is actually recommended by the commission, which rejects the plan submitted. Later, probably, the consolidation will go through. Then prices will climb up and the little lamb with the broken back will ask himself, "Why did I jump?" He jumped because he was gambling, not investing. Gamblers are nervous.

YOUNG Theodore Roosevelt, whose father hunted big animals in Africa, returns from hunting big animals in Asia. His expedition was financed by James Simpson, of Chicago. Theodore Roosevelt the second is as emphatic as he can be, snaps his teeth very nicely and says 'his hat is in the ring."

HOOVER also is ready with his hat, and thinks he can make it, although he has never shot anything much bigger than a rabbit. And there is Senator Borah, a mighty hunter in the American political jungle—his hat is picturesque.

IT ISN'T necessary yet to consider democracy seriously. Governor Al Smith of New York will probably make another try. Mr. McAdoo, of California, says that if so, he will run against him. Then high finance will doubtless compromise on another Mr. Davis, and that will be all of that.

SOMEBODY should warn owners of mills in Passaic that they are running

Baking Recipes

Can you make good pie crust? Very few can. Have you ever tried to make Parker House rolls?

There isn't any trick in making these things perfectly. The Department of Agriculture has published a booklet which makes it possible for anyone. It sets forth the right way to make pastry and bread.

This invaluable baking book is a free government publication, and our Washington Bureau will secure a copy for anyone who sends two cents in stamps for return postage. In filling out the coupon be sure to write your name and address clearly on the lines.

FACED CHARGE OF NON-SUPPORT

Shot Fails to Halt Fugitive Who Outruns Municipal Court Attache in Sprint Along Fourth Street.

Wilbert Taylor, 24, East End potter, is a fugitive from justice today following his sensational escape from Municipal Court Bailiff Carman Hissam as he was being taken to jail to begin a 30-day sentence on a non-support charge.

Slipping from his overcoat, held by the bailiff, while he was walking down Market street, Taylor sprinted along East Fourth street, darted down Crook alley, thence into the back yard of Mrs. Margaret Bevis' property, then through the Bevis home to the street where the trail was lost.

As Taylor turned at the Ceramic corner of Crook alley, Hissam pulled his revolver and fired, but the shot failed to halt the fugitive. When Hissam fired he fell. Before he could resume the chase, Taylor had found a haven.

Taylor was arraigned before Municipal Judge Hanley a few weeks ago upon information furnished by his wife, Mrs. Geneva Taylor, Riley avenue. When he failed to keep his promise to care for his child, he was re-arrested.

He pleaded guilty of the non-support charge and was fined $50 as well as given a jail sentence.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS ARE DINNER GUESTS

Six-course Banquet Served by Home Economics Girls

BUSINESS MEET

Leaves of Absences for Normal School Pupils.

Members of the board of education were guests of the Home Economics department of the high school at a six-course banquet served prior to their semi-monthly meeting last night.

Miss Janis Wolfe, home economics instructor, and Miss Geraldine Devoe, continuation school teacher, served the dinner. Places were laid for President D. F. White, C. A. Ferguson and R. B. Stevenson, of the school board; Clerk-Treasurer Emmett J. Gaston, Superintendent C. S. McVay and R. W. Sample, member of last year's board.

At the board's session, which followed the banquet, Superintendent McVay was authorized to appoint substitutes for teachers who desire to enter normal school this spring. This will permit teachers, who are now employed under a special privilege, to secure the necessary credits before the fall term.

The board also discussed the matter of a caretaker at the Patterson Field dump. It is likely that the city council and the health board will be asked to co-operate with the school board in the employment of a dumpmaster.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—Postal receipts from 50 selected cities showed a substantial increase last February over the same month in 1925, the figures being $28,088,427 and $25,643, 947, respectively, the post office department announced today. The increase was 9.53 per cent.

Jacksonville, Florida, led in percentage increase with 47.77; Fort Worth, Texas, was second, 38.46 per cent; Akron, Ohio, third, 33.90 percent.

Eugene Larkins, 22, Injured When Truck Dashes Down Hill

Eugene Larkins, 22, driver for the Ohio Willite Paving & Surfacing company, was injured about the abdomen when he leaped from a runaway truck as he was descending the Lisbon street hill at noon today.

Larkins was enroute to the Willite plant near Patterson field with the truck. As the machine started down the hill, the brakes refused to hold. Larkins headed the truck into the curb and jumped. As he hit the ground, he struck a telephone pole.

He was taken to the City hospital where an examination of his injuries was made by Dr. W. G. McDade. He was later discharged from the hospital.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Samuel Lazarus, St. Louis capitalist died suddenly in Broad street hospital here this morning, following a relapse after suffering a stroke of apoplexy Wednesday.

COUNCIL PLANS $20,000 STREET IMPROVEMENTS DURING YEAR

Solicitor Instructed to Prepare Necessary Legislation.

SURFACING JOB

Sewers for Laura Avenue and Ephraim Street.

Acting upon the recommendation of Service-Safety Director John W. Moore, city solons last night authorized legislation for a $20,000 bond issue to meet the cost of the street improvement program which will be undertaken during 1926.

Moore pointed out that most of the funds from the gasoline and license tax must be used in liquidating notes for work completed last year. He declared that several streets were in need of improvement.

"The debt which was carried over for street improvement work last year is unfair to this administration," he said. "Early this year we urged the issuance of bonds to liquidate the outstanding debt for street work in order to leave new taxes available for the city's 1926 program."

No Revenue Reduction.

The proposed resurfacing of West Fourth street will cost the city about $7,000, while St. Clair avenue will mean an expense of $8,000, according to the engineer's figures, Moore said.

Moore declared that delinquent street assessments collected recently would more than make up for the bonds and that it would mean no reduction in the revenue for operating expenses. Council, by a unanimous vote, instructed the solicitor to prepare the legislation which will be considered at the next meeting.

Council debated the advisability of using asphalt on Fourth street, Solons Herrington and Farrall asserting that similar treatment has not proved successful in other cities. Herrington said that the old bricked street would not provide a firm foundation for asphalt. Farrall declared he had pictures and data from Steubenville and

BELIEVE FIVE ARE DROWNED

Sedan Thought to Have Crashed Through Ice.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. James Phipps and their three children, Paul, 9, Hazel, 5, and Elmer, 3, who left Pelee Island Monday afternoon in a sedan to drive 18 miles over the ice to the mainland, are believed today to have crashed through the ice and drowned.

It is feared that Phipps, blinded by a driving snowstorm which came up shortly after he left the island, drove into an open space of water.

Provincial police and farmers on sleds and sleighs started a systematic search today, but little hope is held that the party will be found.

REVIEW-TRIBUNE'S STAR REPORTERS ON JOB WITH HUMOROUS "JINGLES"

Billy and Eddie Gorman.

Billy and Eddie Gorman, the singing reporters, are the fastest working newspapermen in East Liverpool. They arrived here yesterday and in a few hours were as familiar with local topics as the average citizen.

They write up the local news in song form, entitled "Jingles," and each humorous "Jingle" proves to be a song hit. The Gorman boys have served on the editorial staffs of various newspapers throughout the United States.

Billy and Eddie have very good singing voices and are proving one of the season's biggest hits at the Strand theater. They took up their duties on the Review-Tribune staff today and turned in the following "Jingles!"

SLAIN WOMAN'S KIN PROMISED COOPERATION BY PROSECUTOR

Special Investigators May be Employed at Troy.

PARLEY ARRANGED

Officials' Action in Death Mystery is Surprise.

TROY, March 5.—County officials here will co-operate with special investigators employed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake to clear the mystery surrounding the murder of their daughter, Mrs. Frances Drake Nesbitt, Special Prosecutor Alva B. Campbell announced today.

Campbell expected to confer with the parents today.

May Employ Cincinnati Man.

The prosecutor's announcement came somewhat as a surprise as he has previously refused outside assistance. While the parents had not definitely decided on what detective they would employ, a Cincinnati operative was said to be favored.

Officials here placed little credence in the report from Cambridge that a suspect was held there who might throw considerable light on the crime. They were of the belief that the man may be slightly deranged and that his talk of the murder was prompted by what he read.

Campbell said today he had not been informed of the finding of a "black bag" in front of the home of L. C. Shipman, attorney for Jacob Nesbitt, husband of the murdered woman, which was found to be stained inside with blood.

The bag was said to have been thrown in front of the Shipman home while Shipman and Nesbitt were discussing the case last night.

Citizens Raise Funds.

The special prosecutor said that while the investigation thus far has failed to reveal definite clews, "we be-

NEGRO, SLAYER OF THREE, PAYS DEATH PENALTY FOR ASSAULT

Seventy Guardsmen Patrol Streets as Edward Harris is Hanged in Lexington, Ky., Jail Yard.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Mar. 5.—Edward Harris, Negro, whose 17-minute trial on January 25 while a thousand national guardsmen protected him attracted nation-wide attention, was hanged in the county jail yard here this morning for criminal assault upon Mrs. Clarence Bryant, whose husband and two children he killed on the night of January 19.

Seventy guardsmen patrolled nearby streets as a precaution. There was no disorder. A hundred witnesses saw the hanging from inside the jail yard and as many more from roofs of nearby buildings.

Harris displayed great fear when, in the early dawn, he saw a group of civilians approaching his cell and cried out to Sheriff E. H. Fuller that a mob was after him.

"Can't you do something to keep them from hanging me?" he asked.

Informed that the men were only special deputies who would aid in his legal execution, he said "that's all right, then."

Mrs. Bryant still is in serious condition as a result of the attack.

Harris was to be buried in potter's field during the day, relatives refusing to claim the body.

ALLEGED "LOVE PIRATE" WINS

TOLEDO, March 5.—Dorothy Schreiber Lindsey, the alleged "love pirate" of Monroe, Mich., now a resident of Toledo, for the third time won out in defending the suit filed against her by Clara Starr, to collect $35,000 for alienating the affection of her husband, John Starr.

Dorothy is 21 and Starr 57.

Salvation Army Plans Three-week Revival Campaign

Major Tyler, New York, and Ensign Samuel and Mrs. Rose Hepburn of Cleveland, will open a three-week series of revival services in the Salvation Army citadel on Sunday.

The services during the first week will be for young people. Twenty-seven teachers in the Sunday school and members of the East End and Beechwood outposts will assist. Musical numbers will be given by a chorus under the direction of Bandmaster Swan and Corps Secretary Trelevan.

Major Tyler will inspect the outposts in East End and Beechwod Sunday afternoon. Services will be held every evening with the exception of Saturday.

MUSCLE SHOALS VOTE ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—After a week's debate, the senate this afternoon agreed to vote at 3:30 o'clock Monday on the house resolution creating a congressional commission to negotiate a lease for the $150,000,000 Muscle Shoals project.

LOWEST PAID AMERICAN POTTER RECEIVES MORE WAGES THAN HIGHEST PAID EMPLOYE IN BRITISH CERAMIC INDUSTRY, SAYS LADY MOSLEY

Lowest paid laborer in American potteries is paid higher wages than the most skilled worker in the English ceramic industry, Lady Cynthia Mosley, British Socialist-Labor party worker, declared last night as she and her husband, Sir Oswald Mosley, left for Pittsburgh after inspecting two of East Liverpool's clay working plants.

After luncheon at the Country club the distinguished guests visited the electric porcelain plant of the R. Thomas & Sons. The party, which also included Secretary H. B. Barth of the Chamber of Commerce, and T. T. Jones, was in charge of G. Richard Thomas, vice president of the company.

"Oh, I think you have the most marvelous plants here," said Lady Cynthia. "Your workmen are such a happy lot and everyone seems to be prosperous, just the opposite from the workers of England. I have so enjoyed my stay in East Liverpool and trust that I may return here on my next visit to America."

The visitors were shown through the Edgar Thomson steel plant at Braddock following their arrival in Pittsburgh last night. At 11 o'clock they left Pittsburgh for Niagara Falls, where they will spend today. From Niagara Falls they go to Ottawa and Montreal, Canada, where they will visit before returning to England via New York on March 13.

Guests at Betz' Home.

During their stay in East Liverpool Lady Cynthia and Sir Oswald were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Betz, Thompson avenue. They took breakfast at the Betz' home, and at 10 o'clock went to Newell where they inspected the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, through the courtesy of J. M. Wells, manager. Later they visited the Laughlin company's sample room at the No. 4 plant, accompanied by Marcus and Charles Aaron, Pittsburgh, president and vice-president, respectively, of the company. Barth and Jones also accompanied the visitors during the forenoon.

The luncheon at the Country club, given by the Chamber of Commerce, was attended by Presiednt John T. Wood of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters; Marcus and Charles Aaron and J. M. Wells of the Homer Laughlin company; Will T. Blake, manager of The Potters' Herald; T. T. Jones, R. L. E. Chambers, Joseph Betz and H. B. Barth, president and secretary, respectively, of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Stand" for Parliament Places.

After the trip through the Thomas plant, Lady Mosley was taken to the Betz home where she rested until train time.

"This traveling is such a tiresome task," she explained. "You see we have been 'on the go' ever since we arrived in New York about seven weeks ago and we are tiring easily."

Marcus and Charles Aaron, who came to East Liverpool yesterday to meet the two visitors, returned to Pittsburgh with them.

Lady Mosley and her husband will be Socialist-Labor candidates for parliament in the next election in England. Lady Cynthia "standing" for the office from Stoke-on-Trent, a pottery district, and Sir Oswald being the aspirant from the Birmingham district.

"You see in England we 'stand' for election," laughed Lady Cynthia. "In America, I understand, your candidates 'run' for office. This expression seems so queer to us."

Sir Oswald was in parliament until 1924. In the election that year, he retired from the district he had been serving and went to the Birmingham district as the Socialist-Labor candidate, opposing Nevith Chamberlain, Conservative party candidate and former lord mayor of Birmingham. In the election 30,000 votes were cast and Sir Oswald lost by 70 votes. He will oppose Chamberlain at the next election.

Oswald Frowns on Titles.

Sir Oswald holds no title, but he will become a baron upon the death of his father, Sir Oswald, Sr.

"I hope by that time that all titles will have been dropped in England," he said. "The nobility are realizing more and more that titles mean nothing."

If Lady Cynthia and her husband are successful in their campaigns for office, it will be the first time in the history of the English law-making body that husband and wife have been members.

"We hope you win—we will vote for you," remarked Marcus Aaron during a discussion at the Country club yesterday.

"We will espouse the cause of the laboring men if we are elected," said Lady Cynthia. "You people in America don't realize the terrible conditions under which the English worker exists. The price of food, clothing and everything in England has its bearing in politics and the only hope of relief for the English worker is through the Socialist-Labor party."

COLORADO'S COWBOY WRESTLER OFF TO JAPAN TO BATTLE; TRY JIU JITSU

DENVER, Colo.—As a reward for turning in a victory over Taro Miyako, world's champion jiu jitsu expert, here several week's ago, Joe (Toots) Mondt, Colorado's cowhand heavyweight wrestler, has been tendered an offer to tour Japan under the auspices of a syndicate of Japanese sportsmen headed by Professor Higama, famed exponent in the art in the Orient.

Higama, who at present is visiting in Honolulu, has communicated terms to Mondt concerning the proposed invasion and Toots has announced he is giving the matter favorable consideration. Should he make the trip Mondt will be the first American to visit Japan in quest of jiu jitsu honors. Mondt has made a specialty of jiu jitsu and the jack-knife scissors hold and defeated Miyake in a sensational match here. His home is in Greeley and he is a product of the Colorado range.

Among the "dangers" for autoists in Egypt, recently pointed out, is that long stretches of road parallel canals, which have no safeguard to prevent the travelers from falling in.

SCANTIES---Now a By-word of Fashion

You hear this new garment discussed wherever the dressed women are talking style.

"Ingenious!" exclaims one woman and "so strikingly practical," adds another. The world over has been quick to realize how comfortable is this new way of dressing underneath.

Scanties is the new style sensation—the one garment that does all. Scanties is for the woman who wants to wear "just enough" to give style without break or bulge.

On-in-a-second — off-in-a-second. Strikingly stylish—extremely practical.

Now you need wear but one article beneath your dress. Only one garment to put on—one to take off—and you are dressed in just enough to fashion your figure to perfection.

SCANTIES by Model

Then—the economy of Scanties! A brassiere, a vest, a girdle, garters and panties for about what you would pay for a single silk undergarment.

You must see Scanties. Women are raving about them—say its the smartest and most practical thing they have ever worn.

Fashioned of plain and brocaded satin with Jersey or crepe de chine. Most of them have tiny lace edging. In flesh. Priced at $5.00, $8.50, $10.75, $12.00 and $15.00.

Sigmund Romberg Wrote Score of "Student Prince"

Young Genius Evolves What May be Called "Music Drama," Which is Booked at Ceramic Theatre.

The score of "The Student Prince" which comes to the Ceramic theatre in the near future, written by the young musical genius Sigmund Romberg, is most unusual, as in addition to the charming melodic effects, is the composer has evolved what may be called "music drama."

Romberg has given us a new and appealing form of musical art. He has not only adopted the Wagnerian system of leit motifs for character situation and blending of effect but he has made use of an alternation of songs and words which make "The Student Prince' music drama in a new and popular sense.

At the third set climax when Prince Karl Franz determines to return to Heidelberg and his little love of student days, Kathie, the Prince signs those lines which deal with longing, with the memories of his companions and his sweetheart but speaks thru the music those lines which deal with the highly dramatic. For instance, the last lines in the third act, "I will return to Heidelberg" are spoken through the music and following the lines that are sung come with the highest possible dramatic effect.

Site of Old Market Place Discovered In London Sector

LONDON—The first definite clue as to the site of the forum or market place of Roman London, which at one time supported a population of 100,000, has come to light during excavations in connection with rebuilding work in the city district of London.

Three piers of what was an arcade and a section of outer wall were found 15 feet below the surface, and experts confirm that they are part of the old forum.

The position of the forum will in future be marked by Roman tiles.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

Councilmen, Attention!

The need of better water pressure for fire fighting purposes was driven home in a costly manner Wednesday night, when the home of Leonard Hobbs, Observation street, was burned to the ground.

Approximately $6,000 loss, partly covered by insurance, was suffered by the owner of the property, because Fire Chief Thomas Bryan and his co-workers were handicapped by the low pressure in a four-inch water main on Lisbon street. And the corroded condition of the pipe did not help the situation.

Under ordinary conditions, the Hobbs property should have been saved. The blaze, starting from paper burned in an effort to thaw a frozen faucet on the outside of the dwelling, was soon beyond control when bucket brigades as well as firemen found it impossible to obtain enough water to drown a cat.

And the Hobbs fire is not the first to direct attention to the condition of Lisbon, West Ninth, Division and even Eighth street mains. About five years ago, another house in the district was destroyed because there was no water with which to fight the fire.

Fire Chief Bryan has often recommended the installation of new water mains in West End.

How about it, councilmen!

Music

"Music," says the Rev. Kenneth S. Guthrie, of New York, in a recent sermon, "is the only universal language. It subdues and melts the hearts even of the savage animals, and by this power unites or harmonizes us with all of creation.

"Music is a religious art. It is a mediator between earth and heaven, between the spiritual and the sensual. As a mediator, music is a divine language, a sacred tongue of God.

"Music melts the heart of man, imparting noble hints, kindling love, moving us with eloquence. Music consecrates all man's abilities. A fine anthem arouses devotion better than a logical discourse.

"Music transfigures, exalts joy, softens pain, strengthens devotion. It is a means of inspiration. It refreshes in dance music, opera music, martial strains, lullabies, nocturnes and requiems. It strengthens in love songs, bugle calls, choral symphonies, pastoral echoes, magic strains and glorious echoes. Music ennobled by an idea becomes high poesy.

"What, then, is music's secret purpose? I should say that even prayer was not a sufficiently wide panorama of music's possibilities. It must be preparation for living completely, blissfully, eternally. It is God Himself heard through the ear. Music then is the audible God, the leader of the world orchestra, uniting all the voices of past, present and future."

Some of the music we hear nowadays, you may say, does not fit into this rhapsody. Well, then, maybe some of what we hear is not music. But good music is never far to seek, and always repays the quest.

The "Lame Duck" Amendment

If congress does its duty, the house will promptly follow the example of the senate in adopting the resolution to make presidential and congressional terms begin on the first of the year after election.

There may have been good reasons in pioneer days for delaying presidential inauguration four months after election, and the meeting of the new congress more than a year. But with modern means of communication and transportation, the system is absurd.

It delays governmental action on the important matters which national elections are supposed to decide. It enables "lame duck" law-makers to continue functioning along old lines after they have been repudiated. No private business would think of allowing an employe to continue in his position, carrying out his accustomed policy, for many months after he had been told his services were no longer required.

Almost every thinking citizen agrees about this. The senate has voted for the proposed change by the overwhelming majority of 73 to 2. There is opposition to the reform in the house for political reasons. Yet the house must agree sooner or later, and might as well do so now.

It means another amendment to the constitution if the states approve. No level-headed citizen need worry on that account, since it overthrows nothing fundamental, but is merely a technical correction of a bit of governmental mechanism not functioning properly.

Working For Unity

At least one foreign lecturer is touring this country without seeking personal profit or advantage. Sir Henry Lunn, retired head of a famous English tourist agency, is paying his own way for the privilege of delivering a message.

That message is unity and peace. He wants concord among the nations and among the churches. The former he seeks through the league of nations. For the latter, he seems to have in mind some sort of league of churches.

Sir Henry is sincere, at any rate. He has proved that by giving his fortune to establish a foundation for the promotion of his work.

But he has tackled two mighty big jobs.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Indentured Children.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The United States Children's Bureau has just issued a report setting forth the results of a study made of children indentured by the Wisconsin State public school. Wisconsin is only one of a number of states having indenture laws, and for this reason it is believed that such a report will be of widespread interest.

The Wisconsin state public school was established under a law passed in 1885. This school, like similar institutions for dependent and neglected children in other states, has combined in practice three functions. These are to provide temporary care for dependent and neglected children pending replacement in family homes; to act as a placing agency, finding homes for children and supervising their care; and to provide, for longer or shorter periods, custodial care for children who can not be placed successfully. These include children for whose care there is no existing institution in the state and children who should be cared for in the institution for the feebleminded but who can not be received because of lack of accommodations.

Children are received by the school only on commitment through the county court or the juvenile court. The attention of the courts is drawn to the cases of children, whom it is felt should become the wards of the state, through various agencies. In some counties it is customary for all applications to be handled by the county poor commissioner who fills out the complaint blank and brings the case to the attention of the court. In other counties cases are also brought before the court by private agencies and individuals who may be interested in a particular child. A large percentage of cases are reported by county, city or village officials, and the police, or school authorities.

Parents Evade Responsibilities.

It was found during the recent survey that it has been a comparatively simple matter for parents to give their children into the care of the state. The unmarried mother might thus dispose of her baby within a few days of its birth. There is the record of a case of a divorced mother who desired to remarry. Her prospective second husband knew that she had a daughter, but was unaware of the existence of a son. She, therefore, lost no time in committing this boy as soon as she heard from the school agent that a home had been found for him.

The survey made by the children's bureau in co-operation with the juvenile division of the Wisconsin State Board of Control, brought to light many interesting things. Chief among these was the necessity for a revision of the laws pertaining to child welfare.

One of the most serious handicaps to placing these children properly has been the fact that there have not been enough field agents available. Since 1920 there have been only two, and it has been of course impossible for them to conduct more than a superficial inquiry into the desirability of homes in which children are indentured. Also supervision of the children after placement has been very limited.

The study revealed that in many cases children were placed in homes totally incompatible with their temperaments or needs. There was the case of a boy who apparently disliked small children. He was placed with a foster mother who wished to have some one who would look after her two small sons. One day the foster father discovered the boy holding a double-edged ax over the older child's head and threatening to cut his head in two if he did not behave. Another time he had nearly smothered the baby in bedclothes to stop its crying when the mother came in. He was of course returned to the school. Later when placed in a home where there were no other children he got along very well.

A girl who had been in a home for two years was obliged to nurse her foster mother during a long illness. She was under a severe strain during all this time, and when the woman died she was obliged to walk about a mile at 1 o'clock in the morning to summon the help of the nearest neighbor. She appeared to have suffered the hallucination that her foster mother's "form" followed her all the way. She suffered a serious breakdown and was later confined in a hospital for the insane for eight months suffering from depressive insanity.

Fit Child To the Home.

It is believed that the fitting of the child to the home is one of the most important factors in the task of placing dependent children. Persons in whose homes such children are indentured should be furnished with a complete history of the conditions in their parental homes. Information should also be furnished as to any hereditary mental and physical traits. This would aid them in an understanding of the children, and in controlling them.

The children selected for the study by the Children's Bureau agents were a group of boys and girls indentured by the Wisconsin state public school for the first time during the five-year period 1913-1917. Five hundred and forty indenture homes were visited. Of this number only 42 per cent were rated as high grade. Forty-four per cent were considered satisfactory, while 48 per cent—or nearly half—were actually detrimental.

Some of the conditions regarded as detrimental were as follows: Physical condition of child neglected; deprived of schooling; cruelty; too much work; home filthy; morals of home questionable and family ignorant and incompetent.

Some of these children have had a wide variety of experience. One child was in three detrimental homes and two graded as satisfactory; another in two high grade homes, two satisfactory and one detrimental. Still another had been in four satisfactory homes, two detrimental and one not reported.

The director of the juvenile department of the state board of control has recently reported to the Children's Bureau stating that some changes have already been made in this work and that others are contemplated. One of the first matters to be given consideration was that of child placing. Standards are to be developed and it is understood that outstanding points will be that the child and his family must be studied before placement; that the proposed foster home must be carefully investigated before placement, and that there must be adequate supervision after placement.

In the last two years every child in an indenture home has been visited several times and those found in unsatisfactory homes have been replaced. A trained physician is employed on full time at the school and each child is given careful physical attention. Mental tests are given each child before placement and no feeble-minded child is placed. Adoptions are not approved until the child has been in the foster home for at least six months.

Wisconsin is a rural state and there are therefore few social agencies in most of the counties. The juvenile department and the state conference of social work are making an effort to arouse the social consciousness of the people throughout the state with the hope that more social agencies will develop having as their purposes the conservation of the family, the enforcement of laws, and close attention to recreation.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Thoughts while strolling: Old coachmen who call autos "tinpots." And a real duke who isn't broke. A fine exhibit for a museum. C. D. Gibson and his Mid-Victorian collar. Whatever became of cream-colored polo coats?

The invessant blur of faces. John Drew in a speckled shirt. Cantor Rosenblatt, with the patriarchal whiskers, who sings in vaudeville. Three radio shops in a row. Sign: "Wanted—Man to play lion in vaudeville act." Old men with derby brims turned down. And mumbling.

Orange drink stands getting ready for summer. Fried oysters and cold slaw. A blowsy woman shouts across the street: "Her old man's out of work and a baby coming!" And around the corner the Broadway glitter. Rhinestone heels sparkling in a dancing dusk.

The screech of souvenir shop pianos. Bawling newsies. The shimmer of sky-spangled signs. Spurts of lights from candy, jewel and quick photo shops. Exploding tires. The street car clattery—bang. Syncopated madness. Double jointed delirium.

A few braying saxophones. Revolving doors spinning like tops. The football rush to telephone booths. There goes Arthur Hopkins. Looks like a red-cheeked country boy. Nervy window placard: "We're not padlocked yet. Come on in." And they're going in.

Clerks pulling down shades. To go to dark brown houses. The Greek shoe shine proprietor with the looped-up mustache in Times Square. And huge diamond stud. The curb loafers in front of the Astor. An athlete in white running pants. The big Shepherd dog that goes unmuzzled and unleashed.

Soda fountain heralds a Michael Arlen sundae. Price 30 cents. A taxi full of midgets. Two puffing cigars. The usual lively grop in front of the N. V. A. Bus barkers begin the evening medley. A few rain drops fall. Time to go home.

In 14th street is an old movie nickelodeon, criss-crossed with flaming banners and posters, where Mary Pickford was first shown on the screen. In those days "America's Sweetheart" was known as the Biograph Blonde and worked for $5 a day—studio carfare extra. Also in those days Blanche Sweet was known as Daphne Wayne, Mabel Normand was Muriel Fortescue and Mack Sennett was labeled Walter Terry.

The dice rooms in the Longacre section offer escorts for winning players who fear stick-up men. Trade depends much upon their protection, and it is said no patron has ever been robbed in one of the gambling parlors. The underworld knows it means sure death to rob a winner.

The psychology of salesmanship is often amusing. I went into a Madison Avenue shop for a pair of bedroom slippers. The salesman displayed a furlined pair which he said were "genuine sheepskin." He kept repeating they were "genuine sheepskin." Now I wouldn't know the difference if they had been lizard or nannygoat skin, but I came away tremendously impressed with the idea I had a pair of "genuine sheepskin" slippers. Nor would I have known differently had they been lined with caterpillar fuzz.

In a like manner we ask the waiter if the soup, fish or meat is good, knowing full well he will say it is excellent. Somehow we are comforted by that assurance, realizing he has perhaps had dinner at home before he came on duty.

Feet Are as Variedas Faces

The Bunion

Notice the shape of the great toe. See how it is thrown inward at the end and outward at the joint. The true articulation is destroyed at the junction of the metatarsal bones—inflammation results. It is at this joint that the joint "bleeds" or the lubrication fluid oozes out, in time to harden and produce the dreaded bunion.

What should be done about this bunion? An orthopedic surgeon might advise an operation. A shoe salesman might recommend a change of footwear and back up his ideals with customers whom he has relieved without operations. Both opinions must be accepted. The best idea, of course, is to wear shoes with "toe room" and avoid bunions.

Bendheim's salespeople have studied feet; they know feet; they know how to fit shoes so that you may enjoy complete comfort and resulting better general health.

Every Man Past 40 Should Make This Test

How New Magic of ARIUM—Radium in Tablets—Without Drugs—Brings Amazing and Lasting Relief From Middle Age Ailments and Increases Vital Force.

"$5,000.00 REWARD IF IT FAILS"

No longer need men nearing or past the prime of life put up with those painful and embarrassing conditions brought on by overworked, sluggish kidneys, bladder weakness and prostate troubles, with their distressing symptoms of lame back, rheumatic twinges, dizziness, head pains, sour stomach, frequent getting up nights, nervous weakness and lack of VITAL FORCE. By getting into the system the marvelous restorative radium power supplied by ARIUM, there is at once produced a vitalizing, internal exercise of the glands and organs to renew their proper, normal youthful action, just as Nature intended.

Amazing testimony of physicians and users gives convincing proof of the remarkable power of ARIUM to restore health and strength to the sick and afflicted. A multitude of alarming symptoms quickly disappear. You see and feel a truly startling improvement in yourself each day. "ARIUM is the only thing that has ever done me any good," says J. E. Brown of San Francisco. "I am glad I found this greatest of all remedies," writes L. L. Stransky of Elberon, Iowa. "I had irritation of the prostate gland but now feel all right," says T. M. Houlihan of North Dakota. "No more backaches, no more pain; strength in body and nerves, good appetite; sleep so much better; get up fresh in the morning" is the report of D. Folse, Patterson, La.

The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM, guarantees successful and satisfactory results from its progressive use in every case or money refunded, and offers $5,000.00 Reward if it fails to prove that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from good druggists.

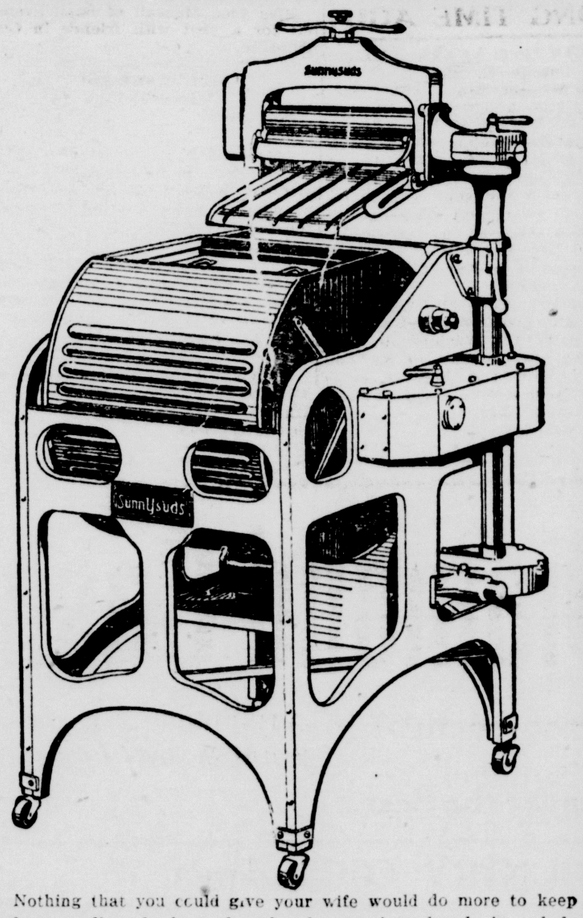
Sunny Suds ELECTRIC WASHERS



Nothing that you could give your wife would do more to keep her from needless drudgery, lengthen her youth, and make her whole life more enjoyable, than a Sunnysuds Electric Washer.

Washing has always been the most drudging, toilsome task in home-keeping. Now it is made easy and pleasant, with a Sunnysuds.

This remarkable machine is easily within your means. The first deposit is small. The payments, once each month, are so easy that no wife or mother should be forced to do without this amazing help.

The Sunnysuds, at its very moderate price, is established as one of the finest electric washers that money can buy, at any price. This has been made possible by scientifically simplified design. For instance, there is no separate, expensive cabinet. There are no belts, chains or springs. There's nothing to tinker with—nothing to get out of order. Materials are the best that money can buy, and the workmanship is of the highest character.

The standard capacity tub is built of heavy, pure copper. It not only gives the cleansing action of the washboard, without its harmful effects; but it also forces the water and suds through the meshes of the cloth—a twofold cleansing action.
Other advantages are so numerous, and so important, that you should never be satisfied with less—particularly when they can all be had at a cost so low, and on terms so easy.

Open sores on leg for more than year

Resinol healed in few weeks

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 24:—"I have been troubled with running sores on my leg for a year or more and all the medical attention and treatments I tried did no good. One day I saw an advertisement for Resinol Ointment in the newspaper and I bought a jar of it. In less than three weeks my sores healed up and have been well ever since. As my wife has been sick for nearly a year and had bed sores we induced her to try this salve and the sores are healing splendidly. I have bought several jars of it and believe me it will always be on the shelf in my bath room." (Signed) Alfred E. Baur, 1014 Monroe St.

TWO ACCUSED IN KIRBY JURY INDICTMENTS

Four Counts of Alleged Tampering are Returned.

ATTORNEYS NAMED

Jesse E. Ladow and Benjamin Williamson Face Charges.

CLEVELAND, March 5.—Four more indictments in the investigation of alleged tampering with Josiah Kirby juries were returned by the federal grand jury here today. Two were against Jesse E. Ladow, Mansfield attorney, and two against Benjamin Williamson, Cleveland, former newspaperman and Kirby company employe.

There are two indictments already against Williamson and one against Ladow. Today's indictments bring the total up to 11.

Kirby was formerly president of the Cleveland Discount company.

The indictments against Ladow and Williamson contained two counts each, approaching tentative jurors and obstructing justice. Ladow is alleged to have caused James Donovan, Mansfield, to approach Gustave Baer, at Mansfield, and H. D. Smart, at Galion, while the indictments against Williamson alleged he caused Attorney William R. Irvin, Akron, to approach Harry G. Ream and Latham Conger, both of Akron.

Both Donovan and Irvin have pleaded guilty to indictments returned by the grand jury charging tampering, and it was upon their information given to the jurors after being indicted that resulted in today's returns.

Girl Leaps From Window As Enemy Fires At Her

NEW YORK, March 5.—Lucille Stewart, 21 and pretty, leaped from the rear window of her third floor apartment today "because she was afraid she'd be murdered."

She was taken to a hospital, where she is suffering from a bullet wound in the right arm, multiple contusions and lacerations about the head and body.

She told police she had remonstrated with a man "Barney" against the noise he was making in her apartment. "Barney," she said, drew a pistol and fired a shot at her. She ran to a window and jumped.

Police began looking for "Barney."

FEARLESS, IMPARTIAL ENFORCEMENT OF ALL TRAFFIC LAWS IS URGED

National Conference on Safety is Warned Against Undue Clemency to Offenders.

WASHINGTON, March 5—Fearless, impartial enforcement of traffic laws without regard to business, social, or political standing of offenders, was urged in the report of the committee on enforcement of the national conference on street and highway safety, made public today.

"The courts have a large responsibility," the report said.

"It is urged that the public indicate its belief in the necessity for even-handed treatment of violators and register its disapproval of any other course.

"Undue clemency to offenders, based on business or social standing, or pressure brought to bear by persons of influence will bring the courts into disrepute."

Judge William McAdoo, of New York, chairman of the committee, urged that laws be enacted fixing minimum penalties for the graver offenses. He held that such a move would fortify the courts and discourage the exercise of pressure to defeat justice."

Major Offenses Classed.

Major offenses were classified as reckless driving, operating automobiles while intoxicated and evading identification in accidents involving personal injury.

"Fines are the only feasible punishment for small offenders," McAdoo said. "They have a deterring effect on repetition of the offenses, however, if materially increased with each subsequent violation.

"Imprisonment is a much stronger deterrent.

"The committee recommends more frequent use of imprisonment for serious offenses, and mandatory imprisonment for a second conviction for driving while intoxicated."

Revocation or suspension of automobile licenses were recommended in serious offenses. The committee suggested that the authority to revoke licenses be placed in the hands of a municipal motor vehicle administrator. Mandatory suspension was recommended for cases of driving while intoxicated and for "hit and run" drivers.

Disapproves Fee System.

"The committee strongly disapproves the fee system," the report said.

"It is held that neither the traffic officer nor the court should receive any part of the proceeds of money collected from traffic convictions."

Special vigor should be applied to punishment of vehicle operators violating provisions of the traffic laws pertaining to pedestrians, according to the report. Prosecution of offending pedestrians was also suggested. Pedestrians were said to be involved in more than half the motor accidents.

DANCERS ENTER CONTEST HERE

File Names for Ceramic Theatre Charleston Competition.

Entries for the Charleston contest which will be conducted at the Ceramic theatre, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in connection with the showing of the Paramount picture, "Dancing Mothers," began to pour in today.

Prizes of $50, $15 and $10 will be awarded the first, second and third place winners. Elimination contests will take place at the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday matinees and the Monday and Tuesday evening performances, with the finals scheduled for Wednesday night.

First stage—Begin with your feet together and your toes pointing outwardly.

On the first count, spread the heels apart so that the toes come together. Then bring your feet back to the original position. That's all. Try it.

(B) On the count of 1, twist the heels outwardly at the same time lifting the right foot from the floor.

(C) On the count of 2, bring the heels together again so that the toes are turned outwardly.

Remember that when you lift the right foot from the floor, the heel of the right foot should be turned outwardly and the toes in.

On the second count bring the feet together.

Fourth stage—This is a combination of the second and third stages. Begin as in beginning. On the first count twist heels outward and the toes inward at the same time lift the right foot. On the third count turn the heels left foot from the floor. On the fourth count back to beginning.

The fourth stage is really the Charleston movement.

Practice it for about 15 minutes. It's simple.

Prisoner Denies Any Knowledge of Slaying of Robert Herron and Sister.

STEUBENVILLE, March 5.—Although John Cook, Negro suspect, held in connection with the double murder of Robert Herron and his sister, Nettie, whose bodies were found in their isolated home, near here, Wednesday, stoutly denies any knowledge of the crime, officials today were confident they have the right man.

Witnesses, they said, have identified Cook as a former farm hand employed by the Herrons and have stated they saw him in the neighborhood during the last few days. The Negro told officers when first taken in custody that he had not been near the place for two years.

Cook was unshaken by an hour spent alone with the bodies of the victims in a dimly lighted morgue near midnight. Being returned to jail, he slept calmly until aroused for breakfast.

The bodies of the aged man and his sister were found after they had been dead 12 hours. The woman's body hung suspended by a rope from a rafter in the house. The man had been killed by a blow on the head with a sharp instrument, probably an axe.

A cap which the Negro confessed belonged to him and which was stained a dark red, has been sent to Pittsburgh for examination by a chemist to determine whether the stain is blood.

MAN, AGED 83, WILL FIDDLE

Harry Levi Hamilton Enters Review-Tribune Contest.

An 88-year-old man today entered the Review-Tribune's old time fiddlers' contest. He is Harry Levi Hamilton, Ohio avenue, East End, and is the oldest of the 12 who have qualified.

Another contestant, who filed today for the tournament which will be held in the American theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, is Emmett Willison, 1900 Michigan avenue.

Silver loving cup, furnished by Henry Ford, through the Beers-Hanks Motor company, Ford dealers for the winner in the contest, is on display in the show window of the Rubin jewelry store, Washington street. The winner will also be given a theatrical engagement by Manager Bernard Smith of the American and Strand theatres.

All fiddlers must be 50 years of age and over. Residents within a radius of 20 miles of East Liverpool are eligible to enter the contest.

COUNTESS VERA WINS HER FIGHT

NEW YORK, March 5.—Vera, countess of Cathcart today won her battle in court to escape immediate deportation by the immigration authorities.

Federal Judge William Bondy, after hearing arguments on a writ of habeas corpus which was to determine whether she was to stay in this country under the protectorate of the courts or be excluded under the immigration authorities' ruling, sustained the writ.

flesh colored stockings, tan oxfords and a gray felt hat, is about 27 years old. She has bobbed hair. Her marriage to Sir Oswald occurred about six years ago.

During the war, Lady Cynthia was employed as a clerk in the war department office in London. She had many thrilling experiences during German air raids on the city.

"England is hoping and praying that there never will be another war," she said. "Organizations have sprung up everywhere to work for the establishment of peace, which we believe will come through the league of nations. England will never again war during the present generation and our hope is that the great country of America will join in a move to establish permanent peace."

Tours Steel Mills.

PITTSBURGH, March 5. — Lady Cynthia of England, daughter of the late Lord Curzon, came to town yesterday, talked about some things, smiled about others and left for Niagara Falls after she had toured the steel mills.

Lady Cynthia has been in this country for two months. This is her first visit to America and she is accompanied by her husband, Sir Oswald Mosley.

"How is everything? Why, everything is fine, everything is wonderful," she said. "Our trip is certainly a success."

"Your trip, then, is a decided contrast to that of Vera, Countess of Cathcart?" she was asked.

Smiles at Mention of Vera.

"Ah—well,"—and that was all. Lady Cynthia smiled. Her husband, Sir Oswald chuckled heartily. But there was no answer to the suggested comparison with the experiences of her countrywoman who was held up at Ellis Island for "admitted moral turnitude."

No answer that is, unless one wants to interpret Lady Cynthia's smile as one that said, "Well, perhaps the countess has been a bad little girl but it is not my intention to say yes or no."

She was not inclined to be critical in other respects. American girls are enterprising, she said, and quick and hospitable, and in the potterv industry America is so far ahead of England.

"But these train rides, they're so exhausting. There are so many stops. One does get tired."

Lady Cynthia doesn't miss her tea. "Why, I'm getting tea in America that is as good as we drink at home. And your milk. It's wonderful. That's one of my weaknesses—milk, and I can appreciate it fully in your country. I must prefer milk to beer, don't you?

Misses Children.

"I do miss my two children, though. That's the only reason I'd like to be back home."

Sir Oswald has become reconciled to the attention being paid his wife in America. "She's half-American, you know, and, besides, I've had my share. Everybody here rallies 'round her'."

They arrived yesterday afternoon from East Liverpool, O. They rode in a day coach on a local train, escorted by Marcus Aaron, president of the board of education of Pittsburgh public schools, and his brother, Charles Aaron. The titled visitors were conducted through the Edgar Thomson steel mills at Braddock by Dr. W. J. Van Essen, county chairman of the Socialist party in Allegheny, and Roland McCrady, president of the Labor bank of Pittsburgh.

Lady Cynthia and Sir Oswald left at 11 p. m. for Buffalo. They will sail for England on March 13.

CHAPLIN SCORES IN "GOLD RUSH"

Comedy at American Theatre is His Best Offering.

So much has been said of the genius of Charlie Chaplin, celebrated screen comedian, and his early discovery, that it may not come amiss to relate, as from one who has been close to him, something concerning his discovery.

As a matter of absolute fact, Charlie Chaplin was discovered by the children of all the world. He was not broke when he entered motion pictures—a young man just over 20 years old. Instead, he had several thousand dollars, a considerable sum for a young actor. Besides, he had been well known in England and America as a juvenile comedian for several years. It is well to bear in mind that he was recognized by shrewd theatrical men at that early age.

Another fact, not generally known—Chaplin was the biggest man on the comedy lot from the time he made his first comedy. Mack Swain, the giant comedian, called the "funniest villain" for his portrayal of Big Jim McKay in "The Gold Rush," the new Chaplin super-comedy, was one of the first men to appear with Chaplin in that seemingly long-ago period.

From no less authority than Swain comes the statement that Charlie Chaplin, from the very first day, divined and went beyond what was expected of him. Within a short time from his entry into pictures, directors complained to the powers-that-be that Chaplin wanted his own way and would not "take direction." It was great talent trying to assert itself, to climb out of the embryo into the uniform of the greatest actor in the world. He was conscious of ability in his soul, as great talent ever is.

Charlie's greatest problem in his early picture days was his struggle with the comedy makers to allow him to portray his parts and ideas as he felt them. He fought to wear the baggy trousers and the battered hat. He wanted from the first to instill ideas, humor characterization into his work. When, after much effort, he was allowed to do this he found himself—and then the children found him. They soon greeted him as the crowned King of Laughter. And within 18 months he was world-famous—and earning a million a year.

That Charlie Chaplin was born to be a great actor is obvious—and no one man "discovered" him at all. He first discovered himself, and the children responded. The highbrows came later—as they always do.

"The Gold Rush," his latest picture, is now being shown at the American theatre. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock a special school children's show will be given. Any child using the coupon printed in another column of the Review-Tribune will be admitted for 10 cents. Otherwise the admission will be 15 cents.

DEATH ROLL

Massey Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy Massey, 67 years old, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the home, 430 Wall street, in charge of Rev. F. C. Roberts, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal church. Chester Burial will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Boy Hit by Auto.

COLUMBUS, March 5.—Hit by an auto while trying to cross a street, 10-year-old Hugh Rinkle was in University hospital today. He is expected to recover.

Council Program

Discuss Surfacing Job.

Moore declared that no defects have shown in the Fifth or Jefferson street improvement, both of which were resurfacing jobs. Farrall stated that he was not opposed to asphalt or Willite, provided he was sure that such streets would hold up under heavy traffic.

The solons voted to discuss the type of improvement to be used on Fourth street at the next meeting.

Resolutions for the improvement of Avondale street from Bank to St. Clair avenue was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. An ordinance authorizing the service-safety director to advertise for bids for the leasing of a piece of city property near the state line for a filling station was also adopted on three readings.

A communication was received from the board of health requesting the construction of a sanitary sewer on Ephraim street and Laura avenue. Clerk Shone reported that petitions for this improvement were on file and council instructed the solicitor to prepare the necessary legislation.

Protests Street Sign Erection.

Council split over the reduction of street improvement assessments levied against a vacant lot at the corner of Minerva and Cadmus streets, owned by Louise Rigot estate. Attorney G. Y. Travis asserted that the assessments amounted to $840 and that the lot had failed to bring $800 when it was offered for sale. Councilman Farrall asserted that reduction of the assessment on the lot would be establishing a precedent and that he would give $800 for the lot. With Solon Farrall dissenting, council voted to cut the assessment to one-third of the valuation of the lot which is the maximum allowed by law.

Director Moore said that the opening up of a road through the C. V. Beatty property, to provide an outlet for residents of Claybourne avenue, would cost between $1,200 and $2,000, which would include a bridge across Carpenter's run. Council will view the property before their next meeting.

Mrs. Rachel Loomis appeared before council to protest against the erection of a sign in front of her sixth street building, occupied by the Western Union Telegraph company.

The sign was recently blown down during a wind storm, demolishing a glass in the window. The solons voted to refer the matter to the street committee, who will search for a law said to prohibit the erection of signs above sidewalks in the downtown district.

Retain Council in Damage Case.

An ordinance for the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Monroe, McKinnon and Cadmus streets, Rural lane and Broadway was passed on three readings.

Service-Safety Director Moore announced that he was ready to move the hoss cart from the Klondyke fire station to Pleasant Heights as soon as the people of the hilltop district provide a suitable place to house the vehicle. Council clothed the director with power to move the equipment.

Solicitor Hoover was instructed to retain ex-Solicitor Harry Brokaw to assist him in the damage case brought by the Second Presbyterian church against the city for damages to the church done during a rainstorm on June 28, 1924. Should the church be successful in their claim for damages, Hoover pointed out, other actions would be filed against the city by East End property owners.

The service-safety director was authorized to seek bids for the replacement of baffles in the two-stoker boilers at the municipal water works plant, East End. Cost of the improvement has been estimated at $1,500.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. — Following yesterday's sensational closing recovery in stock prices, due in large measure to bankers' and brokerage underwriting houses' support, it was expected that a good volume of selling orders would find their way into the market today. After a strong opening, in which the speculative leaders moved up and a good measure of the early gains were wiped out.

The railroad utility, and oil stocks made the most steady progress in the upward direction in this period. For the first time in a week or more, traders in the financial district renewed their discussion of possible mergers of oil and utility companies, and it was reliably reported that Tide Water and associated oil companies would from a new giant western oil corporation. Simms, Kelly, General Petroleum, Sinclair, Pan American and other active in dependent oils moved upward a point or more in active trading, while Standard Oils in all markets were firm.

Turn In Nesbitt Case

lieve we are making some progress."

However, he did not discuss the nature of the progress.

A committee of nine prominent Troy citizens today began a campaign to raise funds for the employment of a special investigator for the Drakes. An organization meeting was held last night and the committee began work this morning.

Spokesmen for the committee said that sufficient funds would be raised to keep the investigation open until the crime has been solved or until it has been definitely determined that it is an unsolvable mystery.

Investigators were busy today checking the statements of a woman, neighbor of the Nesbitts, who said that on February 19, the day of the murder, she twice saw a man enter and leave the Nesbitt home. The first time she noticed the man, she said, was about 2 p. m. and again about dusk.

She did not know the man, she said, and did not know whether she could identify him.

Strong Vaudeville Bill is Presented At Strand Theatre

Strong vaudeville bill opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Strand theatre. Four sterling acts, headed by the Six Rocketts, who recently appeared as one of the feature attractions at the Keith Palace in Cleveland, make up the program.

Overholt and Young, big time performers of years standing, put over a clever turn which included song selections by both and exceptional dancing by the male member of the team.

risks. This nation was interested when gas bombs first appeared in the big war. It will not be pleasant to bear of employers fighting a strike, legal in character, using gas bombs against their workers, and turning heavy streams of cold water on women and children when tear gas failed to do the work.

NOW the workers have bought 2,000 gas masks to be ready for the next attack, which is not pleasant reading in this prosperous republic. We are doing pretty well here: industrialists are not exactly starving to death. They should warn those Passaic idiots against upsetting the apple cart. Employers have considerably more to lose than employes in the game of violence.

She wrote to her husband:

"Forgive me, I could not help it. I am weak. My last wish, let me rest with the babies. Your loving wife, Rose."

There was no coal in the house, nothing to eat. The husband was out looking for work, and it was hard to nurse the baby with so little good food. Rose's sister says "She loved her husband and children. The struggle must have been too much for her when she was so weak."

That story may comfort those that bought Hudson Motor at 123 and sold yesterday at 106.

District Meeting Of County Motor Club at Leetonia

District meeting of members of the Columbiana County Automobile club will be held in the mayor's office at Leetonia tonight to elect one director and two members of the advisory board. H. D. Arnold is the present Leetonia member of the directorate.

Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton, was re-elected director at a recent meeting of Hanoverton members. Salem members will meet at the city hall next Monday evening. The East Liverpool session will be held in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, when three members of the board will be elected.

Annual report will be submitted by Secretary E. M. Diehl.

COURT RULINGS HANDED DOWN

Judge Fred H. Wolf Passes on Number of Cases.

Practically every appeal case pending in common pleas court against the industrial commission of Ohio had an inning in court this week. These cases have been pending for a long time, but as a representative of the office of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe always assists Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes in these actions, they are not heard as speedily as is the usual case.

In the action of Minnie Kearns against the commission, Judge Fred H. Wolf has sustained the demurrer t othe petition, and the court has granted the plaintiffs leave to file an amended petition within the next ten days.

The commission won a verdict when the case of Mary West as administratrix of the estate of William West was tried. A jury was sworn and the trial proceeded, and after it was submitted to the jury, a verdict for the defendant was returned.

The motion of counsel for the commission in the case of Paul Wirth, claimant, to make some of the allegations set forth in the appeal petition more definite and certain has been overruled by the court. Another part of the motion to strike out certain paragraphs of the original appeal as now on file in common pleas court was sustained. This cause will come up for hearing later.

The court has overruled the motion for a court order to have the defendant to certify the transcript in the appeal case of Carl Emery against the commission, because the claim is not sufficiently identified.

Judgment by confession has been entered in the case of the Salem Chattle Mortgage company against Frank Flash and Cora Flash for $1,355.30. Interest at 6 per cent has been ordered from the date of entry of the judgment.

Motion has been sustained to have County Treasurer Jo Pike made a party defendant in the case now pending in court of the Firestone Bank of Lisbon against Samantha Pieren.

After there was a brief hearing in the case of S. E. McIntosh against the Salem Building & Loan association, title to certain property claimed by the plaintiff was quieted as prayed for. The service by publication in this case was proven and also approved by the court.

The report of the trustees of Middle Sandy Presbyterian church, which body recently petitioned the court for permission to sell certain of its real estate in order to obtain funds for the erection of a new manse, has been approved and confirmed by Judge Wolf. The trustees had an offer to sell its old parsonage, and this sale has been completed.

In the damage case of Earl Ritchie, a constable of Perry township, against Lucreta Oltean of Salem, Judge Wolf has granted the plaintiff leave to file an amended petition. This case is the outgrowth of a raid in which the plaintiff was cut by glass while the raid was in progress.

On the motion of the plaintiff, the case of the Nivison-Weiskopt company against the Coll-Cochran company of East Palestine has been dismissed from the records. This was done on the order of the court and at the costs of the plaintiff.

An amended petition is to be filed in the case of James Lozzi against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company. The court has granted such leave to the plaintiffs in this cause.

Although the sale of property has been confirmed in the action in common pleas court of Meyrick E. Evans against Henry G. Phillips, the court has continued the case, so far as the distribution of proceeds is concerned.

Another entry has been made in one of the older cases pending in court, that of the Paramount Publicity corporation against Ferris Morris, doing business as the Fair store, Salem. The court has granted the defendants leave to answer.

Released from Jail.

Frank Kuzian, who was recently returned to Lisbon from Michigan by Sheriff George Wright, after a charge of larceny had been preferred against him by R. A. Pow of Middleton, was released from custody after he entered into an agreement with Pow to return certain chattles taken from the Pow home, and also to pay for a lot of live poultry taken from the Pow poultry house.

Organ Recital Planned.

Rev. W. E. Tilton, pastor of the Lisbon Methodist Episcopal church, has announced that Mrs. T. C. Flick of East Liverpool will give an organ recital in this church the evening of April 9. Mrs. Flick will be assisted in her program by Miss Helen Ramsey of Lisbon, who will give several readings.

Two Divorces Granted.

George W. Conkle has been granted a divorce from Ada Conkle by Judge Fred H. Wolf, the decree being given the plaintiff in his grounds of infidelity. The custody of the children has been granted the plaintiff.

Harry Hooker has been granted a divorce from his wife, Gertrude Hooker, the decree having been handed down by Judge Wolf.

10 ADDITIONAL JURORS DRAWN

The names of 10 jurors were drawn from the jury wheel Thursday afternoon by Sheriff George Wright and Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to serve in common pleas court next week.

They are: E. F. Whitacre, S. H. Boyce and Rena Boyd of Wellsville; Irva Firestone, Frank C. Binsley, Edwin Chandler of Lisbon; Charles M. Walker, T. Gerald Ryan, Walter S. Welch, East Liverpool; Clara Eaton, East Palestine.

100 ATTEND KIWANIS MEET

Enjoy Musical Program Given by Orpheus Quartet.

Wellsville Kiwanis club members and their guests, over 100 in all, enjoyed an elaborate musical program given by the Orpheus Quartet of East Liverpool, at their ladies' night banquet and entertainment last night in the dining room of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by women of the Methodist church. Jonquils, palms and potted plants were used in the decorations on and adjacent to the tables.

Dr. G. W. McMillan, head of the club, presided during the opening ceremonies. The greater portion of the evening was given over to the entertainment provided by the quartet which is composed of W. A. Macdonald, bass; Miss Mildred Weaver, soprano, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt, contralto, and Rowland Kauffman, tenor. Miss Lucille Orin was accompanist.

They gave the following program:

Piano solo, "All Alone," Irving Berlin—Miss Lucille Orin.

Tenor and soprano duet, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," Tate—Miss Mildred Weaver and Rowland Kauffman.

"O, Peaceful Night," German—Orpheus quartet.

Soprano and contralto duet, "The Rosary," Nevin — Miss Weaver and Mrs. Weinhardt.

Tenor solo, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," Cadman—Rowland Kauffman.

"Good Night, Beloved," Pinsuiti — Orpheus quartet.

On practically ever selection, members of the quartet were forced to respond to encores and among these numbers were included:

Contralto solo, "Were I To Call" —Mrs. Weinhardt.

Soprano solo, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," Seitz—Miss Weaver.

"I Passed By Your Window," Brahe —The Orpheus quartet.

Tenor solo, "I Know a Lovely Garden," d'Hardelot—Rowland Kauffman

FARMERS PROFIT BY KEEPING COWS

An added income of $26,480 a year is enjoyed by Hancock county farmers indirectly as a result of keeping cows, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. This income is in the form of a more fertile soil due to the manure of the dairy cows in this county. On the basis of practically a $20,000 fertilizer valuation animal per year this means a total of $26,480 added to the richness of the soil in this county every 12 months.

Manure is a source of the most valuable plant food obtained, says the institute, but to preserve it at its highest value of efficiency, it should either be put directly to the fields each day or conserved until such a time as the opportunity offers itself to spread it. Feeding trials have proven that an ordiuary cow, while putting from 15 to 18 per cent of the total energy of the feed she consumes into milk, actually returns to the soil 80 per cent of the elements of soil fertility in her feed in the form of manure. This has led many dairy men to discover that the purchase of good concentrate feeds for their cows not only more than pays for itself in increased milk production but that it also supplies necessary food to farm crops that are expensive when bought in the form of commercial fertilizer.

Anniversary Session in M. E. Church Featured by Program.

Large crowd attended the 26th anniversary meeting of the Ladies' Aid society last evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The event was featured by a program of music and readings. Five new members were received. The offering amounted to $216.

The society, which was organized March 4, 1900, was the first of its kind in Chester. Mrs. George Johnson is the only charter member still active in the work of the organization. Mrs. John Gardner, who became a member soon after its inception was the first president and served in that capacity for seven years. There were five active members the first year, while 68 are now on the roll. The society annually contributes $1,000 to the work of the church.

Officers follow: President, Mrs. Walter Cunningham; vice president, Mrs. George Cook; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Parker; treasurer, Mrs. W. Bloor.

Prayer Meeting Tonight.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Brady Seevers, in Fairview street. These meetings are under the auspices of the Nazarene church.

Lodge Members Meet.

Members of Crescent chapter No. 49, Order of Eastern Star, met last night in the Masonic temple, First street. Following the business session a social time was held.

To Attend Lodge Meet.

Delegation from Rock Springs Rebekah lodge will attend the district meeting to be held this evening in the rooms of Ohio City Rebekah lodge, East End, East Liverpool.

Held on Dry Charge.

John Soblock, Weirton, was held to await the action of the grand jury when arraigned yesterday at that place charged with violating the liquor laws. The police captured a fifteen gallon still in his home when they raided it. His bond was placed at $1,500.

Bake Sale Arranged.

Members of the Women's Guild of St. Matthew's Episcopal church will hold a bake sale tomorrow afternoon at the Kimble store in Carolina avenue.

Missionary Meeting.

Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet this evening with Mrs. A. E. Simms at her home in Indiana avenue. The usual program will be carried out.

Prosecutor Here.

Prosecuting Attorney Thomas S. Hoffan, of Weirton, was a visitor here yesterday. He is arranging a list of cases that will be presented to the grand jury which meets Monday at New Cumberland.

Montreal Shipping Records Shattered During Past Year

MONTREAL, P. Q.—Shipping out of the port of Montreal broke all records in 1925, according to a summary for the year compiled by the Board of Harbor commissioners. Trans-Atlantic vessels numbering 1,040 representing 4,744,793 tons entered the harbor, compared with 988 ships of 3,597,147 tons in 1924, an increase of fifty-two vessels and 1,147,646 tons.

Increases of more than $50,000,000 in the volume of business transacted were recorded in the seven months, shipping season compared with the same period the year before. Total trade amounted to $298,950,330 as against $249,767,291 in 1924. Of the 1925 volume, exports accounted for $184,8178,205 and imports for $114,950,330.

Exports of grain from Montreal were the highest in history, amounting to 155,088,244 bushels.

BEAUTY DOCTORS 4,000 YEARS AGO KNEW ABOUT 'PERMANENT WAVES'

CHICAGO.—Think the permanent wave is one of beauty's latest discoveries? Well, you are wrong. Hair waving was practiced more than 4,000 years ago, according to Miss Frances Martell, secretary of the American Cosmeticians Society, who is working for standarization of beauty shops and state licensed beauty operators.

"Archaeologists recently excavating at Ur, the ancient Chaldean city in Mesopotamia," said Miss Martell, in an address, "discovered that women in the year 2250 B. C. had their hair waved in modes somewhat similar to those followed today.

"While searching for the palace of Dungi, son of the builder of the great Zikkurat, or temple, who reigned 4,178 years ago, the scientists unearthed the sculptured head of the Moon goddess, one of the deities worshipped at that time.

"The hair of the Moon goddess was elaborately waved indicating to the investigators that the professional hair dressers of the third dynasty possessed a skill in creating chic coiffures which a modern beauty operator might be proud of. The eyes of the goddess were inlaid with lapic lazuli and shell."

Trans-Siberian Air Route Connects With London-Tokio Line

LONDON.—A trans-Siberian air route from Moscow to Vladivostock, with a sea extension to Tokio, has been finally approved by a German-Russian air company at Moscow, according to advices reaching here.

The machines to be used will be three-engined Junkers, and provisions are being made for the connecting up of aerial routes from London and Berlin to Moscow.

The whole journey from London to Tokio, via Berlin and Moscow, a distance of some 7,000 miles, would be accomplished in eighty flying hours.

Scotland Presbytery Divided Over Woman's Place in Pulpit

GLASGOW, Scotland.—"Is woman's place the pulpit?" is a question now greatly exciting ecclesiastical opinion in Scotland, where a proposal has been made to admit women to the ministry of the United Free Church of Scotland.

Glasgow Presbytery have turned down the suggestion after a close vote, while the Hamilton Presbytery, a few miles from Glasgow, have approved the proposal by thirty-six votes to thirty-two.

There are another sixty-one Presbyteries to record their opinion, and it is anticipated that the voting for and against will be very close.

Magistrates of South Wales War on Jazz Music by Curfew

SWANESEA, Wales.—South Wales magistrates have declared war on jazz, denouncing it as a "dangerous excitement," "a barbaric pastime,' and a "sensuous menace."

They have instituted a curfew campaign, destined to check as much as possible the activities of Welsh dancers, and all new applications for the licensing of dance halls are subjected to rigorous scrutinization.

In Pontypridd, dance-halls must be shut tight by 10:30 p. m., no dancing is allowed on Tuesdays, and no one under 16 is allowed to attend a dance advertised as being for adults. Barry must confine its dancing activities between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m., while at Port Talbot, where dancing used to go on until 4 a. m., dance-halls must close at 11 p. m.

Russian Workers to Eat From Tableware Of Former Ruler

LENINGRAD—Ditch diggers, factory hands, government clerks and stenographers will hereafter take their meals from the tableware of the Czar when they go to their frequent vacations in "Workers' Sanitoria."

The District Commission for the Realization of State Valuables has sold to the administration of the workers' homes a large part of the china and glassware formerly used in the palaces of the late Emperor.

Three hundred cases of finest porcelain were sold from the Winter Palace, while the palaces of Prince Youssoupoff and the Dyetskoselski palace contributed additional equipment for the workers' tables.

Douglas fir is being shipped from British Columbia to Florida for the first time in history.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE

Eve McLURIE, young, beautiful, passionately satisfied with life, private secretary to

JOHN INGATE, third of the name to be president of John Ingate's Sons, Inc., wholesale leather merchants, reckoned at thirty to be a "woman hater," loves, and is loved by, both her employer and

CLAY WALES, one of his employes. When John Ingate proposes marriage to Eve in the face of the opposition of his mother and sister she confesses her love but rejects him in favor of Clay, a youth weak and irresponsible, because she believes Clay needs her more. John Ingate cannot understand her choice between dominance and domination, weakness and strength. He does not realize that it is weak men who make the greatest appeal to a woman's sympathy and heart.

Neither Clay's nor Eve's parents attended the wedding, which John Ingate was impelled to make something more than the ordinary affair. And with the festivities over and the couple ready to leave on their honeymoon, they receive a cool reception at the MacLurie residence. With sinking heart Clay sets out with his bride for his own home.

Now go on with the story.

THIRTEEN.

A repeated ringing of the door-bell finally aroused a response in the darkened house. Clay Wales, straining his eyes through the door curtain, exhaled relief when he discerned a form making its way down the stairs, now illuminated to a degree by a globe in the upper hall, and murmured: "She's here, all right." He had been afraid she wasn't.

Something else was on Eve's mind at the moment:

"Isn't it funny, Clay, none of our relatives were at our wedding—except Madeline Overstreet? It is just as if we had eloped." It was to be understood from her tone that she had not been affected by the absence of her close kin. She had been too excited to really miss them.

Her husband did not respond. His eyes met his mother's through the glass dubously. He had forebodings regarding the reception awaiting them.

Satisfied by her glimpse out that no peril lurked at her door, Mrs. Wales opened it. "Well. . . ." "How eloquent that word! Well! . . . Well? . . . . Well.)

"Here we are mother," Clay managed to say. His wife was already at Mrs. Wales' arm length, waiting, expecting, to be kissed. It was a feeble embrace Cay's mother gave Eve.

"Is dad home yet?" Clay looked around eagerly.

"He's late tonight—two hours." Mr. Wales was a railroad conductor. He had been climbing over freight cars, braving wintry winds and torrid rays, for 20 years.

Clay was really disappointed. He cared more for his father. "That's too bad. . . . We won't get to see him until we get back."

"I don't know whether he will want to see you," Mrs. Wales said. Clay winced and avoided Eve's eyes. Why did his mother have to say a thing like that? Anger heated her cheeks. "Well, excuse me, Eve . . . I'll run up and get my things."

Mrs. Wales, seated by the window, glanced out. "Is that Mr. Ingate's automobile?"

"Yes, I don't know what we would have done without him today. He attended to everything, as if I were his daughter or Clay his son."

Mrs. Wales regarded her daughter-in-law out of the corner of an eye. Eve, intuitively feeling the glance, was uncomfortable.

"He's mighty young and handsome himself, and HE has money," Mrs. Wales observed challengingly.

Looking at his mother, the bride had her first doubts about Clay. She ought quickly to change the subject. "I'm going to expect you to help me with my recipes and things, Mrs. Wales. I know I'm not one-tenth as good a cook as you are." This was accompanied by a friendly smile.

"Where are you two going to live?" Eve flushed. Why, Clay had said—

Mrs. Wales read the glance. "My Wales is out on the road so much and I don't like to be alone, so I think I'll rent Clay's room." She spoke as if she were innocent of design.

"Oh, I think we'll take a house." Eve spoke up airily, but not without a queer feeling around her heart. She looked up darkly when Clay came back down the stairs.

The sight of her son's luggage, the sudden realization that he WAS going away from her, thawed out Mrs. Wales to some degree. She got up and regarded him with dull eyes. Her baby boy, grown up, a man, married! And now he was leaving her. . . .

"Goodbye, mother. . . . ."

He looked helplessly down at her; she was crying. The strongest man as well as the weakest feels the tyranny of tears; is there anything else that hurts a man as much?

Eve looked away from this scene; it hurt. Instinctively she knew that Mrs. Wales was blaming her.

"Goodbye, mother." Clay's eyes were wet.

"Goodbye, oh, my son. . . . " Mrs. Wales looked across at Eve. Clay caught his wife by the hand and pulled her to his mother, divining an impulse.

"Be good to my boy." Mrs. Wales sobbed. "He's a good boy." Eve was crying, too. "I don't think he has done right in getting married now, but he's a good boy."

"I know he is, Mrs. Wales. I love him so much. . . . And I love you for being his mother." She kissed her mother-in-law upon the forehead.

Clay was nervously glancing at his watch. "Come, dear, we must go."

The bride filled her hands with luggage and went out; this last minute belonged to them alone. She felt badly when Clay followed her immediately, taking the bags from her. How could he be so callous? He did not look back until they were in the car.

As the motor moved slowly away his eyes were on the house. Eve, with something tugging at her heart, was plunged into a fit of crying: "I feel so awful about taking you away from her."

A little grown of impatience appeared on Clay's forehead. Tears always annoyed him. He felt foolish now, for acting like a baby.

The automobile sped out River Road toward Willoughby, to enable them to escape possible "send-off parties."

Clay put his arm around Eve and pulled her to him. She was his now, his woman! How beautiful she was! . . . . Just let that damned John Ingate try to steal her!

Stomach Troubles Are Due to Acidity

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

Highs Play First Tournament Game Tonight With Zanesville

Eight Strong Teams Lined Up for Drive On Sectional Title

Drawings Place Potters in Lower Bracket Along With Zanesville, New Philly and Marietta; Inaugural Clash Will be Staged This Afternoon at 2:30 by Dover and Bellaire.

NEW CONCORD, March 5.—East Liverpool high school cagers will take on Zanesville tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Potters' initial contest of the eastern Ohio sectional tournament at Muskingum college.

Drawings held last night by Muskingum authorities, presided over by Athletic Director Lange, and attended by coaches and representatives of the eight teams entered, put East Liverpool in the lower bracket along with Zanesville, New Philadelphia and Marietta.

Dover, Bellaire, Barnesville and Cambridge are the upper bracket contenders and will start play this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Dover is slated to clash with Bellaire in the official lid lifter of the meet. This game will be followed by the tilt between Barnesville and Cambridge.

Hostilities will then be suspended until 7:30 tonight when East Liverpool and Zanesville take the court. The day's program will be concluded with the game between New Philadelphia and Marietta.

Results of the first round will leave two teams in each bracket for the semi-finals Saturday morning. The finalists will take the court either Saturday afternoon or Saturday night, no definite arrangements having been made yet for this event.

As a result of defeats during the season at the hands of New Philadelphia and Dover, East Liverpool is not generally regarded as a finalist by tourney fans, but a score or more of East Liverpool followers now on the scene of play are expecting the Ceramic City contingent to prove the real dark horse of the tournament. Many are favoring Marietta and Cambridge for the sectional title, but such predictions are purely speculation.

The tournament of 1916 is recalled when East Liverpool, practically an unknown, fought its way to the final game for the state championship, toppling Mt. Vernon, a heavy favorite, in the clash for northern Ohio honors. The locals, at that time, with Ernest Bucher, Howard and Ronald Smith, Nate Allen, Dutch Vorndran and Sandy Fess lost the state championship tilt to Stivers, of Dayton. And the Stivers five, prior to the tourney, was little better than East Liverpool.

The Potters were in top form prior to the Muskingum tournament, outclassing Akron Central, Rubber City scholastic champions, in the greatest engagement of the season here, and defeating the Red and Black, of Salem, on the enemy's own court. If they can hit the pace they set in those two engagements, they will prove the equal of any outfit in the eastern Ohio sectional meet.

If dope runs true to form, Dover has an excellent chance to eliminate Bellaire in the opener, with Cambridge taking over Barnesville. East Liverpool, it is believed can trim Zanesville tonight and Marietta generally is regarded as certain to trip New Philadelphia.

Unless there are a few surprises then, Dover would tackle Bellaire and East Liverpool would meet Marietta in the semi-finals. With a good nights' rest and a full day to become accustomed to tournament environment, and with an opportunity to pick up a few tips on this afternoons engagements, Lorah's passers should be in excellent trim for the Zanesville game.

The lads spent the night in a Cambridge hotel, not a great distance from New Concord and this morning were instructed in their routine for the day by Coach Lorah and Athletic Director Boone.

WILLS FINALIST AT MENTONE MEET

MENTONE, March 5.—Miss Helen Wills again did the usual today. She became a finalist in the Mentone tournament, without exerting herself.

Miss Wills defeated Miss E. M. Harvey of England, 6-0, 6-1, in the semi-finals and will now meet either Mlls. Didi Valsto or Senorita Alverez in the finals, and the answer to the finals is confidently expected to be another victory for the California girl.

POWERS TO PLAY GLENMORE QUINT

The Power basketball team will play the fast Glenmore five tonight on the M. E. court, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Powers have several good games booked for this month, including Salineville next Tuesday on the M. E. floor, Pittsburgh Silents on the high school court, and Muskingum college on April 1.

LONDON LAUDS HELEN WILLS

British Experts Say Yankee Girl Will Win at Wimbledon.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Usually, anything American gets the good, old second footman's bow in London but it seems the dear fellows lost all self-control on the head of that first Wills-Lenglen meeting at Cannes. They have rallied around Helen Wills to a man and a number of London papers, arriving in this country today, made no star chamber secret of their critics' belief that the American will win when the second match is held, if at all.

"Miss Wills will win at Wimbledon," said the critic of the London Daily Chronicle. "She lost at Cannes by inches."

He referred to the great number of Helen's base line drives that fell just outside the court.

"Stroke for stroke, she played far the better tennis," he added. "Under the hurricane bombardment, the Lenglen of two years ago would have been sunk. Never on the continent or at Wimbledon has a girl player hit so fiercely. There is no man now playing on the Riviera who could sustain such average speed."

In a slightly more formal manner, as befits a critic with the true London manner and a reputation of being the foremost living authority in the subject of lawn tennis, A. Wallis Myers insinuates that Helen played the greatest tennis but showed the lesser experience.

Writing for the London Daily Telegram, he says in this connection:

"She fought against odds all the time but fought with superb courage and with a skill that lacked only more experience to bring it greater reward."

If I understand the gentleman correctly at this point, he wants to say that Miss Wills, given more experience, would have won the match. But, you know how those things are. The boys will persist in calling a spade a garden utensil.

Myers, by the way, is not all praise for Helen. He takes her to severe task on the judgment she displayed in the second set and claims she would have it had she continued blazing away after getting the lead. But in the fourth and tenth game, she modified her strokes, he says, "doubtless hoping that Suzanne would compromise herself by error." It is a matter of record that Suzanne failed to oblige.

"Judging from the evidence at hand, England is more sold on Helen Wills as a tennis player than some of the self-elected experts here in America.

Jarvis on Title Quest.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Ernie Jarvis, Brith boxer, will begin another campaign tonight in quest of a bout with Fidel Labarba for the flyweight title. Jarvis will face Manny Wexler, local flyweight, in the ten round feature at the Pioneer A. C. Young Sencio, Filipino boxer, and Izzy Schwartz, New York, will meet in the semi-final bout.

Germany's Champ Swimmers After American Honors

Erich Radamacher (bottom) and E. K. Froelich, Germany's best swimmers, are beginning an American invasion. The latter is backstroke champion of Europe. Radamacher holds world's records for 100, 200 and 500 meters.

May Put O.K. on Dempsey-Tunney

Commission Expected to Withdraw Wills Support.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The New York State Athletic commission was expected to make some announcement today to the effect that it has withdrawn its support from Harry Wills' claims to a heavyweight championship bout and that, therefore, it will have no objection to Jack Dempsey meeting Gene Tunney in defense of his title.

Reports have been in circulation for the past week that Dempsey and Tunney already have agreed on terms for a meeting under Tex Rickard's auspices next August and that announcement to that effect merely is being held in abeyance, awaiting the action of the local commission.

Wills' action last summer in signing with Dempsey at Niles, Mich., after the New York board had championed his cause for several years, is believed to have cost him the support of the local authorities.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declined to comment on this angle of the situation today but made this significant remark:

"Wills' action in signing with an outside promoter was very undiplomatic, to say the least."

Plan U.S.-British 'Fours' Golf Tilt

Contests Would be Staged Following Open Championship.

NEW YORK, March 4.—With six leading American golfers going to England this summer, it is learned that a suggestion is made for an international professional four-a-side match.

One game of this character has been played before—that at Gleneagles in 1921—when the British team, led by George Duncan, won by nine matches to three, with three matches halved.

There is always a difficulty in getting all the players together for an event of this kind, but two big London clubs are trying to arrange for the meeting to take place immediately after the Open Championship.

The plan is that four of the chief American entrants in the championship should take part in a contest with four British players, extending over two days, and decided on the American tournament principle—each of the four players on one side meeting each members of the opposing side over eighteen holes.

Each game would be played to the last green, and the number of holes up would count for the side, the result being arrived at by the total of holes up obtained by the teams in the sixteen matches.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE GAMES

Three Sunday school league contests are billed for tonight in triple bracket elimination series to determine the second half-season winner.

Lutherans will tackle the M. E. five and the U. P. passers will clash with the Baptists on the M. P. court; while the St. Stephens and M. P. teams will play on the Y. M. C. A. floor.

ALTOONA PLANS BIG RACE EVENT

New Speed Records Will be Sought in 250-Mile Classic.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 4.—Great preparation is being made by the Altoona Speedway association for the presentation of their sixth 250 mile national championship classic, Saturday, June 12th.

Aside from starting a score of world famous speed pilots, the coming event invites unusual interest because of the fact that it will be the first board track showing of the recently adopted 91½ cubic inch racing motors.

The new creations now at a stage of perfection, will doubtless revolutionize the entire history of past track performances. Triple-"A" officials, the governing body of professional racing, are already astounded with reports of the remarkable development of these so-called "vest-pocket" motors. Intense interest surrounds the employment of the new speed producer. Laboratory tests have proven conclusively that with the present highly efficient super-chargers, these speed units will exceed the fondest expectations of the foremost racing men.

The internationally known Altoona Speedway will be a scene of a most unusual chariots, when the new speed chariots start on their gruelling grind over the great wooden pathway. Practically every great motor industry of the country will be represented at the contest. The startling results will contribute greatly to future motor construction. Motor wizards and technical men will measure the possibilities shown at the coming meet, for further transportation economy, which will no doubt reflect a great tendency toward minimizing pleasure car motors.

For the sixth time in the annals of A. A. A. racing, the piston displacement has experienced a forced reduction. Starting with 600 cubic inch limit in 1911 showing a world speed record of only 74.59 miles per hour, 1913 introduced 450 cubic inch, 1915—300, 1920—183, 1923—122, the lattor will be obsolete May 30th this year. That new world records will be written June 12th is a certainty, as speculation into their showing 140 miles per hour does not seem out of proportion. Fathers of mammoth motor industries and vast thousands of eager spectators will gaze with watchful eyes upon the terrifying speed of the great four-wheeled rodeo.

Babe Ruth Sets Pace For Rooks and Vets

By Ford C. Frick.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5.—Mr. George Herman Ruth has a sense of responsibility and a conscience, after all. The big boy has proved it here this spring, setting a pace in hard work that even the most enthusiastic rookie has trouble in following. And the Babe is looking great as a result.

There's one thing to be said for the Yankee bad boy. He reforms just as enthusiastically as he sins—and at this particular moment the reform movement has assumed the proportions of an engulfing tidal wave.

The systematic training Ruth followed during the winter has taught him one thing. He has learned to care for himself in scientific fashion. His methods are no longer haphazard.

Right now, he weighs 222 stripped. His muscles are as hard as nails, his eye clear and his mind free from worry and misapprehension. To say that Ruth would break his former home run records, would be foolish. Probably he wont. But he will be a much improved ball player this year none the less, and unless the unforseen happens, he's due for a great season.

As important as any physical change, is his improved mental attitude. In other years Ruth has been just Ruth, individualist in style and attitude.

This season he seems to realize for the first time that he is a member of a ball club. And that there are eight other players to be considered and helped. The "I" has almost entirely disappeared from his speech. "We" has supplanted it. In his workouts, the Babe has been exceptionally enthusiastic. He is the first man out to the park in the morning, the last one to leave in the evening. And he works hard every minute. Yesterday, for instance, he got Charley O'Leary to hit fungoes to him, and he spent more than 40 minutes chasing fly balls all over Pinellas county.

"Make me run for 'em," the Babe would shout, and Charley would do just that—until finally Ruth came to the club house wet with perspiration and glowing with health.

His hitting is good, too. The old Ruthian swing is still there.

Babe has spent much time perfecting a swing for left field hitting. "I'm out after those base hits this year," he explained. "And if I can learn to hit to left field, as well as right, I'll have the outfielders guessing."

Electric flatirons now being made in France weigh only about two pounds each.

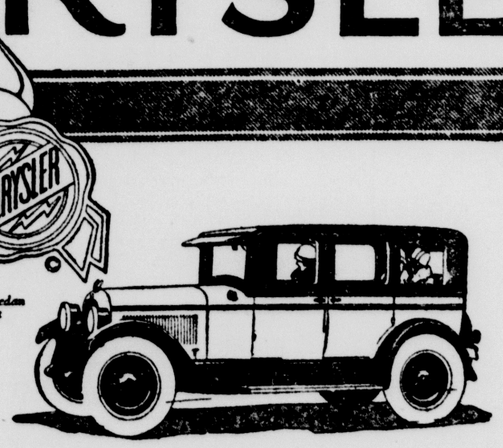
CHRYSLER



Chrysler "70" Royal Sedan $1995, f. o. b. Detroit

To All Women Who Do Not Ride In A Chrysler "70"—

Whatever car you ride in—or drive, if you are one of the great army of women drivers—we can promise you an entirely new delight in the Chrysler "70".

Comparatively few women, it is true, care to ride as fast as 70 miles an hour; but the power indicated by 70 miles plus represents the utmost in acceleration, in smoothness, as well as in speed ability.

And think of a car without side-sway—a car which steers with unbelievable ease—a car made so safe by Chrysler hydraulic four-wheel brakes, and so compactly designed for easy parking, that you handle it with implicit confidence.

Chrysler is admittedly the style leader among motor cars—and that, of itself, is a genuine satisfaction.

We are eager to demonstrate the beautiful Chryslers to you at your leisure.

Developing Major League Hurlers Is Biggest Problem of Managers

This is the second of a series of articles by a nationally-known sports authority on the problems a major league manager must meet in the training camps.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. — Pitching furnishes the hardest problem on any baseball club, in the opinion of Dave Bancroft, Brave pilot, whose ability in getting good pitching out of the material at hand has played a part in his success.

"The reason," says Bancroft, "is because you can't throw the ball for the pitcher. And it is, of course, the actual throwing of the ball that makes or breaks the pitcher. You can aid him by suggesting changes in his style of delivering the ball. You can correct a possible foot-fault, or a weakness in watching the bases. But all these things are wasted if he fails to throw the proper ball in the proper place at the proper time.

"The most common fault among young pitchers who come up to us is that of failing to get their body behind the throw.

"This weakness lessens the general effectiveness of the pitcher for the simple reason that it deprives him of the speed for his fast ball and 'zip' he needs to make his curves break properly.

Body Beats the Ball.

"The hurler, as he starts to deliver the ball, figuratively 'throws' his body ahead of the ball. In other words, before he starts his arm forward his body has been launched forward and his front foot is resting on the ground. The weight of his body is no longer available to put power behind his delivery.

"The experienced pitcher hurls his body with the ball, so to speak. His body comes forward with the throw. His forward foot touches the ground almost at the instant he releases the ball."

This fault is another one of those seemingly insignificant but vital ones not noticed by the average grandstand observer. If the pitcher's motion seems easy and he has good control he looks good in the daily workouts. There are other weaknesses, however, which hinder otherwise capable pitchers.

Allan Sothoron, a great pitcher in flashes, has never reached the heights mainly because of his poor fielding ability.

Must Hold Men on Bases.

I remember another youngster, "Rip Zip" Hagerman, tried out by the Cleveland club 10 or 12 years ago, who seemed a promising pitcher. His doom was pronounced, however, when at the crucial moment in a game in Boston, Hagerman, who was pitching, stood idle in the box and permitted home plate to remain uncovered on a play which cost Cleveland the game, if I recall properly.

Then many young pitchers with many assets lack the faculty of holding runners close to their bases. Some of these men are handicapped in their delivery unless they can take a brief windup. But even a short drawing back of the pitching arm gives the opportunity a fleet base runner wants. So the youngster must be trained to watch first, second or third, as the case may be, and get his pitch away quickly and with control, of course.

Sherrod Smith, veteran southpaw of the Brooklyn and Cleveland staff, is probably the greatest first base sharpshooter in baseball. His ability to nail runners off first base is uncanny.

"But most of these secondary weaknesses can be overcome if a pitcher has the desire and the intelligence to learn," says Bancroft.

"Few pitchers, just breaking into the big show, realize the importance of memorizing immediately the weaknesses of the various batters. A pitcher doesn't have to be working in the box to learn them. He can pick up considerable knowledge of the batters from the bench."

Watch for another article in this series in tomorrow's paper.

For the purpose of interesting more Americans in the use of German toys, twenty German toy manufacturers have formed an association to hold exhibitions in this country.

Johannesburg, South Africa, is to have a new railway station coasting $6,250,000.

Poland is taking to the radio and a station for broadcasting material supplied by the University of Krakow will soon be erected at that city.

Reparations Scheme Proposed by Former German Secretary

BERLIN.—A campaign for a definite settlement of reparations payments as supplementing the Dawes Plan has been started by ex-Secretary of State Bergmann, in a book entitled, "The Way of Reparations," in which he lays down the following scheme:

At the end of the next two years the Transfer committee should fix by arbitration the definite amount of reparations to be paid by Germany. The Transfer committee should undertake to place this loan on the international market. Whatever cannot be placed within ten years should lapse so that after ten years Germany has paid her reparation debts and has incurred a private debt in the shape of a loan.

Bergmann claims that his scheme offers a definite, but elastic solution enabling Germany's creditors to raise the installments in proportion to a growing German credit.

MAJOR BURKE, REBEL, EXILED HOME TO DIE

Confederate Veterans Plan Welcome for Gallant Officer.

85 YEARS OLD

Fled to Honduras From Louisiana 35 Years Ago.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—A little group of Confederate veterans, aged and feeble, is making preparations here to welcome back to his home Major Edward A. Burke, 85, former gallant Confederate officer, and later state treasurer of Louisiana, who will soon end a 35-year exile in Honduras, and come back to New Orleans.

Major Burke, indicted in 1889 on 19 counts of misuse of state funds, involving $200,000, fled to Honduras to escape prosecution. He had served with distinction as a Confederate officer, and later in the bitter intercene warfare by which the whites drove out "carpet baggers" and negro officials in Louisiana, during the reconstruction period. Prior to his indictment, Major Burke had been a social and political leader in New Orleans and other Southern cities.

During his long stay in the Central American Republic, the major rose to a position of high influence with the Honduran government. He became director of the National railway, and operated the principal hotel in the Republic. He participated in half a dozen revolutions, and managed always to remain in favor with the faction in control of the government.

The dismissal of the indictments against him recently followed a conference by Governor Fuqua, and the attorney general of Louisiana. Governor Fuqua, declaring that the major had "suffered enough," suggested that the indictments be dropped so that the aged veteran "might come home to die."

Major Burke, although he is 85, is said to be still in robust health, and is described by tourists as a striking figure well known throughout the American tropic for his bravery and courtly dignity. He is said to wear white linen clothing and a huge Panama hat, and to number among his close personal friends high government officials, soldiers of fortune and other outstanding figures of Central America.

Teach Geography With Music; Brooklyn Schools Bar Jazz

Children Long for Syncopated Tunes, But Educators Oppose Appeal to Instincts.

NEW YORK.—"There is no place for jazz in the music curriculum of the Public Schools. Jazz is a primitive music.

"Because of its rhythm it appeals to the primitive instincts.

"To teach jazz in the schools of New York would undo the work of years. The children want it.

"To give it to them would simply mean an appeal to their instincts instead of to their minds."

These are a few thoughts of Dr. George H. Gartlan, Associate Superintendent of the Department of Education and Director of Music of the Public Schools of this city, who is preparing his report to the Board of Education recommending changes in the musical program the children are now taught.

Care is Needed

"When you consider," he says, "that we have 80,000 children being taught the elements of music every hour in this great city, it can readily be seen that the Board of Education and those in charge of the schools have to be very careful when changes are contemplated.

"When music was first suggested as a study in the Public Schools of Brooklyn, fifty-one years ago, it was laughed at. There were those who described it as one of the 'new fangled' ideas. What would any of our schools be today without their glee clubs, orchestras and choral societies.

Wonderful Progress

"We have made such wonderful progress that we are teaching geography with the assistance of music. We are able to combine two subjects. When we teach the geography of Italy we combine it with the folk songs of the various localities of the country. In this way the children are better able to grasp and remember what they are taught.

"But we do not teach them jazz when we teach them the geography of this country. It would never do. A little incident happened in one of the schools that I recently visited which will show that it would not be to the best interests of the children to teach them jazz.

"The school had a wonderful orchestra. It played several pieces rather delightfully. When I consented, at the principal's suggestion, that they play jazz.

Children Applauded

"They played it well, but when they had finished the children broke into an uproar. They applauded for several minutes and stamped their feet. They had applauded all of the other pieces on the program, but not with the enthusiasm that they applauded the jazz. It was an appeal to their instincts instead of to their minds.

"Enough jazz creeps into our schools now. It is our opinion that it should be kept out.

Proud of Record

"The department is very proud of the wonderful success which has been accomplished in teaching music. It has produced many famous musicians, who received their first training in our public schools. Our most notable example is Mr. Reinald Werrenrath, the noted American tenor. He is a graduate of the Boys' High School of Brooklyn.

"The Symphony and Philharmonic orchestras are full of our students, as well as many of the leading bands."

CALLS CHICAGO CRIME HOT BED WITH LAX LAWS

Veteran Judge Tells Bankers Why Criminals Flourish.

BEAUTY ASSET

Odds in Illinois City Against Hanging are 300 to 1.

CHICAGO—Chicago is notorious as a hot-bed of crime because of a breakdown in its law-enforcement, said Judge Marcus Kavanagh, veteran criminal judge, addressing a meeting of a thousand bankers of Illinois.

"In England a man who commits murder knows the gallows is almost inevitable," he added. "In Chicago the odds are 300 to 1 he won't be hanged, 12 to 1 he won't be convicted and 5 to 1 he won't even be arrested.

"After years on the bench, dealing with criminals and the vagaries of the juries that try them, I am convinced any pretty woman can kill a man and not be punished in Cook county. The reason does not lie in sentiment favorable to murderesses but weak regard for the law.

"There was a time when the United States was the most law-abiding nation on earth and England third lowest. Today England leads the world in dealing out justice and punishment and the United States is far down the scale. Yet every country has just the kind of crime it deserves. We, flouting the law, are getting only what is coming to us."

ALIMONY IS "GOLD DIGGER" METHOD TO SEPARATE MAN AND HIS MONEY

CHICAGO.—Separating a man from his money by the process used by the "gold diggers' in divorce and almony suits is one of the greatest evils of our time and should be remedied, Harry Edward Freund, director of the American Research Foundation said in an address here.

"A great number of women are emancipating themselves and becoming independent by joining the ranks of paid workers, but there are many who have adopted the principle of marrying a man, leaving him after a few months, obtaining alimony in the courts and living easily for the remainder of their lives," said Mr. Freund.

"Various plans have recently been advanced to remedy this evil. These range from the radical theiry in Glen B. Winship's novel, 'Volonor,' where he would use a 50 per cent tax to support the women and children of the nation, to a statement made by Superior Court Judge Harry Lewis of Chicago.

Judge Lewis announced that those women who contract marriages in haste at such places as Crown Point, Chicago's Gretna Green, and then apply for alimony a few months later, can expect nothing in his court.

Music, Parade, Flirt, Chief Function of Military Groups

BERLIN—"Music, parades and flirts are the functions of the Nationalist militant leagues. That's all there is to them. They give the people what, in the old times, the cookmaid expected from the soldiers of the Kaiser's army."

With this quotation of the remark of an active officer of the Reichswehr, Minister of Defence Dr. Gessler, in a speech at the Reichstag ridiculed the charge that there still existed a "black Reichswehr," an illegal military formation secretly supported by the authorities.

British Woman Has Unique Residence in London Bridge Arch

LONDON—The world's most picturesque home can no longer be claimed by the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shore. It belongs today to Mrs. David Fraser, who lives in a flat in one of the arches of Tower Bridge, the famous hydraulic drawbridge flanking the Tower of London.

She enjoys the finest view in London, although the beauty of her situation is somewhat marred by the fact that she has to toil up nearly a hundred stairs to reach it.

Her flat consists of four fairly big rooms, with a huge room running the whole length of the arch, which she uses for drying her clothes washing days. Not a sound from the busy roadway reaches her, due to the fact that the walls of her home are many feet thick.

Was a "Bear Cat"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince," which had helped him for same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

Colds

Some years ago a famous laboratory developed a remedy for colds. It proved itself quick, effective and complete. It stopped colds in 24 hours. It checked the fever, stopped the headache, opened the bowels, toned the system. So recovery from the cold was prompt. The remedy brought no ill results, as quinine did before.

That laboratory announces its creations to physicians only. Most people don't consult doctors on colds. Millions of people who needed this help did not learn about it.

So W. H. HILL secured that formula and called it HILL'S Cascara-Bromide-Quinine. He sent out millions of samples to prove its effect. And he spent vast sums in telling the fact to people who have colds. As a result countless homes came to rely on it.

Then other men decided that more people should know it. So they paid $1,000,000 to secure the remedy. Now the facts are told in thousands of newspapers and magazines. People everywhere are dealing with colds in this effective way.

This is to urge that you try HILL'S. Take it promptly. Every hour of delay means a deeper-seated cold.

Be sure you get HILL'S. The years have proved that no other help compares. A cold is a serious matter. Stop it at once, end its results in the best way you can find.

If you take HILL'S now, relief will come tomorrow. The fever will be checked, the system toned, the bowels opened. The poisons will be eliminated. All those things must be done, and they should be done at once. Get HILL'S and start at once. At your drug store.

RADIO IN WILDS OF CONGO FINDS LONG LOST BROTHER OF U. S. WOMAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—A remarkable story of the reunion of an American woman, living in San Francisco, with her brother, from whom she separated in Copenhagen a quarter of a century ago, now living in the wilds of the African Congo—effected by means of amateur radio enthusiasts—has come to light here.

Mrs. Lydia Nelson read in a newspaper that radio station OA-4Z had been getting wonderful results broadcasting, having been heard by amateurs in Europe and various cities in America. She wrote the operator of the station, J. L. Street, at Capetown, and asked that a message be broadcast in search of her brother, Sigfred Yenson, who she heard, had gone to the African Congo.

An amateur enthusiast in Memphis, sitting long after midnight over his powerful receiving set, picked this message from the Capetown station:

"Sigfred Yenson has been located in the Congo. Please notify Mrs. Lydia Nelson, 1139 McAlister street, San Francisco, that he is writing to her."

"My brother must have picked up my message on a radio set at his home far in the wilds of the Congo," Mrs. Nelson wrote, gratefully to the Memphis amateur. "I can hardly wait until his letter comes."

As a result of the forty-four-hour week established by the state of New South Wales following the passing of a forty-eight-hour week statute by the Australian government, the matter may be taken into court.

LIFE OF PAPER BEING STUDIED BY U. S. BUREAU

Permanence of Records Dependent on Finding New Material.

STUDY FIBERS

Need for More Definite Information is Realized.

WASHINGTON—With a view to producing a quality of paper upon which official and private records may be maintained for long periods, an investigation has been started by the United States bureau of standards.

Little is definitely known of the permanence of modern papers. Although the bureau has not been able to complete the intensive study required to obtain exact information, some research work has been done.

Numerous requests have been received by the bureau from departments of the federal government, state governments, the library of congress, public libraries and from business concerns seeking advice on the durability of paper.

In view of the demands for information the following observations have been made public by the bureau:

From records of the aging of papers it appears that wood-fiber papers, in general, have given poor service in respect to permanence.

Rag-fiber papers, in general, alone have proved suitable for permanent records; but the fact that a paper is made entirely of rag fiber does not in itself insure permanence.

The materials entering into the paper must be chosen with care, so that no materials will be present which in themselves will not be permanent or which will induce deterioration of the paper.

It is quite well established that if fibers themselves are to be permanent they must be reduced to as pure a form of cellulose as possible. The purity of the fibers is commonly measured by determining the copper number.

As rosin sizing induces decomposition of paper fibers it should not be used. Judging from past records and from results of accelerated aging tests the sizing should consist of glue only, as when properly applied such sizing is very permanent and has NO injurious effect upon the paper fiber. Starch sizing appears to be of doubtful permanence. Chemical residues, especially those of an acid nature, are very harmful.

Alum is an acid salt commonly used in paper sizing and care must be taken that residues of this material in the paper are kept at a minimum. Other chemical residues, such as those derived from the cooking and bleaching operations, should also be reduced as much as possible. In employing coloring materials, only those of established permanency should be used, and only those which will not react chemically with other constituents of the paper.

The need for more definite information is keenly realized and it is the hope of the bureau to carry on further research this year.

Was It Love—or Fascination?

WHEN one is nearly twenty and wants to get ahead in the world, life as a manicurist in a barber shop is prosaic and dull.

Or, at least, so thought Angelique! The foolish flattery of men sickened her. She began to doubt whether she would ever meet a man she could love with all of the devotion she felt herself capable of.

But that was before she met Carlos, an exhibition dancer. When she danced with him, she wished it would go on forever.

But how little she knew about life and the ways of men! When Carlos asked her to become his professional partner, Angelique's heart set up a terrific hammering of excitement. To go on the stage with Carlos, and rise with him to heights of fame—she could hardly believe her good fortune.

The fact that Carlos was an absolute stranger to her did not enter her excited mind.

But her first visit to Carlos' studio started a drama that no playwright could have written, that no "movie" plotster could have created for the screen—a swift, heart-gripping, true-life drama that was to seize her in its merciless grip, fling her high into the clouds of reckless laughter, and then hurl her with crushing force down, down onto the rocks of fear and despair.

Never has the terrible price of ignorance been made more vivid, more compelling, than in this astounding true-life narrative entitled, "Out of the Ruins," in April True Story Magazine. Never was there written a more powerful warning against forming friendships with people that one knows nothing about.

An Opportunity to Win a Big Prize in True Story's $50,000.00 Contest

Three hundred and eleven men and women are going to share in cash prizes ranging from $5,000 to $100, and aggregating $50,000 in all, to be awarded by True Story Magazine in exchange for true stories. Why not win one of these prizes.

Everywhere there are men and women who have lived at least one story that is more helpful, more inspiring, more thrilling than any fiction story.

True Story now receives many splendid stories, but if there are life stories more poignantly interesting and helpful, we do not want a single one of them to escape us.

For rules and conditions of this mammoth Contest turn to page 63 of True Story for April.

Other Heart-Stirring Stories In the April Issue Are:

"Sunshine and Shadow"—Tessie longed for something to happen to vary the deadly monotony of life. Then she fell in love with Eddie Novak—and the underworld had her in its grip. A thrilling epic of grim courage.

"Not Always What You Think"—A good girl fighting alone against the world may have to choose between hunger and luxurious comfort "at a price." Read this girl's story about the choice she made.

Read Also In This Wonderful Issue:

"Flame of Love"
"Wasted Love"
"Wives At Auction"
"The Unwanted Woman"
"A Wife's Awakening"
And 8 Other Big Features

FIGURES ON AGE OF EARTH ARE REVISED

Billion and a Half Years Is New Estimate.

Austin, Texas.—Geologists generally have accepted the comparatively recent calculation of physicists that the age of the world is approximately 1,500,000,000 years, according to Dr. Charles Schuchert, professor emeritus of paleontology at Yale university, who is giving a special course in stratigraphic geology at the University of Texas this term.

"As for the age of the earth, our conceptions have been greatly altered by the work of the physicists during the last twenty years," Doctor Schuchert said. "The best calculation of the earth's age comes from the rate of disintegration of radium-bearing minerals and, on that basis, the age of the earth now is estimated to be not less than 1,500,000,000 years. Such a vast length of time is beyond our conception.

"A century ago it was almost universally held that the earth was about 5,600 years old. Through the rate of disintegration of radium-bearing minerals all of our older calculations have been greatly altered. Until this discovery was made and worked out geologists the world over held that the age of the earth was of the order of about 125,000,000 years.

Basis of Calculation.

"This calculation was based on the amount of salt in solution in the oceans and the present rate of new supplies yielded by the rivers flowing into them. The rivers today, however, are yielding a greater annual average of this salt than was the rate during the geologic ages, and geologists later began to think of the age of the earth as something like 300,000,000 years."

Doctor Schuchert said that recently it was widely believed that oil production would play out, or at least be vastly reduced during the next 25 years, but that many noted geologists now saw no fear of an immediate exhaustion of this natural wealth.

"A few years ago predictions were made by the best geologists that the peak of production had been reached," he continued. "As yet, however, no decline has set in, but of course, sooner or later the supply of liquid petroleum will be exhausted. Even so, there are vast amounts of shales holding oils which can be extracted through distillation.

"More modern methods have been adopted recently by which a greater quantity of oil is obtained from a given field than formerly," he said. "In Pennsylvania old wells which were believed exhausted have been revived by pumping water or air into the old holes or into newly driven ones, thus forcing up more of the oil reserves. It is widely held that only about 25 per cent of the oil of a given field is, so far, brought to the surface. Suppose that by the adoption of improved methods this could be increased to 50 per cent, it would mean an enormous addition to production.

Old Theories Discarded.

"With the progress of scientific research and discoveries some of the old theories as to the origin of petroleum have been placed in the discard. One of these is the old belief that the natural oils are of volcanic origin. It is now well known that petroleum is the end residium of once living things and chiefly of marine plants, although some of it is also of animal origin."

Doctor Schuchert evinced much interest in the information that has come to him of the possible potash wealth of Texas.

"I understand that in the oil explorations in the western part of Texas potash salts have been found over an extensive area," he said. "If potash is present in workable quantities it means a tremendous wealth to the state, even long after the oil is gone. Not only is potash in great demand as a fertilizer, but enormous quantities of it are used in the chemical industries. Nowhere in North America are the Permian beds better developed than in the semi-arid regions of western Texas and nowhere are there greater supplies of gypsum and table salts."

Mayfair Makes Attics, Stables Into Homes

London.—Many of London's aristocracy are busy converting disused stables and attics in Mayfair into stylish maisonettes for their own use and the duke and duchess of York indirectly are responsible.

Since these members of the king's family settled in Mayfair there has been a stampede of those who wish to live near enough to bask in the royal smiles. Mayfair has, of course, long been the home of the elite. It is to London what Park avenue and Fifth avenue are to New York.

In the old days there were many mews filled with small buildings in which the blooded horses and the fine carriages of the aristocracy were housed. Since the automobile has come into such common use, however, the glossy steeds and the gorgeously uniformed lackeys have largely joined the other picturesque relics of the hey-day of blue blood. Now there are few mews in Mayfair these days which do not house distinguished families.

Russia is adding new air services.

Air Passengers Sleep on London-Paris Trip

London.—Lulled by the ceaseless drone of engines, so high in the air that there is little sensation of speed and with landmarks of England and the continent far below, many air passengers, it is found, fall asleep while in planes between London and Paris.

To provide greater comfort for these mid-air nappers, a new armchair has been designed for giant air-express planes now being constructed.

Luxuriously upholstered, the new seats have high sloping backs and are fitted with softly-padded head rests. These will pillow the head of the traveler who wishes to contemplate how seasick he would have been in a cross channel steamer or will ease the agony of air-sick passengers sweeping along in the mists or sunshine high above land and sea.

H. C. L. FLOPS AS 1925 PRICE LIST IS CUT

SEVERE SLASHES

America Better Able to Compete With Others.

WASHINGTON — Excepting the United States and a few other countries the world price tendency was downward in 1925, according to statistics prepared by the Federal Reserve Board.

Price movements in Great Britain, Sweden, Switzerland and the Netherland—countries NOW on a gold standard—generally brought them to approximately the levels in the United States; each showed slight declines.

"For the other continental countries with few exceptions, the year's downward trend of prices has increased the difference between local price levels and those prevailing in the United States," the board said.

Thus the United States is in a better competitive situation with the four gold standard countries, but at an increased price disadvantage with others.

Severe Declines

The most severe price declines occurred in Norway, Denmark, and Hungary; important advances occurred in France and Italy. Except in Austria, Germany, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Sweden, prices in the European countries generally reflected to an appreciable extent the movement of their exchange, although in most instances there was a considerable lag between the movement in the exchange and the compensating adjustmen tin prices.

On the currency basis prices advanced 25 per cent in France and 12 per cent in Italy from December, 1924, to December, 1925. In Denmark the drop was 32 per cent.

Calculated on the gold basis prices rose in Norway 6.5 per cent and Italy 5 per cent. All other countries reported declines, the heaviest in Hungary at 19 per cent. Drops in other nations were:

England, 7 per cent; Austria, 13 per cent; Belgium, 9 per cent; France, 13 per cent.

The United States showed virtually no change on the gold basis. In Norway, it was stated, the rise in the exchange has more than compensated for the decline in prices. In Denmark, on the other hand, the price drop was greater than the advance in exchange.

Lower Money Rates.

From the financial viewpoint it was stated that changes in the official discount rates of European central banks were frequent in 1925. Countries reporting lower money rates were Austria, Danzig, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, Lithuania, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

"Three of these have returned to the gold standard, Sweden, Netherland and Switzerland," the board said. "Of the remainder, all except France, Denmark and Norway, have stabilized their currencies and are NOW operating on the gold exchange standard, and Denmark and Norway while they have not definitely stabilized their currencies, have been able, after a substantial appreciation in their exchange rates to narrow proportions.

"Six of the group, Austria, Danzig, Finland, Germany, Hungary and Lithuania—are countries whose currencies had been so disorganized as to necessitate either devaluation or the creation of new monetary units."

Women Like Variety!

Not alone in sweethearts, clothes, scenery and kisses, but ESPECIALLY in TOILETRIES. We found that out some years ago and since then we've made it a HABIT to always keep PLENTY of kinds, PLENTY of sizes of most everything in this line. Our leaders are Arden, Harriet Hubbard Ayers, Marinello, Melloglo, Garden Court, Hudnut's with numerous others.

Don't ARGUE With Me!

When I say to you that a clear, happy, smooth Alimentary tract is more important thatn WEALTH! ANY man with a bit of stick-to-itive-ness can GET and KEEP himself in shape by the sensible use of Rhualo Tablets and it takes dern little money to accomplish it too.

Police and Fountain News!

A Malted Milk with an egg is a meal.
You know yourself how they make you feel!
But the stomach handles them with ease,
So you can drink 'em fast as you please.

But if an Orange Flip you're drinking,
It jolts your bean, improves your thinking.
Your tummy seldom is interested;
There's nothing much to be digested!

Rieck's Brick Ice Cream!

It's not surprising the amount of brick Ice Cream we are selling these days for a brick of Rieck's Ice Cream is just packed full of goodness and you know that the purity is also there. And convenient serving. It's just like slicing a loaf of bread.

Base Ball!

The ball teams have gone South or West for training makes us all think that Spring is coming and of the good old summertime, but don't stop using Healing Balm yet. Keep Healing Balm on hand all the time and if you don't need it for chapped hands when summer comes you can use it to relieve the sting of sunburn later.

HABIT!

A SHORT SERMON

Habit is what makes you use your RIGHT hand for most of the work you DO with your hands. Habit makes you KICK with your RIGHT foot. Habit makes you EAT three times a day, walk on a certain side of the street, spit through your teeth, scratch the back of your ear, part your hair a certain way, keep pencils in a certain pocket, stir your coffee in your own peculiar manner and put your sox on—the WAY you do!

All of which leads up to the axe that I'VE got to grind!

If I had the power to GIVE you your habits, one of the very FIRST ones I'd inflict on you would be the deep-seated HABIT of SHOPPING IN THESE FAVORITE STORES! I might as well confess that I've been "working on you" for quite a spell as it is. I figgered that if we kept three places of ours reasonably INTERESTING to LOOK at, with folks back of the counters who were friendly LOOKING, friendly HEARTED and reasonably full of friendly CHAT, that if you came in ONCE you might come in TWICE and if you got that far, mebbe you'd GET THE HABIT!

You notice I'm not saying one word about goods or fair prices, don't you? I TAKE THAT FOR GRANTED! In fact, that's a HABIT that I ALREADY HAVE!

This is not written for OLD customers to read — They know already. t's the NEW ones I'm interested in having read this sermon.

John Carnahan

Shorty Says:

Looks to ME like Jack is trying to drum up new trade and that he's approaching the subject on the bias! Why don't he come RIGHT OUT and SAY so! I caught Jack reading a book called PSCHO-ANALYSIS the other day and I'll bet a suspender button that he's got this HABIT idea out of it. It's a cinch that Jack plans to SELL you something every now and then or else WHY would be want you hustling in the stores! Answer THAT once. He's a good boy and all that but there's times when I think he's figgerin on dying rich!

No Romance ? ? ?

The birthplaces of the hundreds of chemicals, herbs, essences and such that line the shelves "back of the Prescription Case," if used as an itinery for an automobile trip, would take you ALL AROUND THE WORLD! The few ingredients that go to make up an AVERAGE prescription may have each come from points thousands of miles apart. Yet they say there's no ROMANCE in drug storing!

A Woman's Glory! A Barber's Income!

HAIR is what we're referring to! The furniture man says "We begin where the preacher leaves off" but we're just a little bit ahead of the furniture man for we sell the stuff that causes the man to lead them up to the preacher. We have the shampoos, Bandolines, Brillantines, Tonics, etc. After the barber come to us.

Interestingness!

Do you sorta always associate certain INTERESTING people with a certain indefinable PERFUME! Ever notice that folks you really REMEMBER seem to have a certain INTERESTING and PLEASING odor? We have 98 different ODORS here in Perfumes for you to make your PERSONAL selection.

Melloglo Beauty Treatment!

Any girl can be pretty with the Melloglo treatment. Pores won't show. Makes the skin fair and lovely. Puts life in the face. Tones up the skin and makes the texture fine, smooth and firm. Gives you a beautiful pink wild rose complexion. Absolutely pure and costs only one dollar for each preparation.

SALESMAN FOR COPS' UNIFORMS GETS SELF ARRESTED TO CANVASS CHIEF

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—John E. Clare, of Waterloo, N. Y., is the ultra-ultra in these days of high pressure, go-get-'em, peppy salesmen. He got himself arrested in order to get an interview with a prospective customer—the chief of police. Though admiring his courage and initiative, officials did not give him an order, a poor climax for a day of tribulation for the undaunted salesman.

Clare sells cloth for police and firemen's uniforms. He had tried vainly to get the official ear and took the official air several times.

So he notified a taxicab driver that he was wanted for a crime committed in California. He said he wanted to give himself up. The taxicab driver said he would accommodate him and offered him a free ride to the police station, as a prisoner.

"Couldn't get in to see you any other way, so I thought I'd come in official capacity," Clare informed Chief of Police Cadin. "I'm selling cloth for uniforms and I want an order."

Chief Cadin, after assuring himself that Clare's story told the taxicab man was a subterfuge, remarked: "You've got plenty of nerve anyway and you deserve an order, but we don't need any cloth today. Close the door as you go out."

If there was only one head to a family, father wouldn't have to buy so many hats.—Zanesville Signal.

Builds Up Thin Sickly Children

Children that are weak, undernourished, backward in school, lack the energy to take a lively, normal interest in play and sports, gain ruddy health and vigor by taking Coco Cod, the pure cod liver oil strength-builder that tastes like chocolate.

Coco Cod is a nutritive system-builder of unequalled effectiveness. To the cod liver oil, which is recognized as the most concentrated nourishment known, is added the health-giving vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach. Coco Cod is flavored with pure cocoa, so that children with the most sensitive stomachs enjoy taking it.

Physicians everywhere recommend Coco Cod for its well-known value in the treatment of weakness in its various forms and because it is palatable. One physician writes: "Have given Coco Cod to a five-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition. Three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take it because it is palatable."

Begin today—build up the children's health with Coco Cod so they will have a fair and equal chance for success in life. All druggists.—Advertisement.

FOOT SUFFERERS

We Invite

Every man and woman here. Every person in this city and vicinity to try this wonderful foot medicine on our guarantee to give satisfactory results.

This is an invitation that no man or woman having corns, bunions, callouses, burning, aching, perspiring feet can afford to ignore. We will tell you why. We are going to give you a wonderful discovery that corrects foot troubles, so quickly, so pleasantly, so thoroughly that you will be amazed. How can ge do this? This way: Science has discovered a concentrated treatment that makes foot troubles disappear as if by magic. Corns shrivel up and drop off in a day or two; pain is banished from bunions with one application; perspiring feet are made cool and dry within two minutes by the watch.

This new foot medicine is called Dax. Don't forget the name D-A-X. Nothing like it has ever been heard of before. It is a liquid, clean, pleasant to use and applied right to the feet. It is a revelation to the man or woman who has tried everything and found nothing to give them foot comfort. It is a real medicine, giving permanent relief by correcting the action of the sweat glands of the feet. It is sure in its action; it is absolutely harmless; it cannot irritate the skin; it cannot stain; it cannot fail. Do you doubt it? Then make this test:

Take a pair of shoes that you find hard to wear and note how heavy and tired and warm they make your feet; note how they make your corns sting and burn. Then go to Jesse D. Holloway or any other good druggist and get a bottle of Dax for 50c, and use as directed. Then try the same shoes again. If your feet are not more comfortable, if perspiring doesn't stop and the ache and pain are not gone, go right back to the druggist and get your money back.

One man says: "Most wonderful preparation I ever used. Feet were terrible, corns a torture, perspiring so bad I had to change my hose twice or three times a day. I used Dax two days and feet feel fine; no more pain or aches, no more damp perspiring feet."

One woman says: "Am a clerk in a store. Stand on my feet all day. Feet swell, perspire and burn, corns most drive me mad. Two applications of Dax gave me real foot comfort. It's wonderful."

But don't take their word for it. Try it yourself and see. Remember if you are not satisfied your druggist will give your money back. Fair enough, isn't it? At Jesse D. Holloway's, or all other good druggists.

ODD WEDDING AND PASSPORT TANGLE CONFUSE COUPLE'S MARRIAGE STATUS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Elizabeth Arnold, 30, and James W. Swindells, 29, of Cambridge, were married in England more than two years ago.

When they tried to do it all over again here they got themselves into a ring of complexities.

In applying for a marriage license the couple claimed to be single. City Clerk Burke began his customary checking up and discovered in the Cambridge city directory a "Mr. and Mrs. James W. Swindells."

When the clerk questioned the couple, the woman told the following story:

"Jim and I met in our town in England in the summer of 1923. We married in the harvest time, and I had been trying for two years to come to the states.

"I got my passport to sail five days before my wedding. I had been twice disappointed in the emigrant quotas, so what was I to do?

"If I changed my passport to my new name it would have taken more time and red tape, so I sailed as Miss Elizabeth Arnold. Jim joined me here, and of course we lived as man and wife.

"Then we started up for our naturalization papers. Our passports named us as single, so we thought we'd get 'spliced' all over again."

Mrs. Swindells shows an English marriage certificate to prove her story, but Clerk Burke would not allow them to marry again until he further investigated their story.

TEST ALBERTA GAS, OIL AND COAL LANDS FOR FUTURE POSSIBILITIES

EDMONTON, Alta. — More than 80,000 square miles of land in Alberta have petroleum possibilities, according to Dr. John Allan, professor of geology in the University of Alberta, in an address here before the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

"Testing of fields has already established the existence of valuable petroleum deposits in the province," said Prof. Allan. "Gasoline of commercial quality is being produced at the rate of 500 barrels a day in one field near Calgary. Wells discovered at Fort Norman in Northern Alberta five years ago are said to be among the most extensive on the continent. Ninety-six oil wells have been drilled in Alberta up to the present time. Fifteen additional wells were under drill in 1925. Geological formations in the province are similar to those in Montana and Wyoming, where oil is found.

"Presence of vast deposits of natural gas and coal in Alberta, which occur almost invariably with petroleum make it seem likely that the province will be a great future source of oil supply. Alberta's coal reserve constitutes one-seventh of all the coal reserves in the world. Most of the rich farm land in the province is underlain with coal. Alberta has 72 per cent of all the known coal in the British Empire.

Airplanes on the new Rome Constantinople route will have a capacity of ten to twelve persons and two metric tons of freight.

O'Brien Boy Thin and Pale

In a Little Over Two Months Gained Eleven Pounds

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that. But it's vile, horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compounds Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent. better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Willis Willey Puts on Shirt Only to See District Attorney.

Spokane, Wash.—When Willis Willey of this city put on a shirt recently the story went all over the United States. Millions of Americans put on shirts every day, but the fact is not mentioned by any of the big newspapers.

The writer begged Willey for permission to get a photograph of him with his shirt on, but Willis Willey declared he would never be so foolish as to stand before a camera with his clothes on.

It has been said by critics, who wished to give some one a "dirty dig," that anyone can become famous by walking up and down Broadway with his shirt off.

Has No Press Agent.

No one ever suspected that, if a man hid in the woods and took his clothes off, the world would beat a path to his door to see why he chose to be different.

That is just what the world is doing to Willis Willey. He has no press agent to shout his convictions to the world, but his mail comes from all parts of the nation. Why all of this fuss over one man putting on a shirt?

Some five years ago the sheriff began to receive frantic calls about a wild man. Sheriff Clarence Long, now warden of the state penitentiary at Walla Walla, and Secretary of the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police (an organization for the Pacific coast, including the Canadian provinces) sent after the wild man.

Women screamed at the sight of the stranger. All said he must not be of sound mind. Willey wore long whiskers, long hair and his wardrobe was a pair of trousers with the legs cut off just below the hips.

Courts were puzzled by his strange behavior and he was ordered to put on clothes. Willey folded his arms and declared he felt so comfortable he did not wish to do so. There was a childish smile on his face. He went back home and the sheriff continued to receive reports that Willey was running about the country in an automobile and did not wear clothing.

The more skeptical said: "You can bet he will do something terrible."

Began to Smile.

The officers finally began to smile. They appeared to feel pretty much like mother does when Jimmy, or Jennie, pull off their clothes and cavort in the nursery. Many persons talked to Willey and instead of the "wild man" they had pictured he was a good companion, a Quaker in his conduct and a child in simplicity.

Willey has been making his home a few miles from the city of Spokane and he has become so well known that he can go about the country without being disturbed. A few years ago he would have attracted as much attention as a moving picture actor away from Hollywood in his makeup.

It was between Christmas and New Years that Willey came to the courthouse for legal advice. A mortgage had been foreclosed on a tract owned by a relative where he lived and he wanted to be restored to his shack.

Willey was reminded by a deputy prosecutor that he had not obeyed the court order to wear clothes and he was told to go home and cover his nakedness. He wore some khaki trunks but that was all.

The next day Willey appeared at the courthouse and I was notified that it had happened. "Willey has on a shirt," was the news which spread through the corridors.

I went down and talked with Willey while he waited for a hearing, and found him looking through law books at the prosecutor's office.

"What are these?" asked Willey in his childish way. He was told that he had in his hands the laws of the state of New York and that in the cases were the laws of each state in the Union.

Not in the Books.

"When people have common sense I do not see why they need all this law," suggested Willey. He was told that some persons would not be safe unless others were restrained by law from doing them an injustice. He was told that some shrewd persons had been able to use the books for their own selfish gain.

"That is what they tried to do with me. They tried to make me wear clothes. They could not find it in the books or I would be wearing them all the time," continued Willey. He wore a shirt from which the sleeves had been cut four inches from the shoulders. The shirt was not buttoned, but spread open, disclosing a broad, hairy chest. He wore trunks or trousers, with the legs cut off just below the hips, and on his feet a pair of rubbers.

"Why do you not wear clothes?" Willey was asked.

"Just because I feel better without them."

"It is midwinter. Do you feel cold?"

"Not any colder than anyone wearing clothing."

Willey was asked if he liked the publicity. He declared he read but little about himself but that he had many friends who would tell him what was said. He was glad to know that some others had decided to abandon clothes.

His eyes became bright as he talked of the letters from all over the country from those who wanted to get rid of their clothes. He told of a California woman who was going to start out by wearing a bathing suit the year around.

Must Cover Feet.

Willey declared that he would like to discard all clothing for real comfort, but that nature intended one should wear some protection for the feet in winter. He said he had found by tests the feet will not endure frozen ground. A horse must have iron shoes to endure civilization, he said.

Willey said he would not permit himself to be photographed with his shirt on, as he had only put it on to get to talk to the prosecutor a moment. He said he would take it off forever after the interview.

A few seconds later Willey left the courthouse, pulled off his shirt, cranked his auto and went back to the life which he asserts he has learned from the Bible are the laws of nature and the laws of God.

There is an old saying that nothing succeeds like success and now that Willey has become recognised as a permanent institution he is not considered something to be treated lightly.

When a man says he doesn't smoke, drink, gamble, or swear, you could say he was perfect—if he wasn't such a liar.—Athens Messenger.

Catarrh is Caused Within the System

World's Tonic Combats Its Spread, Clears Up the Congestion and Stops Distress.

Many people are unwilling to believe that catarrh has fastened itself upon them and shown itself in some derangement or weakness within the system. Often there may be no apparent reason to suspect the existence of this insidious enemy to health, but nevertheless it gets in its work. Catarrh always comes from some cause within the system.

This disease must therefore be combatted by systemic treatment in order to eliminate it permanently. Local treatment in the nose and throat often bring quick relief but it can only be temporary. World's Tonic is so highly praised by catarrh sufferers because it is a systemic treatment for catarrh and not only brings relief from distress but conquers the catarrh within the system and is designed to rid the body entirely of the disease. World's Tonic almost at once relieves the dropping in the throat and discharge from the nose of the poisonous, offensive yellow or bloody pus, and it also quickly stops dryness, huskiness, soreness of nasal passages, pains in head, headaches and the like. At the same time World's Tonic completes its work within the system and has thus brought astonishing results in many cases.

If you suffer from catarrh, have a talk with the men at Carnahan's Drug Store, Brannum at Wellsville and all other first class drug stores.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But bear the name in mind; Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patrons. Pyramid is marvelous. Why suffer another single half-hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for proof, a free box plainly wrapped will be sent those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

WILD time in Wall Street. Frightened gamblers threw overboard one million shares in yesterday's "first hour." The day's proceedings, 3,726,000 shares, broke "all records for all time." There are many sheep among humans. One, frightened, jumped over the precipice, others follow. The big men go to the foot of the hill, pick up the remains, and that is "the profit."

THE excuse for the panic, which won't last, is the interstate commerce commission's veto of the "Nickel Plate" consolidation of railroads.

Consolidation would be a good thing, properly planned, and is actually recommended by the commission, which rejects the plan submitted. Later, probably, the consolidation will go through. Then prices will climb up and the little lamb with the broken back will ask himself, "Why did I jump?" He jumped because he was gambling, not investing. Gamblers are nervous.

YOUNG Theodore Roosevelt, whose father hunted big animals in Africa, returns from hunting big animals in Asia. His expedition was financed by James Simpson, of Chicago. Theodore Roosevelt the second is as emphatic as he can be, snaps his teeth very nicely and says 'his hat is in the ring."

HOOVER also is ready with his hat, and thinks he can make it, although he has never shot anything much bigger than a rabbit. And there is Senator Borah, a mighty hunter in the American political jungle—his hat is picturesque.

IT ISN'T necessary yet to consider democracy seriously. Governor Al Smith of New York will probably make another try. Mr. McAdoo, of California, says that if so, he will run against him. Then high finance will doubtless compromise on another Mr. Davis, and that will be all of that.

SOMEBODY should warn owners of mills in Passaic that they are running

Shot Fails to Halt Fugitive Who Outruns Municipal Court Attache in Sprint Along Fourth Street.

Wilbert Taylor, 24, East End potter, is a fugitive from justice today following his sensational escape from Municipal Court Bailiff Carman Hissam as he was being taken to jail to begin a 30-day sentence on a non-support charge.

Slipping from his overcoat, held by the bailiff, while he was walking down Market street, Taylor sprinted along East Fourth street, darted down Crook alley, thence into the backyard of Mrs. Margaret Bevis' property, then through the Bevis home to the street where the trail was lost.

As Taylor turned at the Ceramic corner of Crook alley, Hissam pulled his revolver and fired, but the shot failed to halt the fugitive. When Hissam fired he fell. Before he could resume the chase, Taylor had found a haven.

Taylor was arraigned before Municipal Judge Hanley a few weeks ago upon information furnished by his wife, Mrs. Geneva Taylor, Riley avenue. When he failed to keep his promise to care for his child, he was re-arrested.

He pleaded guilty of the non-support charge and was fined $50 as well as given a jail sentence.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS ARE DINNER GUESTS

Six-course Banquet Served by Home Economics Girl

BUSINESS MEET

Leaves of Absences for Normal School Pupils.

Members of the board of education were guests of the Home Economics department of the high school at a six-course banquet served prior to their semi-monthly meeting last night.

Miss Janis Wolfe, home economics instructor, and Miss Geraldine Devoe, continuation school teacher, served the dinner. Places were laid for President D. F. White, C. A. Ferguson and R. B. Stevenson, of the school board; Clerk-Treasurer Emmett J. Gaston, Superintendent C. S. McVay and R. W. Sample, member of last year's board.

At the board's session, which followed the banquet, Superintendent McVay was authorized to appoint substitutes for teachers who desire to enter normal school this spring. This will permit teachers, who are now employed under a special privilege, to secure the necessary credits before the fall term.

The board also discussed the matter of a caretaker at the Patterson Field dump. It is likely that the city council and the health board will be asked to co-operate with the school board in the employment of a dump-master.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—Postal receipts from 50 selected cities showed a substantial increase last February over the same month in 1925, the figures being $28,088,427 and $25,643, 947, respectively, the post office department announced today. The increase was 9.53 per cent.

Jacksonville, Florida, led in percentage increase with 47.77; Fort Worth, Texas, was second, 38.46 per cent; Akron, Ohio, third, 33.90 percent.

Eugene Larkins, 22, Injured When Truck Dashes Down Hill

Eugene Larkins, 22, driver for the Ohio Willite Paving & Surfacing company, was injured about the abdomen when he leaped from a runaway truck as he was descending the Lisbon street hill at noon today.

Larkins was enroute to the Willite plant near Patterson field with the truck. As the machine started down the hill, the brakes refused to hold. Larkins headed the truck into the curb and jumped. As he hit the ground, he struck a telephone pole.

He was taken to the City hospital where an examination of his injuries was made by Dr. W. G. McDade. He was later discharged from the hospital.

Sewers for Laura Avenue and Ephraim Street.

Acting upon the recommendation of Service-Safety Director John W. Moore, city solons last night authorized legislation for a $20,000 bond issue to meet the cost of the street improvement program which will be undertaken during 1926.

Moore pointed out that most of the funds from the gasoline and license tax must be used in liquidating notes for work completed last year. He declared that several streets were in need of improvement.

"The debt which was carried over for street improvement work last year is unfair to this administration," he said. "Early this year we urged the issuance of bonds to liquidate the outstanding debt for street work in order to leave new taxes available for the city's 1926 program."

No Revenue Reduction.

The proposed resurfacing of West Fourth street will cost the city about $7,000, while St. Clair avenue will mean an expense of $8,000, according to the engineer's figures, Moore said.

Moore declared that delinquent street assessments collected recently would more than make up for the bonds and that it would mean no reduction in the revenue for operating expenses. Council, by a unanimous vote, instructed the solicitor to prepare the legislation which will be considered at the next meeting.

Council debated the advisability of using asphalt on Fourth street, Solons Herrington and Farrall asserting that similar treatment has not proved successful in other cities. Herrington said that the old bricked street would not provide a firm foundation for asphalt. Farrall declared he had pictures and data from Steubenville and

Sedan Thought to Have Crashed Through Ice.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. James Phipps and their three children, Paul, 9, Hazel, 5, and Elmer, 3, who left Pelee Island Monday afternoon in a sedan to drive 18 miles over the ice to the mainland, are believed today to have crashed through the ice and drowned.

It is feared that Phipps, blinded by a driving snowstorm which came up shortly after he left the island, drove into an open space of water.

Provincial police and farmers on sleds and sleighs started a systematic search today, but little hope is held that the party will be found.

REVIEW-TRIBUNE'S STAR REPORTERS ON JOB WITH HUMOROUS "JINGLES"

Billy and Eddie Gorman.

Billy and Eddie Gorman, the singing reporters, are the fastest working newspapermen in East Liverpool. They arrived here yesterday and in a few hours were as familiar with local topics as the average citizen.

They write up the local news in song form, entitled "Jingles," and each humorous "Jingle" proves to be a song hit. The Gorman boys have served on the editorial staffs of various newspapers throughout the United States.

Billy and Eddie have very good singing voices and are proving one of the season's biggest hits at the Strand theater. They took up their duties on the Review-Tribune staff today and turned in the following "Jingles!"

Sir Oswald Mosley has no time for squawking,
For sweet Lady Mosley, it seems, does

Sir Oswald, in politics, argues for fair,
But he don't go home nights and growl

'Cause he has no chance to win arguments there.

NEGRO, SLAYER OF THREE, PAYS DEATH PENALTY FOR ASSAULT

LEXINGTON, Ky., Mar. 5.—Edward Harris, Negro, whose 17-minute trial on January 25 while a thousand national guardsmen protected him attracted nation-wide attention, was hanged in the county jail yard here this morning for criminal assault upon Mrs. Clarence Bryant, whose husband and two children he killed on the night of January 19.

Seventy guardsmen patrolled nearby streets as a precaution. There was no disorder. A hundred witnesses saw the hanging from inside the jail yard and as many more from roofs of nearby buildings.

Harris displayed great fear when, in the early dawn, he saw a group of civilians approaching his cell and cried out to Sheriff E. H. Fuller that a mob was after him.

"Can't you do something to keep them from hanging me?" he asked.

Informed that the men were only special deputies who would aid in his legal execution, he said "that's all right, then."

Mrs. Bryant still is in serious condition as a result of the attack.

Harris was to be buried in potter's field during the day, relatives refusing to claim the body.

ALLEGED "LOVE PIRATE" WINS

TOLEDO, March 5.—Dorothy Schreiber Lindsey, the alleged "love pirate" of Monroe, Mich., now a resident of Toledo, for the third time won out in defending the suit filed against her by Clara Starr, to collect $35,000 for alienating the affection of her husband, John Starr.

Dorothy is 21 and Starr 57.

SLAIN WOMAN'S KIN PROMISED COOPERATION BY PROSECUTOR

Special Investigators May be Employed at Troy.

PARLEY ARRANGED

Officials' Action in Death Mystery is Surprise.

TROY, March 5.—County officials here will co-operate with special investigators employed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake to clear the mystery surrounding the murder of their daughter, Mrs. Frances Drake Nesbitt, Special Prosecutor Alva B. Campbell announced today.

Campbell expected to confer with the parents today.

May Employ Cincinnati Man.

The prosecutor's announcement came somewhat as a surprise as he has previously refused outside assistance. While the parents had not definitely decided on what detective they would employ, a Cincinnati operative was said to be favored.

Officials here placed little credence in the report from Cambridge that a suspect was held there who might throw considerable light on the crime. They were of the belief that the man may be slightly deranged and that his talk of the murder was prompted by what he read.

Campbell said today he had not been informed of the finding of a "black bag" in front of the home of L. C. Shipman, attorney for Jacob Nesbitt, husband of the murdered woman, which was found to be stained inside with blood.

The bag was said to have been thrown in front of the Shipman home while Shipman and Nesbitt were discussing the case last night.

Citizens Raise Funds.

The special prosecutor said that while the investigation thus far has failed to reveal definite clews, "we be-

Salvation Army Plans Three-week Revival Campaign

Major Tyler, New York, and Ensign Samuel and Mrs. Rose Hepburn of Cleveland, will open a three-week series of revival services in the Salvation Army citadel on Sunday.

The services during the first week will be for young people. Twenty-seven teachers in the Sunday school and members of the East End and Beechwood outposts will assist. Musical numbers will be given by a chorus under the direction of Bandmaster Swan and Corps Secretary Trelevan.

Major Tyler will inspect the outposts in East End and Beechwod Sunday afternoon. Services will be held every evening with the exception of Saturday.

MUSCLE SHOALS VOTE ON MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—After a week's debate, the senate this afternoon agreed to vote at 3:30 o'clock Monday on the house resolution creating a congressional commission to negotiate a lease for the $150,000,000 Muscle Shoals project.

LOWEST PAID AMERICAN POTTER RECEIVES MORE WAGES THAN HIGHEST PAID EMPLOYE IN BRITISH CERAMIC INDUSTRY, SAYS LADY MOSLEY

Lowest paid laborer in American potteries is paid higher wages than the most skilled worker in the English ceramic industry, Lady Cynthia Mosley, British Socialist-Labor party worker, declared last night as she and her husband, Sir Oswald Mosley, left for Pittsburgh after inspecting two of East Liverpool's clay working plants.

After luncheon at the Country club the distinguished guests visited the electric porcelain plant of the R. Thomas & Sons. The party, which also included Secretary H. B. Barth of the Chamber of Commerce, and T. T. Jones, was in charge of G. Richard Thomas, vice president of the company.

"Oh, I think you have the most marvelous plants here," said Lady Cynthia. "Your workmen are such a happy lot and everyone seems to be prosperous, just the opposite from the workers of England. I have so enjoyed my stay in East Liverpool and trust that I may return here on my next visit to America."

The visitors were shown through the Edgar Thomson steel plant at Braddock following their arrival in Pittsburgh last night. At 11 o'clock they left Pittsburgh for Niagara Falls, where they will spend today. From Niagara Falls they go to Ottawa and Montreal, Canada, where they will visit before returning to England via New York on March 13.

Guests at Betz' Home.

During their stay in East Liverpool Lady Cynthia and Sir Oswald were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Betz, Thompson avenue. They took breakfast at the Betz' home, and at 10 o'clock went to Newell where they inspected the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, through the courtesy of J. M. Wells, manager. Later they visited the Laughlin company's sample room at the No. 4 plant, accompanied by Marcus and Charles Aaron, Pittsburgh, president and vice-president, respectively, of the company. Barth and Jones also accompanied the visitors during the forenoon.

The luncheon at the Country club, given by the Chamber of Commerce, was attended by Presiednt John T. Wood of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters; Marcus and Charles Aaron and J. M. Wells of the Homer Laughlin company; Will T. Blake, manager of The Potters' Herald; T. T. Jones, R. L. E. Chambers, Joseph Betz and H. B. Barth, president and secretary, respectively, of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Stand" for Parliament Places.

After the trip through the Thomas plant, Lady Mosley was taken to the Betz home where she rested until train time.

"This traveling is such a tiresome task," she explained. "You see we have been 'on the go' ever since we arrived in New York about seven weeks ago and we are tiring easily."

Marcus and Charles Aaron, who came to East Liverpool yesterday to meet the two visitors, returned to Pittsburgh with them.

Lady Mosley and her husband will be Socialist-Labor candidates for parliament in the next election in England. Lady Cynthia "standing" for the office from Stoke-on-Trent, a pottery district, and Sir Oswald being the aspirant from the Birmingham district.

"You see in England we 'stand' for election," laughed Lady Cynthia. "In America, I understand, your candidates 'run' for office. This expression seems so queer to us."

Sir Oswald was in parliament until 1924. In the election that year, he retired from the district he had been serving and went to the Birmingham district as the Socialist-Labor candidate, opposing Nevith Chamberlain, Conservative party candidate and former lord mayor of Birmingham. In the election 30,000 votes were cast and Sir Oswald lost by 70 votes. He will oppose Chamberlain at the next election.

Oswald Frowns on Titles.

Sir Oswald holds no title, but he will become a baron upon the death of his father, Sir Oswald, Sr.

"I hope by that time that all titles will have been dropped in England," he said. "The nobility are realizing more and more that titles mean nothing."

If Lady Cynthia and her husband are successful in their campaigns for office, it will be the first time in the history of the English law-making body that husband and wife have been members.

"We hope you win—we will vote for you," remarked Marcus Aaron during a discussion at the Country club yesterday.

"We will espouse the cause of the laboring men if we are elected," said Lady Cynthia. "You people in America don't realize the terrible conditions under which the English worker exists. The price of food, clothing and everything in England has its bearing in politics and the only hope of relief for the English worker is through the Socialist-Labor party."

DENVER, Colo.—As a reward for turning in a victory over Taro Miyako, world's champion jiu jitsu expert, here several week's ago, Joe (Toots) Mondt, Colorado's cowhand heavyweight wrestler, has been tendered an offer to tour Japan under the auspices of a syndicate of Japanese sportsmen headed by Professor Higama, famed exponent in the art in the Orient.

Higama, who at present is visiting in Honolulu, has communicated terms to Mondt concerning the proposed invasion and Toots has announced he is giving the matter favorable consideration. Should he make the trip Mondt will be the first American to visit Japan in quest of jiu jitsu honors.

Mondt has made a specialty of jiu jitsu and the jack-knife scissors hold and defeated Miyake in a sensational match here. His home is in Greeley and he is a product of the Colorado range.

Among the "dangers" for autoists in Egypt, recently pointed out, is that long stretches of road parallel canals, which have no safeguard to prevent the travelers from falling in.

Sigmund Romberg Wrote Score of "Student Prince"

The score of "The Student Prince" which comes to the Ceramic theatre in the near future, written by the young musical genius Sigmund Romberg, is most unusual, as in addition to the charming melodic effects, is the composer has evolved what may be called "music drama."

Romberg has given us a new and appealing form of musical art. He has not only adopted the Wagnerian system of leit motifs for character situation and blending of effect but he has made use of an alternation of songs and words which make "The Student Prince' music drama in a new and popular sense.

At the third set climax when Prince Karl Franz determines to return to Heidelberg and his little love of student days, Kathie, the Prince signs those lines which deal with longing, with the memories of his companions and his sweetheart but speaks thru the music those lines which deal with the highly dramatic. For instance, the last lines in the third act, "I will return to Heidelberg" are spoken through the music and following the lines that are sung come with the highest possible dramatic effect.

Site of Old Market Place Discovered In London Sector

LONDON—The first definite clue as to the site of the forum or market place of Roman London, which at one time supported a population of 100,000, has come to light during excavations in connection with rebuilding work in the city district of London.

Three piers of what was an arcade and a section of outer wall were found 15 feet below the surface, and experts confirm that they are part of the old forum.

The position of the forum will in future be marked by Roman tiles.

Councilmen, Attention!

The need of better water pressure for fire fighting purposes was driven home in a costly manner Wednesday night, when the home of Leonard Hobbs, Observation street, was burned to the ground.

Approximately $6,000 loss, partly covered by insurance, was suffered by the owner of the property, because Fire Chief Thomas Bryan and his co-workers were handicapped by the low pressure in a four-inch water main on Lisbon street. And the corroded condition of the pipe did not help the situation.

Under ordinary conditions, the Hobbs property should have been saved. The blaze, starting from paper burned in an effort to thaw a frozen faucet on the outside of the dwelling, was soon beyond control when bucket brigades as well as firemen found it impossible to obtain enough water to drown a cat.

And the Hobbs fire is not the first to direct attention to the condition of Lisbon, West Ninth, Division and even Eighth street mains. About five years ago, another house in the district was destroyed because there was no water with which to fight the fire.

Fire Chief Bryan has often recommended the installation of new water mains in West End.

How about it, councilmen!

Music

"Music," says the Rev. Kenneth S. Guthrie, of New York, in a recent sermon, "is the only universal language. It subdues and melts the hearts even of the savage animals, and by this power unites or harmonizes us with all of creation.

"Music is a religious art. It is a mediator between earth and heaven, between the spiritual and the sensual. As a mediator, music is a divine language, a sacred tongue of God.

"Music melts the heart of man, imparting noble hints, kindling love, moving us with eloquence. Music consecrates all man's abilities. A fine anthem arouses devotion better than a logical discourse.

"Music transfigures, exalts joy, softens pain, strengthens devotion. It is a means of inspiration. It refreshes in dance music, opera music, martial strains, lullabies, nocturnes and requiems. It strengthens in love songs, bugle calls, choral symphonies, pastoral echoes, magic strains and glorious echoes. Music ennobled by an idea becomes high poesy.

"What, then, is music's secret purpose? I should say that even prayer was not a sufficiently wide panorama of music's possibilities. It must be preparation for living completely, blissfully, eternally. It is God Himself heard through the ear. Music then is the audible God, the leader of the world orchestra, uniting all the voices of past, present and future."

Some of the music we hear nowadays, you may say, does not fit into this rhapsody. Well, then, maybe some of what we hear is not music. But good music is never far to seek, and always repays the quest.

The "Lame Duck" Amendment

If congress does its duty, the house will promptly follow the example of the senate in adopting the resolution to make presidential and congressional terms begin on the first of the year after election.

There may have been good reasons in pioneer days for delaying presidential inauguration four months after election, and the meeting of the new congress more than a year. But with modern means of communication and transportation, the system is absurd.

It delays governmental action on the important matters which national elections are supposed to decide. It enables "lame duck" law-makers to continue functioning along old lines after they have been repudiated. No private business would think of allowing an employe to continue in his position, carrying out his accustomed policy, for many months after he had been told his services were no longer required.

Almost every thinking citizen agrees about this. The senate has voted for the proposed change by the overwhelming majority of 73 to 2. There is opposition to the reform in the house for political reasons. Yet the house must agree sooner or later, and might as well do so now.

It means another amendment to the constitution if the states approve. No level-headed citizen need worry on that account, since it overthrows nothing fundamental, but is merely a technical correction of a bit of governmental mechanism not functioning properly.

Working For Unity

At least one foreign lecturer is touring this country without seeking personal profit or advantage. Sir Henry Lunn, retired head of a famous English tourist agency, is paying his own way for the privilege of delivering a message.

That message is unity and peace. He wants concord among the nations and among the churches. The former he seeks through the league of nations. For the latter, he seems to have in mind some sort of league of churches.

Sir Henry is sincere, at any rate. He has proved that by giving his fortune to establish a foundation for the promotion of his work.

But he has tackled two mighty big jobs.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Indentured Children.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The United States Children's Bureau has just issued a report setting forth the results of a study made of children indentured by the Wisconsin State public school. Wisconsin is only one of a number of states having indenture laws, and for this reason it is believed that such a report will be of widespread interest.

The Wisconsin state public school was established under a law passed in 1885. This school, like similar institutions for dependent and neglected children in other states, has combined in practice three functions. These are to provide temporary care for dependent and neglected children pending replacement in family homes; to act as a placing agency, finding homes for children and supervising their care; and to provide, for longer or shorter periods, custodial care for children who can not be placed successfully. These include children for whose care there is no existing institution in the state and children who should be cared for in the institution for the feebleminded but who can not be received because of lack of accommodations.

Children are received by the school only on commitment through the county court or the juvenile court. The attention of the courts is drawn to the cases of children, whom it is felt should become the wards of the state, through various agencies. In some counties it is customary for all applications to be handled by the county poor commissioner who fills out the complaint blank and brings the case to the attention of the court. In other counties cases are also brought before the court by private agencies and individuals who may be interested in a particular child. A large percentage of cases are reported by county, city or village officials, and the police, or school authorities.

Parents Evade Responsibilities.

It was found during the recent survey that it has been a comparatively simple matter for parents to give their children into the care of the state. The unmarried mother might thus dispose of her baby within a few days of its birth. There is the record of a case of a divorced mother who desired to remarry. Her prospective second husband knew that she had a daughter, but was unaware of the existence of a son. She, therefore, lost no time in committing this boy as soon as she heard from the school agent that a home had been found for him.

The survey made by the children's bureau in co-operation with the juvenile division of the Wisconsin State Board of Control, brought to light many interesting things. Chief among these was the necessity for a revision of the laws pertaining to child welfare.

One of the most serious handicaps to placing these children properly has been the fact that there have not been enough field agents available. Since 1920 there have been only two, and it has been of course impossible for them to conduct more than a superficial inquiry into the desirability of homes in which children are indentured. Also supervision of the children after placement has been very limited.

The study revealed that in many cases children were placed in homes totally incompatible with their temperaments or needs. There was the case of a boy who apparently disliked small children. He was placed with a foster mother who wished to have some one who would look after her two small sons. One day the foster father discovered the boy holding a double-edged ax over the older child's head and threatening to cut his head in two if he did not behave. Another time he had nearly smothered the baby in bedclothes to stop its crying when the mother came in. He was of course returned to the school. Later when placed in a home where there were no other children he got along very well.

A girl who had been in a home for two years was obliged to nurse her foster mother during a long illness. She was under a severe strain during all this time, and when the woman died she was obliged to walk about a mile at 1 o'clock in the morning to summon the help of the nearest neighbor. She appeared to have suffered the hallucination that her foster mother's "form" followed her all the way. She suffered a serious breakdown and was later confined in a hospital for the insane for eight months suffering from depressive insanity.

Fit Child To the Home.

It is believed that the fitting of the child to the home is one of the most important factors in the task of placing dependent children. Persons in whose homes such children are indentured should be furnished with a complete history of the conditions in their parental homes. Information should also be furnished as to any hereditary mental and physical traits. This would aid them in an understanding of the children, and in controlling them.

The children selected for the study by the Children's Bureau agents were a group of boys and girls indentured by the Wisconsin state public school for the first time during the five-year period 1913-1917. Five hundred and forty indenture homes were visited. Of this number only 42 per cent were rated as high grade. Forty-four per cent were considered satisfactory, while 48 per cent—or nearly half—were actually detrimental.

Some of the conditions regarded as detrimental were as follows: Physical condition of child neglected; deprived of schooling; cruelty; too much work; home filthy; morals of home questionable and family ignorant and incompetent.

Some of these children have had a wide variety of experience. One child was in three detrimental homes and two graded as satisfactory; another in two high grade homes, two satisfactory and one detrimental. Still another had been in four satisfactory homes, two detrimental and one not reported.

The director of the juvenile department of the state board of control has recently reported to the Children's Bureau stating that some changes have already been made in this work and that others are contemplated. One of the first matters to be given consideration was that of child placing. Standards are to be developed and it is understood that outstanding points will be that the child and his family must be studied before placement; that the proposed foster home must be carefully investigated before placement, and that there must be adequate supervision after placement.

In the last two years every child in an indenture home has been visited several times and those found in unsatisfactory homes have been replaced. A trained physician is employed on full time at the school and each child is given careful physical attention. Mental tests are given each child before placement and no feebleminded child is placed. Adoptions are not approved until the child has been in the foster home for at least six months.

Wisconsin is a rural state and there are therefore few social agencies in most of the counties. The juvenile department and the state conference of social work are making an effort to arouse the social consciousness of the people throughout the state with the hope that more social agencies will develop having as their purposes the conservation of the family, the enforcement of laws, and close attention to recreation.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 5.—Thoughts while strolling: Old coachmen who call autos "tinpots." And a real duke who isn't broke. A fine exhibit for a museum. C. D. Gibson and his Mid-Victorian collar. Whatever became of cream-colored polo coats?

The invessant blur of faces. John Drew in a speckled shirt. Cantor Rosenblatt, with the patriarchal whiskers, who sings in vaudeville. Three radio shops in a row. Sign: "Wanted—Man to play lion in vaudeville act." Old men with derby brims turned down. And mumbling.

Orange drink stands getting ready for summer. Fried oysters and cold slaw. A blowzy woman shouts across the street: "Her old man's out of work and a baby coming!" And around the corner the Broadway glitter. Rhinestone heels sparkling in a dancing dusk.

The screech of souvenir shop pianos. Bawling newsies. The shimmer of sky-spangled signs. Spurts of lights from candy, jewel and quick photo shops. Exploding tires. The street car clattery—bang. Syncopated madness. Double jointed delirium.

A few braying saxophones. Revolving doors spinning like tops. The football rush to telephone booths. There goes Arthur Hopkins. Looks like a red-cheeked country boy. Nervy window placard: "We're not padlocked yet. Come on in." And they're going in.

Clerks pulling down shades. To go to dark brown houses. The Greek shoe shine proprietor with the looped-up mustache in Times Square. And huge diamond stud. The curb loafers in front of the Astor. An athlete in white running pants. The big Shepherd dog that goes unmuzzled and unleashed.

Soda fountain heralds a Michael Arlen sundae. Price 30 cents. A taxi full of midgets. Two puffing cigars. The usual lively grop in front of the N. V. A. Bus barkers begin the evening medley. A few rain drops fall. Time to go home.

In 14th street is an old movie nickelodeon, criss-crossed with flaming banners and posters, where Mary Pickford was first shown on the screen. In those days "America's Sweetheart" was known as the Biograph Blonde and worked for $5 a day—studio carfare extra. Also in those days Blanche Sweet was known as Daphne Wayne, Mabel Normand was Muriel Fortescue and Mack Sennett was labeled Walter Terry.

The dice rooms in the Longacre section offer escorts for winning players who fear stick-up men. Trade depends much upon their protection, and it is said no patron has ever been robbed in one of the gambling parlors. The underworld knows it means sure death to rob a winner.

The psychology of salesmanship is often amusing. I went into a Madison Avenue shop for a pair of bedroom slippers. The salesman displayed a furlined pair which he said were "genuine sheepskin." He kept repeating they were "genuine sheepskin." Now I wouldn't know the difference if they had been lizard or nannygoat skin, but I came away tremendously impressed with the idea I had a pair of "genuine sheepskin" slippers. Nor would I have known differently had they been lined with caterpillar fuzz.

In a like manner we ask the waiter if the soup, fish or meat is good, knowing full well he will say it is excellent. Somehow we are comforted by that assurance, realizing he has perhaps had dinner at home before he came on duty.

Feet Are as Variedas Faces

The Bunion

Notice the shape of the great toe. See how it is thrown inward at the end and outward at the joint. The true articulation is destroyed at the junction of the metatarsal bones—inflammation results. It is at this joint that the joint "bleeds" or the lubrication fluid oozes out, in time to harden and produce the dreaded bunion.

What should be done about this bunion? An orthopedic surgeon might advise an operation. A shoe salesman might recommend a change of footwear and back up his ideals with customers whom he has relieved without operations. Both opinions must be accepted. The best idea, of course, is to wear shoes with "toe room" and avoid bunions.

Bendheim's salespeople have studied feet; they know feet; they know how to fit shoes so that you may enjoy complete comfort and resulting better general health.

How New Magic of ARIUM—Radium in Tablets—Without Drugs—Brings Amazing and Lasting Relief From Middle Age Ailments and Increases Vital Force.

"$5,000.00 REWARD IF IT FAILS"

No longer need men nearing or past the prime of life put up with those painful and embarrassing conditions brought on by overworked, sluggish kidneys, bladder weakness and prostate troubles, with their distressing symptoms of lame back, rheumatic twinges, dizziness, head pains, sour stomach, frequent getting up nights, nervous weakness and lack of VITAL FORCE. By getting into the system the marvelous restorative radium power supplied by ARIUM, there is at once produced a vitalizing, internal exercise of the glands and organs to renew their proper, normal youthful action, just as Nature intended.

Amazing testimony of physicians and users gives convincing proof of the remarkable power of ARIUM to restore health and strength to the sick and afflicted. A multitude of alarming symptoms quickly disappear. You see and feel a truly startling improvement in yourself each day. "ARIUM is the only thing that has ever done me any good," says J. E. Brown of San Francisco. "I am glad I found this greatest of all remedies," writes L. L. Stransky of Elberon, Iowa. "I had irritation of the prostate gland but now feel all right," says T. M. Houlihan of North Dakota. "No more backaches, no more pain; strength in body and nerves, good appetite; sleep so much better; get up fresh in the morning" is the report of D. Folse, Patterson, La.

The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM, guarantees successful and satisfactory results from its progressive use in every case or money refunded, and offers $5,000.00 Reward if it fails to prove that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from good druggists.

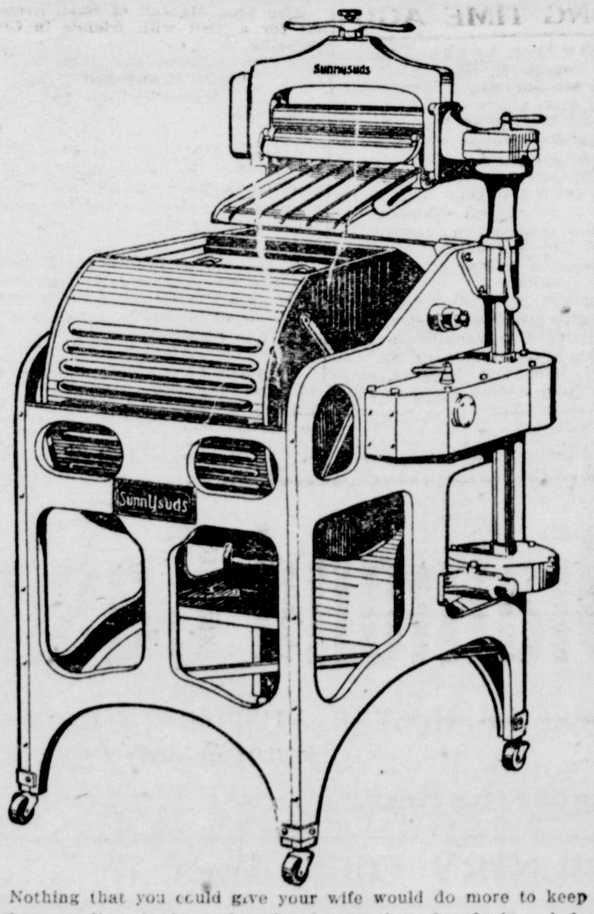
Sunny Suds ELECTRIC WASHERS



Nothing that you could gave your wife would do more to keep her from needless drudgery, lengthen her youth, and make her whole life more enjoyable, than a Sunnysuds Electric Washer.

Washing has always been the most drudging, toilsome task in home-keeping. Now it is made easy and pleasant, with a Sunnysuds.

This remarkable machine is easily within your means. The first deposit is small. The payments, once each month, are so easy that no wife or mother should be forced to do without this amazing help.

The Sunnysuds, at its very moderate price, is established as one of the finest electric washers that money can buy, at any price. This has been made possible by scientifically simplified design. For instance, there is no separate, expensive cabinet. There are no belts, chains or springs. There's nothing to tinker with—nothing to get out of order. Materials are the best that money can buy, and the workmanship is of the highest character.

The standard capacity tub is built of heavy, pure copper. It not only gives the cleansing action of the washboard, without its harmful effects; but it also forces the water and suds through the meshes of the cloth—a twofold cleansing action.
Other advantages are so numerous, and so important, that you should never be satisfied with less—particularly when they can all be had at a cost so low, and on terms so easy.

Open sores on leg for more than year

Resinol healed in few weeks

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 24:—"I have been troubled with running sores on my leg for a year or more and all the medical attention and treatments I tried did no good. One day I saw an advertisement for Resinol Ointment in the newspaper and I bought a jar of it. In less than three weeks my sores healed up and have been well ever since. As my wife has been sick for nearly a year and had bed sores we induced her to try this salve and the sores are healing splendidly. I have bought several jars of it and believe me it will always be on the shelf in my bath room." (Signed) Alfred E. Baur, 1014 Monroe St.

TWO ACCUSED IN KIRBY JURY INDICTMENTS

Four Counts of Alleged Tampering are Returned.

Jesse E. Ladow and Benjamin Williamson Face Charges.

CLEVELAND, March 5.—Four more indictments in the investigation of alleged tampering with Josiah Kirby juries were returned by the federal grand jury here today. Two were against Jesse E. Ladow, Mansfield attorney, and two against Benjamin Williamson, Cleveland, former newspaperman and Kirby company employe.

There are two indictments already against Williamson and one against Ladow. Today's indictments bring the total up to 11.

Kirby was formerly president of the Cleveland Discount company.

The indictments against Ladow and Williamson contained two counts each, approaching tentative jurors and obstructing justice. Ladow is alleged to have caused James Donovan, Mansfield, to approach Gustave Baer, at Mansfield, and H. D. Smart, at Galion, while the indictments against Williamson alleged he caused Attorney William R. Irvin, Akron, to approach Harry G. Ream and Latham Conger, both of Akron.

Both Donovan and Irvin have pleaded guilty to indictments returned by the grand jury charging tampering, and it was upon their information given to the jurors after being indicted that resulted in today's returns.

Girl Leaps From Window As Enemy Fires At Her

NEW YORK, March 5.—Lucille Stewart, 21 and pretty, leaped from the rear window of her third floor apartment today "because she was afraid she'd be murdered."

She was taken to a hospital, where she is suffering from a bullet wound in the right arm, multiple contusions and lacerations about the head and body.

She told police she had remonstrated with a man "Barney" against the noise he was making in her apartment. "Barney," she said, drew a pistol and fired a shot at her. She ran to a window and jumped.

Police began looking for "Barney."

FEARLESS, IMPARTIAL ENFORCEMENT OF ALL TRAFFIC LAWS IS URGED

National Conference on Safety is Warned Against Undue Clemency to Offenders.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Fearless, impartial enforcement of traffic laws without regard to business, social, or political standing of offenders, was urged in the report of the committee on enforcement of the national conference on street and highway safety, made public today.

"The courts have a large responsibility," the report said.

"It is urged that the public indicate its belief in the necessity for even-handed treatment of violators and register its disapproval of any other course.

"Undue clemency to offenders, based on business or social standing, or pressure brought to bear by persons of influence will bring the courts into disrepute."

Judge William McAdoo, of New York, chairman of the committee, urged that laws be enacted fixing minimum penalties for the graver offenses. He held that such a move would fortify the courts and discourage the exercise of pressure to defeat justice."

Major Offenses Classed.

Major offenses were classified as reckless driving, operating automobiles while intoxicated and evading identification in accidents involving personal injury.

"Fines are the only feasible punishment for small offenders," McAdoo said. "They have a deterring effect on repetition of the offenses, however, if materially increased with each subsequent violation.

"Imprisonment is a much stronger deterrent.

"The committee recommends more frequent use of imprisonment for serious offenses, and mandatory imprisonment for a second conviction for driving while intoxicated."

Revocation or suspension of automobile licenses were recommended in serious offenses. The committee suggested that the authority to revoke licenses be placed in the hands of a municipal motor vehicle administrator. Mandatory suspension was recommended for cases of driving while intoxicated and for "hit and run" drivers.

Disapproves Fee System.

"The committee strongly disapproves the fee system," the report said.

"It is held that neither the traffic officer nor the court should receive any part of the proceeds of money collected from traffic convictions."

Special vigor should be applied to punishment of vehicle operators violating provisions of the traffic laws pertaining to pedestrians, according to the report. Prosecution of offending pedestrians was also suggested. Pedestrians were said to be involved in more than half the motor accidents.

DANCERS ENTER CONTEST HERE

File Names for Ceramic Theatre Charleston Competition.

Entries for the Charleston contest which will be conducted at the Ceramic theatre, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in connection with the showing of the Paramount picture, "Dancing Mothers," began to pour in today.

Prizes of $50, $15 and $10 will be awarded the first, second and third place winners. Elimination contests will take place at the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday matinees and the Monday and Tuesday evening performances, with the finals scheduled for Wednesday night.

First stage—Begin with your feet together and your toes pointing outwardly.

On the first count, spread the heels apart so that the toes come together. Then bring your feet back to the original position. That's all. Try it.

(B) On the count of 1, twist the heels outwardly at the same time lifting the right foot from the floor.

(C) On the count of 2, bring the heels together again so that the toes are turned outwardly.

Remember that when you lift the right foot from the floor, the heel of the right foot should be turned outwardly and the toes in.

On the second count bring the feet together.

Fourth stage—This is a combination of the second and third stages. Begin as in beginning. On the first count twist heels outward and the toes inward at the same time lift the right foot. On the third count turn the heels left foot from the floor. On the fourth count back to beginning.

The fourth stage is really the Charleston movement.

Practice it for about 15 minutes. It's simple.

risks. This nation was interested when gas bombs first appeared in the big war. It will not be pleasant to hear of employers fighting a strike, legal in character, using gas bombs against their workers, and turning heavy streams of cold water on women and children when tear gas failed to do the work.

NOW the workers have bought 2,000 gas masks to be ready for the next attack, which is not pleasant reading in this prosperous republic. We are doing pretty well here: industrialists are not exactly starving to death. They should warn those Passaic idiots against upsetting the apple cart. Employers have considerably more to lose than employes in the game of violence.

She wrote to her husband:

"Forgive me, I could not help it. I am weak. My last wish, let me rest with the babies. Your loving wife, Rose.'

There was no coal in the house, nothing to eat. The husband was out looking for work, and it was hard to nurse the baby with so little good food. Rose's sister says "She loved her husband and children. The struggle must have been too much for her when she was so weak."

That story may comfort those that bought Hudson Motor at 123 and sold yesterday at 106.

SUSPECT IN DOUBLE KILLING IN FARM HOME UNMOVED DURING MORGUE VISIT

STEUBENVILLE, March 5.—Although John Cook, Negro suspect, held in connection with the double murder of Robert Herron and his sister, Nettie, whose bodies were found in their isolated home, near here, Wednesday, stoutly denies any knowledge of the crime, officials today were confident they have the right man.

Witnesses, they said, have identified Cook as a former farm hand employed by the Herrons and have stated they saw him in the neighborhood during the last few days. The Negro told officers when first taken in custody that he had not been near the place for two years.

Cook was unshaken by an hour spent alone with the bodies of the victims in a dimly lighted morgue near midnight. Being returned to jail, he slept calmly until aroused for breakfast.

The bodies of the aged man and his sister were found after they had been dead 12 hours. The woman's body hung suspended by a rope from a rafter in the house. The man had been killed by a blow on the head with a sharp instrument, probably an axe.

A cap which the Negro confessed belonged to him and which was stained a dark red, has been sent to Pittsburgh for examination by a chemist to determine whether the stain is blood.

MAN, AGED 83, WILL FIDDLE

Harry Levi Hamilton Enters Review-Tribune Contest.

An 88-year-old man today entered the Review-Tribune's old time fiddlers' contest. He is Harry Levi Hamilton, Ohio avenue, East End, and is the oldest of the 12 who have qualified.

Another contestant, who filed today for the tournament which will be held in the American theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, is Emmett Willison, 1900 Michigan avenue.

Silver loving cup, furnished by Henry Ford, through the Beers-Hanks Motor company, Ford dealers for the winner in the contest, is on display in the show window of the Rubin jewelry store, Washington street. The winner will also be given a theatrical engagement by Manager Bernard Smith of the American and Strand theatres.

All fiddlers must be 50 years of age and over. Residents within a radius of 20 miles of East Liverpool are eligible to enter the contest.

COUNTESS VERA WINS HER FIGHT

NEW YORK, March 5.—Vera, countess of Cathcart today won her battle in court to escape immediate deportation by the immigration authorities.

Federal Judge William Bondy, after hearing arguments on a writ of habeas corpus which was to determine whether she was to stay in this country under the protectorate of the courts or be excluded under the immigration authorities' ruling, sustained the writ.

Lowest Paid Potter

flesh colored stockings, tan oxfords and a gray felt hat, is about 27 years old. She has bobbed hair. Her marriage to Sir Oswald occurred about six years ago.

During the war, Lady Cynthia was employed as a clerk in the war department office in London. She had many thrilling experiences during German air raids on the city.

"England is hoping and praying that there never will be another war," she said. "Organizations have sprung up everywhere to work for the establishment of peace, which we believe will come through the league of nations. England will never again war during the present generation and our hope is that the great country of America will join in a move to establish permanent peace."

Tours Steel Mills.

PITTSBURGH, March 5. — Lady Cynthia of England, daughter of the late Lord Curzon, came to town yesterday, talked about some things, smiled about others and left for Niagara Falls after she had toured the steel mills.

Lady Cynthia has been in this country for two months. This is her first visit to America and she is accompanied by her husband, Sir Oswald Mosley.

"How is everything? Why, everything is fine, everything is wonderful," she said. "Our trip is certainly a success."

"Your trip, then, is a decided contrast to that of Vera, Countess of Cathcart?" she was asked.

Smiles at Mention of Vera.

"Ah—well,"—and that was all. Lady Cynthia smiled. Her husband, Sir Oswald chuckled heartily. But there was no answer to the suggested comparison with the experiences of her countrywoman who was held up at Ellis Island for "admitted moral turnitude."

No answer that is, unless one wants to interpret Lady Cynthia's smile as one that said, "Well, perhaps the countess has been a bad little girl but it is not my intention to say yes or no."

She was not inclined to be critical in other respects. American girls are enterprising, she said, and quick and hospitable, and in the potterv industry America is so far ahead of England.

"But these train rides, they're so exhausting. There are so many stops. One does get tired."

Lady Cynthia doesn't miss her tea. "Why, I'm getting tea in America that is as good as we drink at home. And your milk. It's wonderful. That's one of my weaknesses—milk, and I can appreciate it fully in your country. I must prefer milk to beer, don't you?

Misses Children.

"I do miss my two children, though. That's the only reason I'd like to be back home."

Sir Oswald has become reconciled to the attention being paid his wife in America. "She's half-American, you know, and, besides, I've had my share. Everybody here rallies 'round her'."

They arrived yesterday afternoon from East Liverpool, O. They rode in a day coach on a local train, escorted by Marcus Aaron, president of the board of education of Pittsburgh public schools, and his brother, Charles Aaron. The titled visitors were conducted through the Edgar Thomson steel mills at Braddock by Dr. W. J. Van Essen, county chairman of the Socialist party in Allegheny, and Roland McCrady, president of the Labor bank of Pittsburgh.

Lady Cynthia and Sir Oswald left at 11 p. m. for Buffalo. They will sail for England on March 13.

Comedy at American Theatre is His Best Offering.

So much has been said of the genius of Charlie Chaplin, celebrated screen comedian, and his early discovery, that it may not come amiss to relate, as from one who has been close to him, something concerning his discovery.

As a matter of absolute fact, Charlie Chaplin was discovered by the children of all the world. He was not broke when he entered motion pictures—a young man just over 20 years old. Instead, he had several thousand dollars, a considerable sum for a young actor. Besides, he had been well known in England and America as a juvenile comedian for several years. It is well to bear in mind that he was recognized by shrewd theatrical men at that early age.

Another fact, not generally known—Chaplin was the biggest man on the comedy lot from the time he made his first comedy. Mack Swain, the giant comedian, called the "funniest villain" for his portrayal of Big Jim McKay in "The Gold Rush," the new Chaplin super-comedy, was one of the first men to appear with Chaplin in that seemingly long-ago period.

From no less authority than Swain comes the statement that Charlie Chaplin, from the very first day, divined and went beyond what was expected of him. Within a short time from his entry into pictures, directors complained to the powers-that-be that Chaplin wanted his own way and would not "take direction." It was great talent trying to assert itself, to climb out of the embryo into the uniform of the greatest actor in the world. He was conscious of ability in his soul, as great talent ever is.

Charlie's greatest problem in his early picture days was his struggle with the comedy makers to allow him to portray his parts and ideas as he felt them. He fought to wear the baggy trousers and the battered hat. He wanted from the first to instill ideas, humor characterization into his work. When, after much effort, he was allowed to do this he found himself—and then the children found him. They soon greeted him as the crowned King of Laughter. And within 18 months he was world-famous—and earning a million a year.

That Charlie Chaplin was born to be a great actor is obvious—and no one man "discovered" him at all. He first discovered himself, and the children responded. The highbrows came later—as they always do.

"The Gold Rush," his latest picture, is now being shown at the American theatre. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock a special school children's show will be given. Any child using the coupon printed in another column of the Review-Tribune will be admitted for 10 cents. Otherwise the admission will be 15 cents.

Council Program

Discuss Surfacing Job.

Moore declared that no defects have shown in the Fifth or Jefferson street improvement, both of which were resurfacing jobs. Farrall stated that he was not opposed to asphalt or Willite, provided he was sure that such streets would hold up under heavy traffic.

The solons voted to discuss the type of improvement to be used on Fourth street at the next meeting.

Resolutions for the improvement of Avondale street from Bank to St. Clair avenue was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. An ordinance authorizing the service-safety director to advertise for bids for the leasing of a piece of city property near the state line for a filling station was also adopted on three readings.

A communication was received from the board of health requesting the construction of a sanitary sewer on Ephraim street and Laura avenue. Clerk Shone reported that petitions for this improvement were on file and council instructed the solicitor to prepare the necessary legislation.

Protests Street Sign Erection.

Council split over the reduction of street improvement assessments levied against a vacant lot at the corner of Minerva and Cadmus streets, owned by Louise Rigot estate. Attorney G. Y. Travis asserted that the assessments amounted to $840 and that the lot had failed to bring $800 when it was offered for sale. Councilman Farrall asserted that reduction of the assessment on the lot would be establishing a precedent and that he would give $800 for the lot. With Solon Farrall dissenting, council voted to cut the assessment to one-third of the valuation of the lot which is the maximum allowed by law.

Director Moore said that the opening up of a road through the C. V. Beatty property, to provide an outlet for residents of Claybourne avenue, would cost between $1,200 and $2,000, which would include a bridge across Carpenter's run. Council will view the property before their next meeting.

Mrs. Rachel Loomis appeared before council to protest against the erection of a sign in front of her sixth street building, occupied by the Western Union Telegraph company.

The sign was recently blown down during a wind storm, demolishing a glass in the window. The solons voted to refer the matter to the street committee, who will search for a law said to prohibit the erection of signs above sidewalks in the downtown district.

Retain Council in Damage Case.

An ordinance for the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement of Monroe, McKinnon and Cadmus streets, Rural lane and Broadway was passed on three readings.

Service-Safety Director Moore announced that he was ready to move the hoss cart from the Klondyke fire station to Pleasant Heights as soon as the people of the hilltop district provide a suitable place to house the vehicle. Council clothed the director with power to move the equipment.

Solicitor Hoover was instructed to retain ex-Solicitor Harry Brokaw to assist him in the damage case brought by the Second Presbyterian church against the city for damages to the church done during a rainstorm on June 28, 1924. Should the church be successful in their claim for damages, Hoover pointed out, other actions would be filed against the city by East End property owners.

The service-safety director was authorized to seek bids for the replacement of baffles in the two-stoker boilers at the municipal water works plant, East End. Cost of the improvement has been estimated at $1,500.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. — Following yesterday's sensational closing recovery in stock prices, due in large measure to bankers' and brokerage underwriting houses' support, it was expected that a good volume of selling orders would find their way into the market today. After a strong opening, in which the speculative leaders moved up and a good measure of the early gains were wiped out.

The railroad utility, and oil stocks made the most steady progress in the upward direction in this period. For the first time in a week or more, traders in the financial district renewed their discussion of possible mergers of oil and utility companies, and it was reliably reported that Tide Water and associated oil companies would from a new giant western oil corporation. Simms, Kelly, General Petroleum, Sinclair, Pan American and other active in dependent oils moved upward a point or more in active trading, while Standard Oils in all markets were firm.

Turn In Nesbitt Case

However, he did not discuss the nature of the progress.

A committee of nine prominent Troy citizens today began a campaign to raise funds for the employment of a special investigator for the Drakes. An organization meeting was held last night and the committee began work this morning.

Spokesmen for the committee said that sufficient funds would be raised to keep the investigation open until the crime has been solved or until it has been definitely determined that it is an unsolvable mystery.

Investigators were busy today checking the statements of a woman, neighbor of the Nesbitts, who said that on February 19, the day of the murder, she twice saw a man enter and leave the Nesbitt home. The first time she noticed the man, she said, was about 2 p. m. and again about dusk.

She did not know the man, she said, and did not know whether she could identify him.

Strong Vaudeville Bill is Presented At Strand Theatre

Strong vaudeville bill opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Strand theatre. Four sterling acts, headed by the Six Rocketts, who recently appeared as one of the feature attractions at the Keith Palace in Cleveland, make up the program.

Overholt and Young, big time performers of years standing, put over a clever turn which included song selections by both and exceptional dancing by the male member of the team.

Judge Fred H. Wolf Passes on Number of Cases.

Practically every appeal case pending in common pleas court against the industrial commission of Ohio had an inning in court this week. These cases have been pending for a long time, but as a representative of the office of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe always assists Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes in these actions, they are not heard as speedily as is the usual case.

In the action of Minnie Kearns against the commission, Judge Fred H. Wolf has sustained the demurrer t othe petition, and the court has granted the plaintiffs leave to file an amended petition within the next ten days.

The commission won a verdict when the case of Mary West as administratrix of the estate of William West was tried. A jury was sworn and the trial proceeded, and after it was submitted to the jury, a verdict for the defendant was returned.

The motion of counsel for the commission in the case of Paul Wirth, claimant, to make some of the allegations set forth in the appeal petition more definite and certain has been overruled by the court. Another part of the motion to strike out certain paragraphs of the original appeal as now on file in common pleas court was sustained. This cause will come up for hearing later.

The court has overruled the motion for a court order to have the defendant to certify the transcript in the appeal case of Carl Emery against the commission, because the claim is not sufficiently identified.

Judgment by confession has been entered in the case of the Salem Chattle Mortgage company against Frank Flash and Cora Flash for $1,355.30. Interest at 6 per cent has been ordered from the date of entry of the judgment.

Motion has been sustained to have County Treasurer Jo Pike made a party defendant in the case now pending in court of the Firestone Bank of Lisbon against Samantha Pieren.

After there was a brief hearing in the case of S. E. McIntosh against the Salem Building & Loan association, title to certain property claimed by the plaintiff was quieted as prayed for. The service by publication in this case was proven and also approved by the court.

The report of the trustees of Middle Sandy Presbyterian church, which body recently petitioned the court for permission to sell certain of its real estate in order to obtain funds for the erection of a new manse, has been approved and confirmed by Judge Wolf. The trustees had an offer to sell its old parsonage, and this sale has been completed.

In the damage case of Earl Ritchie, a constable of Perry township, against Lucreta Oltean of Salem, Judge Wolf has granted the plaintiff leave to file an amended petition. This case is the outgrowth of a raid in which the plaintiff was cut by glass while the raid was in progress.

On the motion of the plaintiff, the case of the Nivison-Weiskopt company against the Coll-Cochran company of East Palestine has been dismissed from the records. This was done on the order of the court and at the costs of the plaintiff.

An amended petition is to be filed in the case of James Lozzi against the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company. The court has granted such leave to the plaintiffs in this cause.

Although the sale of property has been confirmed in the action in common pleas court of Meyrick E. Evans against Henry G. Phillips, the court has continued the case, so far as the distribution of proceeds is concerned.

Another entry has been made in one of the older cases pending in court, that of the Paramount Publicity corporation against Ferris Morris, doing business as the Fair store, Salem. The court has granted the defendants leave to answer.

Released from Jail.

Frank Kuzian, who was recently returned to Lisbon from Michigan by Sheriff George Wright, after a charge of larceny had been preferred against him by R. A. Pow of Middleton, was released from custody after he entered into an agreement with Pow to return certain chattles taken from the Pow home, and also to pay for a lot of live poultry taken from the Pow poultry house.

Organ Recital Planned.

Rev. W. E. Tilton, pastor of the Lisbon Methodist Episcopal church, has announced that Mrs. T. C. Flick of East Liverpool will give an organ recital in this church the evening of April 9. Mrs. Flick will be assisted in her program by Miss Helen Ramsey of Lisbon, who will give several readings.

Two Divorces Granted.

George W. Conkle has been granted a divorce from Ada Conkle by Judge Fred H. Wolf, the decree being given the plaintiff in his grounds of infidelity. The custody of the children has been granted the plaintiff.

Harry Hooker has been granted a divorce from his wife, Gertrude Hooker, the decree having been handed down by Judge Wolf.

10 ADDITIONAL JURORS DRAWN

The names of 10 jurors were drawn from the jury wheel Thursday afternoon by Sheriff George Wright and Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine to serve in common pleas court next week.

They are: E. F. Whitacre, S. H. Boyce and Rena Boyd of Wellsville; Irva Firestone, Frank C. Binsley, Edwin Chandler of Lisbon; Charles M. Walker, T. Gerald Ryan, Walter S. Welch, East Liverpool; Clara Eaton, East Palestine.

This is the second panel to be drawn from the jury wheel this week, the first being for service in probate court next Tuesday.

Auditor Improving.

100 ATTEND KIWANIS MEET

Enjoy Musical Program Given by Orpheus Quartet.

Wellsville Kiwanis club members and their guests, over 100 in all, enjoyed an elaborate musical program given by the Orpheus Quartet of East Liverpool, at their ladies' night banquet and entertainment last night in the dining room of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock by women of the Methodist church. Jonquils, palms and potted plants were used in the decorations on and adjacent to the tables.

Dr. G. W. McMillan, head of the club, presided during the opening ceremonies. The greater portion of the evening was given over to the entertainment provided by the quartet which is composed of W. A. Macdonald, bass; Miss Mildred Weaver, soprano, Mrs. Robert Weinhardt, contralto, and Rowland Kauffman, tenor. Miss Lucille Orin was accompanist.

They gave the following program:

Piano solo, "All Alone," Irving Berlin—Miss Lucille Orin.

Tenor and soprano duet, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," Tate—Miss Mildred Weaver and Rowland Kauffman.

"O, Peaceful Night," German—Orpheus quartet.

Soprano and contralto duet, "The Rosary," Nevin — Miss Weaver and Mrs. Weinhardt.

Tenor solo, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," Cadman—Rowland Kauffman.

"Good Night, Beloved," Pinsuitl — Orpheus quartet.

On practically ever selection, members of the quartet were forced to respond to encores and among these numbers were included:

Contralto solo, "Were I To Call" —Mrs. Weinhardt.

"I Passed By Your Window," Brahe —The Orpheus quartet.

Tenor solo, "I Know a Lovely Garden," d'Hardelot—Rowland Kauffman

HONOR SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER

Honoring the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Leighton, members of class No. 10 of the First Methodist Protestant church, entertained at dinner last night in the Leighton home in Broadway.

Thirty members of the class were present. The honor guests were presented with a large bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Leighton has been teacher of the class for a number of years.

A green and white color scheme was carried out in the decorations and table appointments at a 6 o'clock dinner. A short program followed, in which Mrs. C. C. Culp, president of the class gave a short talk. Responses were made by Mr. and Mrs. Leighton.

A program of music concluded the affair.

FARMERS PROFIT BY KEEPING COWS

An added income of $26,480 a year is enjoyed by Hancock county farmers indirectly as a result of keeping cows, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. This income is in the form of a more fertile soil due to the manure of the dairy cows in this county. On the basis of practically a $20,000 fertilizer valuation animal per year this means a total of $26,480 added to the richness of the soil in this county every 12 months.

Manure is a source of the most valuable plant food obtained, says the institute, but to preserve it at its highest value of efficiency, it should either be put directly to the fields each day or conserved until such a time as the opportunity offers itself to spread it. Feeding trials have proven that an ordinary cow, while putting from 15 to 18 per cent of the total energy of the feed she consumes into milk, actually returns to the soil 80 per cent of the elements of soil fertility in her feed in the form of manure. This has led many dairy men to discover that the purchase of good concentrate feeds for their cows not only more than pays for itself in increased milk production but that it also supplies necessary food to farm crops that are expensive when bought in the form of commercial fertilizer.

AID SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Anniversary Session in M. E. Church Featured by Program.

Large crowd attended the 26th anniversary meeting of the Ladies' Aid society last evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The event was featured by a program of music and readings. Five new members were received. The offering amounted to $216.

The society, which was organized March 4, 1900, was the first of its kind in Chester. Mrs. George Johnson is the only charter member still active in the work of the organization. Mrs. John Gardner, who became a member soon after its inception was the first president and served in that capacity for seven years. There were five active members the first year, while 68 are now on the roll. The society annually contributes $1,000 to the work of the church.

Officers follow: President, Mrs. Walter Cunningham; vice president, Mrs. George Cook; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Parker; treasurer, Mrs. W. Bloor.

Montreal Shipping Records Shattered During Past Year

MONTREAL, P. Q.—Shipping out of the port of Montreal broke all records in 1925, according to a summary for the year compiled by the Board of Harbor commissioners. Trans-Atlantic vessels numbering 1,040 representing 4,744,793 tons entered the harbor, compared with 988 ships of 3,597,147 tons in 1924, an increase of fifty-two vessels and 1,147,646 tons.

Increases of more than $50,000,000 in the volume of business transacted were recorded in the seven months, shipping season compared with the same period the year before. Total trade amounted to $298,950,330 as against $249,767,291 in 1924. Of the 1925 volume, exports accounted for $184,8178,205 and imports for $114,950,330.

Exports of grain from Montreal were the highest in history, amounting to 155,088,244 bushels.

Few Women

Still use old hygienic methods. Charming freshness, true protection, this new way ... discards like tissue

TO help women meet every day unhandicapped is the object of a new hygiene. A way that ends the hazards of the old-time "sanitary pad," that ends the embarrassment of disposal.

Eight in 10 better-class women today employ "KOTEX."

Wear lightest gowns and frocks without a second thought, any day, anywhere.

Deodorizes. Ends ALL fear of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying, "KOTEX." No embarrassment.

In fairness to yourself, try this new way. Costs only a few cents. Twelve in a package.

BEAUTY DOCTORS 4,000 YEARS AGO KNEW ABOUT 'PERMANENT WAVES'

CHICAGO.—Think the permanent wave is one of beauty's latest discoveries? Well, you are wrong. Hair waving was practiced more than 4,000 years ago, according to Miss Frances Martell, secretary of the American Cosmeticians Society, who is working for standarization of beauty shops and state licensed beauty operators.

"Archaeologists recently excavating at Ur, the ancient Chaldean city in Mesopotamia," said Miss Martell, in an address, "discovered that women in the year 2250 B. C. had their hair waved in modes somewhat similar to those followed today.

"While searching for the palace of Dungi, son of the builder of the great Zikkurat, or temple, who reigned 4,178 years ago, the scientists unearthed the sculptured head of the Moon goddess, one of the deities worshipped at that time.

"The hair of the Moon goddess was elaborately waved indicating to the investigators that the professional hair dressers of the third dynasty possessed a skill in creating chic coiffures which a modern beauty operator might be proud of. The eyes of the goddess were inlaid with lapic lazuli and shell."

Trans-Siberian Air Route Connects With London-Tokio Line

LONDON.—A trans-Siberian air route from Moscow to Vladivostock, with a sea extension to Tokio, has been finally approved by a German-Russian air company at Moscow, according to advices reaching here.

The machines to be used will be three-engined Junkers, and provisions are being made for the connecting up of aerial routes from London and Berlin to Moscow.

The whole journey from London to Tokio, via Berlin and Moscow, a distance of some 7,000 miles, would be accomplished in eighty flying hours.

Scotland Presbytery Divided Over Woman's Place in Pulpit

GLASGOW, Scotland.—"Is woman's place the pulpit?" is a question now greatly exciting ecclesiastical opinion in Scotland, where a proposal has been made to admit women to the ministry of the United Free Church of Scotland.

Glasgow Presbytery have turned down the suggestion after a close vote, while the Hamilton Presbytery, a few miles from Glasgow, have approved the proposal by thirty-six votes to thirty-two.

There are another sixty-one Presbyteries to record their opinion, and it is anticipated that the voting for and against will be very close.

Magistrates of South Wales War on Jazz Music by Curfew

SWANESEA, Wales.—South Wales magistrates have declared war on jazz, denouncing it as a "dangerous excitement," "a barbaric pastime,' and a "sensuous menace."

They have instituted a curfew campaign, destined to check as much as possible the activities of Welsh dancers, and all new applications for the licensing of dance halls are subjected to rigorous scrutinization.

In Pontypridd, dance-halls must be shut tight by 10:30 p. m., no dancing is allowed on Tuesdays, and no one under 16 is allowed to attend a dance advertised as being for adults. Barry must confine its dancing activities between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m., while at Port Talbot, where dancing used to go on until 4 a. m., dance-halls must close at 11 p. m.

Russian Workers to Eat From Tableware Of Former Ruler

LENINGRAD—Ditch diggers, factory hands, government clerks and stenographers will hereafter take their meals from the tableware of the Czar when they go to their frequent vacations in "Workers' Sanitoria."

The District Commission for the Realization of State Valuables has sold to the administration of the workers' homes a large part of the china and glassware formerly used in the palaces of the late Emperor.

Three hundred cases of finest porcelain were sold from the Winter Palace, while the palaces of Prince Youssoupoff and the Dyetskoselski palace contributed additional equipment for the workers' tables.

Douglas fir is being shipped from British Columbia to Florida for the first time in history.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE

JOHN INGATE, third of the name to be president of John Ingate's Sons, Inc., wholesale leather merchants, reckoned at thirty to be a "woman hater," loves, and is loved by, both her employer and

CLAY WALES, one of his employes. When John Ingate proposes marriage to Eve in the face of the opposition of his mother and sister she confesses her love but rejects him in favor of Clay, a youth weak and irresponsible, because she believes Clay needs her more. John Ingate cannot understand her choice between dominance and domination, weakness and strength. He does not realize that it is weak men who make the greatest appeal to a woman's sympathy and heart.

Neither Clay's nor Eve's parents attended the wedding, which John Ingate was impelled to make something more than the ordinary affair. And with the festivities over and the couple ready to leave on their honeymoon, they receive a cool reception at the MacLurie residence. With sinking heart Clay sets out with his bride for his own home.

Now go on with the story.

THIRTEEN.

A repeated ringing of the door-bell finally aroused a response in the darkened house. Clay Wales, straining his eyes through the door curtain, exhaled relief when he discerned a form making its way down the stairs, now illuminated to a degree by a globe in the upper hall, and murmured: "She's here, all right." He had been afraid she wasn't.

Something else was on Eve's mind at the moment:

"Isn't it funny, Clay, none of our relatives were at our wedding—except Madeline Overstreet? It is just as if we had eloped." It was to be understood from her tone that she had not been affected by the absence of her close kin. She had been too excited to really miss them.

Her husband did not respond. His eyes met his mother's through the glass dubously. He had forebodings regarding the reception awaiting them.

Satisfied by her glimpse out that no peril lurked at her door, Mrs. Wales opened it. "Well. . . ." "How eloquent that word! Well! . . . Well? . . . . Well.)

"Here we are mother," Clay managed to say. His wife was already at Mrs. Wales' arm length, waiting, expecting, to be kissed. It was a feeble embrace Cay's mother gave Eve.

"Is dad home yet?" Clay looked around eagerly.

"He's late tonight—two hours." Mr. Wales was a railroad conductor. He had been climbing over freight cars, braving wintry winds and torrid rays, for 20 years.

Clay was really disappointed. He cared more for his father. "That's too bad. . . . We won't get to see him until we get back."

"I don't know whether he will want to see you," Mrs. Wales said. Clay winced and avoided Eve's eyes. Why did his mother have to say a thing like that? Anger heated her cheeks. "Well, excuse me, Eve . . . I'll run up and get my things."

Mrs. Wales, seated by the window, glanced out. "Is that Mr. Ingate's automobile?"

"Yes, I don't know what we would have done without him today. He attended to everything, as if I were his daughter or Clay his son."

Mrs. Wales regarded her daughter-in-law out of the corner of an eye. Eve, intuitively feeling the glance, was uncomfortable.

"He's mighty young and handsome himself, and HE has money," Mrs. Wales observed challengingly.

Looking at his mother, the bride had her first doubts about Clay. She ought quickly to change the subject. "I'm going to expect you to help me with my recipes and things, Mrs. Wales. I know I'm not one-tenth as good a cook as you are." This was accompanied by a friendly smile.

"Where are you two going to live?"

Eve flushed. Why, Clay had said—.

Mrs. Wales read the glance. "My Wales is out on the road so much and I don't like to be alone, so I think I'll rent Clay's room." She spoke as if she were innocent of design.

"Oh, I think we'll take a house." Eve spoke up airily, but not without a queer feeling around her heart. She looked up darkly when Clay came back down the stairs.

The sight of her son's luggage, the sudden realization that he WAS going away from her, thawed out Mrs. Wales to some degree. She got up and regarded him with dull eyes. Her baby boy, grown up, a man, married! And now he was leaving her. . . .

"Goodbye, mother. . . ."

He looked helplessly down at her; she was crying. The strongest man as well as the weakest feels the tyranny of tears; is there anything else that hurts a man as much?

Eve looked away from this scene; it hurt. Instinctively she knew that Mrs. Wales was blaming her.

"Goodbye, mother." Clay's eyes were wet.

"Goodbye, oh, my son. . . ." Mrs. Wales looked across at Eve. Clay caught his wife by the hand and pulled her to his mother, divining an impulse.

"Be good to my boy." Mrs. Wales sobbed. "He's a good boy." Eve was crying, too. "I don't think he has done right in getting married now, but he's a good boy."

"I know he is, Mrs. Wales. I love him so much. . . . And I love you for being his mother." She kissed her mother-in-law upon the forehead.

Clay was nervously glancing at his watch. "Come, dear, we must go."

The bride filled her hands with luggage and went out; this last minute belonged to them alone. She felt badly when Clay followed her immediately, taking the bags from her. How could he be so callous? He did not look back until they were in the car.

As the motor moved slowly away his eyes were on the house. Eve, with something tugging at her heart, was plunged into a fit of crying: "I feel so awful about taking you away from her."

A little grown of impatience appeared on Clay's forehead. Tears always annoyed him. He felt foolish now, for acting like a baby.

Clay put his arm around Eve and pulled her to him. She was his now, his woman! How beautiful she was! . . . . Just let that damned John Ingate try to steal her!

Stomach Troubles Are Due to Acidity

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

Highs Play First Tournament Game Tonight With Zanesville

Eight Strong Teams Lined Up for Drive On Sectional Title

Drawings Place Potters in Lower Bracket Along With Zanesville, New Philly and Marietta; Inaugural Clash Will be Staged This Afternoon at 2:30 by Dover and Bellaire.

NEW CONCORD, March 5.—East Liverpool high school cagers will take on Zanesville tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Potters' initial contest of the eastern Ohio sectional tournament at Muskingum college.

Drawings held last night by Muskingum authorities, presided over by Athletic Director Lange, and attended by coaches and representatives of the eight teams entered, put East Liverpool in the lower bracket along with Zanesville, New Philadelphia and Marietta.

Dover, Bellaire, Barnesville and Cambridge are the upper bracket contenders and will start play this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Dover is slated to clash with Bellaire in the official lid lifter of the meet. This game will be followed by the tilt between Barnesville and Cambridge.

Hostilities will then be suspended until 7:30 tonight when East Liverpool and Zanesville take the court. The day's program will be concluded with the game between New Philadelphia and Marietta.

Results of the first round will leave two teams in each bracket for the semi-finals Saturday morning. The finalists will take the court either Saturday afternoon or Saturday night, no definite arrangements having been made yet for this event.

As a result of defeats during the season at the hands of New Philadelphia and Dover, East Liverpool is not generally regarded as a finalist by tourney fans, but a score or more of East Liverpool followers now on the scene of play are expecting the Ceramic City contingent to prove the real dark horse of the tournament. Many are favoring Marietta and Cambridge for the sectional title, but such predictions are purely speculation.

The tournament of 1916 is recalled when East Liverpool, practically an unknown, fought its way to the final game for the state championship, toppling Mt. Vernon, a heavy favorite, in the clash for northern Ohio honors. The locals, at that time, with Ernest Bucher, Howard and Ronald Smith, Nate Allen, Dutch Vorndran and Sandy Fess lost the state championship tilt to Stivers, of Dayton. And the Stivers five, prior to the tourney, was little better than East Liverpool.

The Potters were in top form prior to the Muskingum tournament, outclassing Akron Central, Rubber City scholastic champions, in the greatest engagement of the season here, and defeating the Red and Black, of Salem, on the enemy's own court. If they can hit the pace they set in those two engagements, they will prove the equal of any outfit in the eastern Ohio sectional meet.

If dope runs true to form, Dover has an excellent chance to eliminate Bellaire in the opener, with Cambridge taking over Barnesville. East Liverpool, it is believed can trim Zanesville tonight and Marietta generally is regarded as certain to trip New Philadelphia.

Unless there are a few surprises then, Dover would tackle Bellaire and East Liverpool would meet Marietta in the semi-finals. With a good nights' rest and a full day to become accustomed to tournament environment, and with an opportunity to pick up a few tips on this afternoons engagements, Lorah's passers should be in excellent trim for the Zanesville game.

The lads spent the night in a Cambridge hotel, not a great distance from New Concord and this morning were instructed in their routine for the day by Coach Lorah and Athletic Director Boone.

WILLS FINALIST AT MENTONE MEET

MENTONE, March 5.—Miss Helen Wills again did the usual today. She became a finalist in the Mentone tournament, without exerting herself.

Miss Wills defeated Miss E. M. Harvey of England, 6-0, 6-1, in the semi-finals and will now meet either Mlls. Didi Valsto or Senorita Alverez in the finals, and the answer to the finals is confidently expected to be another victory for the California girl.

POWERS TO PLAY GLENMORE QUINT

The Power basketball team will play the fast Glenmore five tonight on the M. E. court, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Powers have several good games booked for this month, including Salineville next Tuesday on the M. E. floor, Pittsburgh Silents on the high school court, and Muskingum college on April 1.

LONDON LAUDS HELEN WILLS

British Experts Say Yankee Girl Will Win at Wimbledon.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Usually, anything American gets the good, old second footman's bow in London but it seems the dear fellows lost all self-control on the head of that first Wills-Lenglen meeting at Cannes. They have rallied around Helen Wills to a man and a number of London papers, arriving in this country today, made no star chamber secret of their critics' belief that the American will win when the second match is held, if at all.

"Miss Wills will win at Wimbledon," said the critic of the London Daily Chronicle. "She lost at Cannes by inches."

He referred to the great number of Helen's base line drives that fell just outside the court.

"Stroke for stroke, she played far the better tennis," he added. "Under the hurricane bombardment, the Lenglen of two years ago would have been sunk. Never on the continent or at Wimbledon has a girl player hit so fiercely. There is no man now playing on the Riviera who could sustain such average speed."

In a slightly more formal manner, as befits a critic with the true London manner and a reputation of being the foremost living authority in the subject of lawn tennis, A. Wallis Myers insinuates that Helen played the greatest tennis but showed the lesser experience.

Writing for the London Daily Telegram, he says in this connection:

"She fought against odds all the time but fought with superb courage and with a skill that lacked only more experience to bring it greater reward."

If I understand the gentleman correctly at this point, he wants to say that Miss Wills, given more experience, would have won the match. But, you know how those things are. The boys will persist in calling a spade a garden utensil.

Myers, by the way, is not all praise for Helen. He takes her to severe task on the judgment she displayed in the second set and claims she would have it had she continued blazing away after getting the lead. But in the fourth and tenth game, she modified her strokes, he says, "doubtless hoping that Suzanne would compromise herself by error." It is a matter of record that Suzanne failed to oblige.

Jarvis on Title Quest.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Ernie Jarvis, Britih boxer, will begin another campaign tonight in quest of a bout with Fidel Labarba for the flyweight title. Jarvis will face Manny Wexler, local flyweight, in the ten round feature at the Pioneer A. C. Young Sencio, Filipino boxer, and Izzy Schwartz, New York, will meet in the semi-final bout.

Germany's Champ Swimmers After American Honors

Erich Radamacher (bottom) and E. K. Froelich, Germany's best swimmers, are beginning an American invasion. The latter is backstroke champion of Europe. Radamacher holds world's records for 100, 200 and 500 meters.

May Put O.K. on Dempsey-Tunney

Commission Expected to Withdraw Wills Support.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The New York State Athletic commission was expected to make some announcement today to the effect that it has withdrawn its support from Harry Wills' claims to a heavyweight championship bout and that, therefore, it will have no objection to Jack Dempsey meeting Gene Tunney in defense of his title.

Reports have been in circulation for the past week that Dempsey and Tunney already have agreed on terms for a meeting under Tex Rickard's auspices next August and that announcement to that effect merely is being held in abeyance, awaiting the action of the local commission.

Wills' action last summer in signing with Dempsey at Niles, Mich., after the New York board had championed his cause for several years, is believed to have cost him the support of the local authorities.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, declined to comment on this angle of the situation today but made this significant remark:

Plan U.S.-British 'Fours' Golf Tilt

Contests Would be Staged Following Open Championship.

NEW YORK, March 4.—With six leading American golfers going to England this summer, it is learned that a suggestion is made for an international professional four-a-side match.

One game of this character has been played before—that at Gleneagles in 1921—when the British team, led by George Duncan, won by nine matches to three, with three matches halved.

There is always a difficulty in getting all the players together for an event of this kind, but two big London clubs are trying to arrange for the meeting to take place immediately after the Open Championship.

The plan is that four of the chief American entrants in the championship should take part in a contest with four British players, extending over two days, and decided on the American tournament principle—each of the four players on one side meeting each members of the opposing side over eighteen holes.

Each game would be played to the last green, and the number of holes up would count for the side, the result being arrived at by the total of holes up obtained by the teams in the sixteen matches.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE GAMES

Three Sunday school league contests are billed for tonight in triple bracket elimination series to determine the second half-season winner.

Lutherans will tackle the M. E. five and the U. P. passers will clash with the Baptists on the M. P. court; while the St. Stephens and M. P. teams will play on the Y. M. C. A. floor.

ALTOONA PLANS BIG RACE EVENT

New Speed Records Will be Sought in 250-Mile Classic.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 4.—Great preparation is being made by the Altoona Speedway association for the presentation of their sixth 250 mile national championship classic, Saturday, June 12th.

Aside from starting a score of world famous speed pilots, the coming event invites unusual interest because of the fact that it will be the first board track showing of the recently adopted 91½ cubic inch racing motors.

The new creations now at a stage of perfection, will doubtless revolutionize the entire history of past track performances. Triple-"A" officials, the governing body of professional racing, are already astounded with reports of the remarkable development of these so-called "vest-pocket" motors. Intense interest surrounds the employment of the new speed producer. Laboratory tests have proven conclusively that with the present highly efficient super-chargers, these speed units will exceed the fondest expectations of the foremost racing men.

The internationally known Altoona Speedway will be a scene of a most unusual chariots, when the new speed chariots start on their gruelling grind over the great wooden pathway. Practically every great motor industry of the country will be represented at the contest. The startling results will contribute greatly to future motor construction. Motor wizards and technical men will measure the possibilities shown at the coming meet, for further transportation economy, which will no doubt reflect a great tendency toward minimizing pleasure car motors.

For the sixth time in the annals of A. A. A. racing, the piston displacement has experienced a forced reduction. Starting with 600 cubic inch limit in 1911 showing a world speed record of only 74.59 miles per hour, 1913 introduced 450 cubic inch, 1915—300, 1920—183, 1923—122, the lattor will be obsolete May 30th this year. That new world records will be written June 12th is a certainty, as speculation into their showing 140 miles per hour does not seem out of proportion. Fathers of mammoth motor industries and vast thousands of eager spectators will gaze with watchful eyes upon the terrifying speed of the great four-wheeled rodeo.

Babe Ruth Sets Pace For Rooks and Vets

By Ford C. Frick.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5.—Mr. George Herman Ruth has a sense of responsibility and a conscience, after all. The big boy has proved it here this spring, setting a pace in hard work that even the most enthusiastic rookie has trouble in following. And the Babe is looking great as a result.

There's one thing to be said for the Yankee bad boy. He reforms just as enthusiastically as he sins—and at this particular moment the reform movement has assumed the proportions of an engulfing tidal wave.

The systematic training Ruth followed during the winter has taught him one thing. He has learned to care for himself in scientific fashion. His methods are no longer haphazard.

Right now, he weighs 222 stripped. His muscles are as hard as nails, his eye clear and his mind free from worry and misapprehension. To say that Ruth would break his former home run records, would be foolish. Probably he wont. But he will be a much improved ball player this year none the less, and unless the unforseen happens, he's due for a great season.

As important as any physical change, is his improved mental attitude. In other years Ruth has been just Ruth, individualist in style and attitude.

This season he seems to realize for the first time that he is a member of a ball club. And that there are eight other players to be considered and helped. The "I" has almost entirely disappeared from his speech. "We" has supplanted it. In his workouts, the Babe has been exceptionally enthusiastic. He is the first man out to the park in the morning, the last one to leave in the evening. And he works hard every minute. Yesterday, for instance, he got Charley O'Leary to hit fungoes to him, and he spent more than 40 minutes chasing fly balls all over Pinollas county.

"Make me run for 'em," the Babe would shout, and Charley would do just that—until finally Ruth came to the club house wet with perspiration and glowing with health.

His hitting is good, too. The old Ruthian swing is still there.

Babe has spent much time perfecting a swing for left field hitting. "I'm out after those base hits this year," he explained. "And if I can learn to hit to left field, as well as right, I'll have the outfielders guessing."

Electric flatirons now being made in France weigh only about two pounds each.

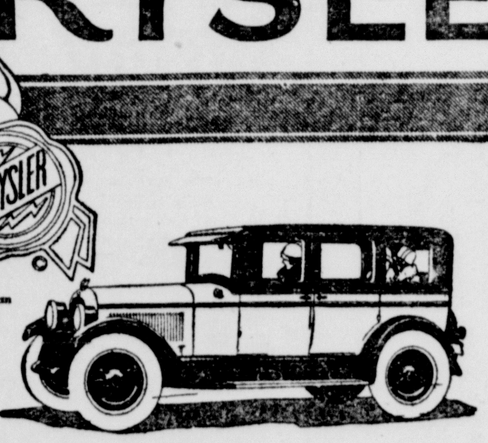
CHRYSLER



Chrysler "70" Royal Sedan $1995, f. o. b. Detroit

To All Women Who Do Not Ride In A Chrysler "70"—

Whatever car you ride in—or drive, if you are one of the great army of women drivers—we can promise you an entirely new delight in the Chrysler "70".

Comparatively few women, it is true, care to ride as fast as 70 miles an hour; but the power indicated by 70 miles plus represents the utmost in acceleration, in smoothness, as well as in speed ability.

And think of a car without side-sway—a car which steers with unbelievable ease—a car made so safe by Chrysler hydraulic four-wheel brakes, and so compactly designed for easy parking, that you handle it with implicit confidence.

Chrysler is admittedly the style leader among motor cars—and that, of itself, is a genuine satisfaction.

We are eager to demonstrate the beautiful Chryslers to you at your leisure.

CHRYSLER "58"—Touring Car, $845; Roadster, Special, $890; Club Coupe, $895; Coach, $935; Sedan, $995. Disc wheels optional. Hydraulic four-wheel brakes at slight extra cost.
CHRYSLER IMPERIAL "80"—Phaeton, $2645; Roadster (wire wheels standard equipment, wood wheels optional), $2885; Coupe, four-passenger, $3195; Sedan, five-passenger, $3395; Sedan, seven-passenger, $3595; Sedan-limousine, $3695.
Bodies by Fisher on all Chrysler enclosed models. All models equipped with full balloon tires.
We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Chrysler's attractive plan. Chrysler dealers and superior Chrysler service everywhere.
All Chrysler models are protected against theft by the Fedco patented car numbering system, exclusive with Chrysler, which cannot be counterfeited and cannot be altered or removed without conclusive evidence of tampering.

Developing Major League Hurlers Is Biggest Problem of Managers

This is the second of a series of articles by a nationally-known sports authority on the problems a major league manager must meet in the training camps.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. — Pitching furnishes the hardest problem on any baseball club, in the opinion of Dave Bancroft, Brave pilot, whose ability in getting good pitching out of the material at hand has played a part in his success.

"The reason," says Bancroft, "is because you can't throw the ball for the pitcher. And it is, of course, the actual throwing of the ball that makes or breaks the pitcher. You can aid him by suggesting changes in his style of delivering the ball. You can correct a possible foot-fault, or a weakness in watching the bases. But all these things are wasted if he fails to throw the proper ball in the proper place at the proper time.

"The most common fault among young pitchers who come up to us is that of failing to get their body behind the throw.

"This weakness lessens the general effectiveness of the pitcher for the simple reason that it deprives him of the speed for his fast ball and 'zip' he needs to make his curves break properly.

Body Beats the Ball.

"The hurler, as he starts to deliver the ball, figuratively 'throws' his body ahead of the ball. In other words, before he starts his arm forward his body has been launched forward and his front foot is resting on the ground. The weight of his body is no longer available to put power behind his delivery.

"The experienced pitcher hurls his body with the ball, so to speak. His body comes forward with the throw. His forward foot touches the ground almost at the instant he releases the ball."

This fault is another one of those seemingly insignificant but vital ones not noticed by the average grandstand observer. If the pitcher's motion seems easy and he has good control he looks good in the daily workouts. There are other weaknesses, however, which hinder otherwise capable pitchers.

Allan Sothoron, a great pitcher in flashes, has never reached the heights mainly because of his poor fielding ability.

Must Hold Men on Bases.

I remember another youngster, "Rip Zip" Hagerman, tried out by the Cleveland club 10 or 12 years ago, who seemed a promising pitcher. His doom was pronounced, however, when at the crucial moment in a game in Boston, Hagerman, who was pitching, stood idle in the box and permitted home plate to remain uncovered on a play which cost Cleveland the game, if I recall properly.

Then many young pitchers with many assets lack the faculty of holding runners close to their bases. Some of these men are handicapped in their delivery unless they can take a brief windup. But even a short drawing back of the pitching arm gives the opportunity a fleet base runner wants. So the youngster must be trained to watch first, second or third, as the case may be, and get his pitch away quickly and with control, of course.

Sherrod Smith, veteran southpaw of the Brooklyn and Cleveland staff, is probably the greatest first base sharpshooter in baseball. His ability to nail runners off first base is uncanny.

"But most of these secondary weaknesses can be overcome if a pitcher has the desire and the intelligence to learn," says Bancroft.

"Few pitchers, just breaking into the big show, realize the importance of memorizing immediately the weaknesses of the various batters. A pitcher doesn't have to be working in the box to learn them. He can pick up considerable knowledge of the batters from the bench."

Watch for another article in this series in tomorrow's paper.

For the purpose of interesting more Americans in the use of German toys, twenty German toy manufacturers have formed an association to hold exhibitions in this country.

Johannesburg, South Africa, is to have a new railway station coasting $6,250,000.

Poland is taking to the radio and a station for broadcasting material supplied by the University of Krakow will soon be erected at that city.

Reparations Scheme Proposed by Former German Secretary

BERLIN.—A campaign for a definite settlement of reparations payments as supplementing the Dawes Plan has been started by ex-Secretary of State Bergmann, in a book entitled, "The Way of Reparations," in which he lays down the following scheme:

At the end of the next two years the Transfer committee should fix by arbitration the definite amount of reparations to be paid by Germany. The Transfer committee should undertake to place this loan on the international market. Whatever cannot be placed within ten years should lapse so that after ten years Germany has paid her reparation debts and has incurred a private debt in the shape of a loan.

Bergmann claims that his scheme offers a definite, but elastic solution enabling Germany's creditors to raise the installments in proportion to a growing German credit.

MAJOR BURKE, REBEL, EXILED HOME TO DIE

Confederate Veterans Plan Welcome for Gallant Officer.

85 YEARS OLD

NEW ORLEANS, La.—A little group of Confederate veterans, aged and feeble, is making preparations here to welcome back to his home Major Edward A. Burke, 85, former gallant Confederate officer, and later state treasurer of Louisiana, who will soon end a 35-year exile in Honduras, and come back to New Orleans.

Major Burke, indicted in 1889 on 19 counts of misuse of state funds, involving $200,000, fled to Honduras to escape prosecution. He had served with distinction as a Confederate officer, and later in the bitter intercene warfare by which the whites drove out "carpet baggers" and negro officials in Louisiana, during the reconstruction period. Prior to his indictment, Major Burke had been a social and political leader in New Orleans and other Southern cities.

During his long stay in the Central American Republic, the major rose to a position of high influence with the Honduran government. He became director of the National railway, and operated the principal hotel in the Republic. He participated in half a dozen revolutions, and managed always to remain in favor with the faction in control of the government.

The dismissal of the indictments against him recently followed a conference by Governor Fuqua, and the attorney general of Louisiana. Governor Fuqua, declaring that the major had "suffered enough," suggested that the indictments be dropped so that the aged veteran "might come home to die."

Major Burke, although he is 85, is said to be still in robust health, and is described by tourists as a striking figure well known throughout the American tropic for his bravery and courtly dignity. He is said to wear white linen clothing and a huge Panama hat, and to number among his close personal friends high government officials, soldiers of fortune and other outstanding figures of Central America.

Teach Geography With Music; Brooklyn Schools Bar Jazz

NEW YORK.—"There is no place for jazz in the music curriculum of the Public Schools. Jazz is a primitive music.

"Because of its rhythm it appeals to the primitive instincts.

"To teach jazz in the schools of New York would undo the work of years. The children want it.

"To give it to them would simply mean an appeal to their instincts instead of to their minds."

These are a few thoughts of Dr. George H. Gartlan, Associate Superintendent of the Department of Education and Director of Music of the Public Schools of this city, who is preparing his report to the Board of Education recommending changes in the musical program the children are now taught.

Care Is Needed

"When you consider," he says, "that we have 80,000 children being taught the elements of music every hour in this great city, it can readily be seen that the Board of Education and those in charge of the schools have to be very careful when changes are contemplated.

"When music was first suggested as a study in the Public Schools of Brooklyn, fifty-one years ago, it was laughed at. There were those who described it as one of the 'new fangled' ideas. What would any of our schools be today without their glee clubs, orchestras and choral societies.

Wonderful Progress

"We have made such wonderful progress that we are teaching geography with the assistance of music. We are able to combine two subjects. When we teach the geography of Italy we combine it with the folk songs of the various localities of the country. In this way the children are better able to grasp and remember what they are taught.

"But we do not teach them jazz when we teach them the geography of this country. It would never do. A little incident happened in one of the schools that I recently visited which will show that it would not be to the best interests of the children to teach them jazz.

"The school had a wonderful orchestra. It played several pieces rather delightfully. When I consented, at the principal's suggestion, that they play jazz.

Children Applauded

"They played it well, but when they had finished the children broke into an uproar. They applauded for several minutes and stamped their feet. They had applauded all of the other pieces on the program, but not with the enthusiasm that they applauded the jazz. It was an appeal to their instincts instead of to their minds.

"Enough jazz creeps into our schools now. It is our opinion that it should be kept out.

Proud of Record

"The department is very proud of the wonderful success which has been accomplished in teaching music. It has produced many famous musicians, who received their first training in our public schols. Our most notable example is Mr. Reinald Werrenrath, the noted American tenor. He is a graduate of the Boys' High School of Brooklyn.

"The Symphony and Philharmonic orchestras are full of our students, as well as many of the leading bands."

CALLS CHICAGO CRIME HOT BED WITH LAX LAWS

Veteran Judge Tells Bankers Why Criminals Flourish.

BEAUTY ASSET

CHICAGO—Chicago is notorious as a hot-bed of crime because of a breakdown in its law-enforcement, said Judge Marcus Kavanagh, veteran criminal judge, addressing a meeting of a thousand bankers of Illinois.

"In England a man who commits murder knows the gallows is almost inevitable," he added. "In Chicago the odds are 300 to 1 he won't be hanged, 12 to 1 he won't be convicted and 5 to 1 he won't even be arrested.

"After years on the bench, dealing with criminals and the vagaries of the juries that try them, I am convinced any pretty woman can kill a man and not be punished in Cook county. The reason does not lie in sentiment favorable to murderesses but weak regard for the law.

"There was a time when the United States was the most law-abiding nation on earth and England third lowest. Today England leads the world in dealing out justice and punishment and the United States is far down the scale. Yet every country has just the kind of crime it deserves. We, flouting the law, are getting only what is coming to us."

CHICAGO.—Separating a man from his money by the process used by the "gold diggers' in divorce and almony suits is one of the greatest evils of our time and should be remedied, Harry Edward Freund, director of the American Research Foundation said in an address here.

"A great number of women are emancipating themselves and becoming independent by joining the ranks of paid workers, but there are many who have adopted the principle of marrying a man, leaving him after a few months, obtaining alimony in the courts and living easily for the remainder of their lives," said Mr. Freund.

"Various plans have recently been advanced to remedy this evil. These range from the radical theiry in Glen B. Winship's novel, 'Volonor,' where he would use a 50 per cent tax to support the women and children of the nation, to a statement made by Superior Court Judge Harry Lewis of Chicago.

Judge Lewis announced that those women who contract marriages in haste at such places as Crown Point, Chicago's Gretna Green, and then apply for alimony a few months later, can expect nothing in his court.

Music, Parade, Flirt, Chief Function of Military Groups

BERLIN—"Music, parades and flirts are the functions of the Nationalist militant leagues. That's all there is to them. They give the people what, in the old times, the cookmaid expected from the soldiers of the Kaiser's army."

With this quotation of the remark of an active officer of the Reichswehr, Minister of Defence Dr. Gessler, in a speech at the Reichstag ridiculed the charge that there still existed a "black Reichswehr," an illegal military formation secretly supported by the authorities.

British Woman Has Unique Residence in London Bridge Arch

LONDON—The world's most picturesque home can no longer be claimed by the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shore. It belongs today to Mrs. David Fraser, who lives in a flat in one of the arches of Tower Bridge, the famous hydraulic drawbridge flanking the Tower of London.

She enjoys the finest view in London, although the beauty of her situation is somewhat marred by the fact that she has to toil up nearly a hundred stairs to reach it.

Her flat consists of four fairly big rooms, with a huge room running the whole length of the arch, which she uses for drying her clothes washing days. Not a sound from the busy roadway reaches her, due to the fact that the walls of her home are many feet thick.

Was a "Bear Cat"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince," which had helped him for same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

Many American tourists ask permission to inspect Mrs. Fraser's quaint home.

For this way to stop

Colds

Some years ago a famous laboratory developed a remedy for colds. It proved itself quick, effective and complete. It stopped colds in 24 hours. It checked the fever, stopped the headache, opened the bowels, toned the system. So recovery from the cold was prompt. The remedy brought no ill results, as quinine did before.

That laboratory announces its creations to physicians only. Most people don't consult doctors on colds. Millions of people who needed this help did not learn about it.

So W. H. HILL secured that formula and called it HILL'S Cascara-Bromide-Quinine. He sent out millions of samples to prove its effect. And he spent vast sums in telling the fact to people who have colds. As a result countless homes came to rely on it.

Then other men decided that more people should know it. So they paid $1,000,000 to secure the remedy. Now the facts are told in thousands of newspapers and magazines. People everywhere are dealing with colds in this effective way.

This is to urge that you try HILL'S. Take it promptly. Every hour of delay means a deeper-seated cold.

Be sure you get HILL'S. The years have proved that no other help compares. A cold is a serious matter. Stop it at once, end its results in the best way you can find.

If you take HILL'S now, relief will come tomorrow. The fever will be checked, the system toned, the bowels opened. The poisons will be eliminated. All those things must be done, and they should be done at once. Get HILL'S and start at once. At your drug store.

RADIO IN WILDS OF CONGO FINDS LONG LOST BROTHER OF U. S. WOMAN

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—A remarkable story of the reunion of an American woman, living in San Francisco, with her brother, from whom she separated in Copenhagen a quarter of a century ago, now living in the wilds of the African Congo—effected by means of amateur radio enthusiasts—has come to light here.

Mrs. Lydia Nelson read in a newspaper that radio station OA-4Z had been getting wonderful results broadcasting, having been heard by amateurs in Europe and various cities in America. She wrote the operator of the station, J. L. Street, at Capetown, and asked that a message be broadcast in search of her brother, Sigfred Yenson, who she heard, had gone to the African Congo.

An amateur enthusiast in Memphis, sitting long after midnight over his powerful receiving set, picked this message from the Capetown station:

"Sigfred Yenson has been located in the Congo. Please notify Mrs. Lydia Nelson, 1139 McAlister street, San Francisco, that he is writing to her."

"My brother must have picked up my message on a radio set at his home far in the wilds of the Congo," Mrs. Nelson wrote, gratefully to the Memphis amateur. "I can hardly wait until his letter comes."

LIFE OF PAPER BEING STUDIED BY U. S. BUREAU

Permanence of Records Dependent on Finding New Material.

STUDY FIBERS

Need for More Definite Information is Realized.

WASHINGTON—With a view to producing a quality of paper upon which official and private records may be maintained for long periods, an investigation has been started by the United States bureau of standards.

Little is definitely known of the permanence of modern papers. Although the bureau has not been able to complete the intensive study required to obtain exact information, some research work has been done.

Numerous requests have been received by the bureau from departments of the federal government, state governments, the library of congress, public libraries and from business concerns seeking advice on the durability of paper.

In view of the demands for information the following observations have been made public by the bureau:

From records of the aging of papers it appears that wood-fiber papers, in general, have given poor service in respect to permanence.

Rag-fiber papers, in general, alone have proved suitable for permanent records; but the fact that a paper is made entirely of rag fiber does not in itself insure permanence.

The materials entering into the paper must be chosen with care, so that no materials will be present which in themselves will not be permanent or which will induce deterioration of the paper.

It is quite well established that if fibers themselves are to be permanent they must be reduced to as pure a form of cellulose as possible. The purity of the fibers is commonly measured by determining the copper number.

As rosin sizing induces decomposition of paper fibers it should not be used. Judging from past records and from results of accelerated aging tests the sizing should consist of glue only, as when properly applied such sizing is very permanent and has NO injurious effect upon the paper fiber. Starch sizing appears to be of doubtful permanence. Chemical residues, especially those of an acid nature, are very harmful.

Alum is an acid salt commonly used in paper sizing and care must be taken that residues of this material in the paper are kept at a minimum. Other chemical residues, such as those derived from the cooking and bleaching operations, should also be reduced as much as possible. In employing coloring materials, only those of established permanency should be used, and only those which will not react chemically with other constituents of the paper.

The need for more definite information is keenly realized and it is the hope of the bureau to carry on further research this year.

Was It Love—or Fascination?

WHEN one is nearly twenty and wants to get ahead in the world, life as a manicurist in a barber shop is prosaic and dull.

Or, at least, so thought Angelique! The foolish flattery of men sickened her. She began to doubt whether she would ever meet a man she could love with all of the devotion she felt herself capable of.

But that was before she met Carlos, an exhibition dancer. When she danced with him, she wished it would go on forever.

But how little she knew about life and the ways of men! When Carlos asked her to become his professional partner, Angelique's heart set up a terrific hammering of excitement. To go on the stage with Carlos, and rise with him to heights of fame—she could hardly believe her good fortune.

The fact that Carlos was an absolute stranger to her did not enter her excited mind.

But her first visit to Carlos' studio started a drama that no playwright could have written, that no "movie" plotster could have created for the screen—a swift, heart-gripping, true-life drama that was to seize her in its merciless grip, fling her high into the clouds of reckless laughter, and then hurl her with crushing force down, down onto the rocks of fear and despair.

Never has the terrible price of ignorance been made more vivid, more compelling, than in this astounding true-life narrative entitled, "Out of the Ruins," in April True Story Magazine. Never was there written a more powerful warning against forming friendships with people that one knows nothing about.

An Opportunity to Win a Big Prize in True Story's $50,000.00 Contest

Three hundred and eleven men and women are going to share in cash prizes ranging from $5,000 to $100, and aggregating $50,000 in all, to be awarded by True Story Magazine in exchange for true stories. Why not win one of these prizes.

Everywhere there are men and women who have lived at least one story that is more helpful, more inspiring, more thrilling than any fiction story.

True Story now receives many splendid stories, but if there are life stories more poignantly interesting and helpful, we do not want a single one of them to escape us.

For rules and conditions of this mammoth Contest turn to page 63 of True Story for April.

Other Heart-Stirring Stories In the April Issue Are:

"Sunshine and Shadow"—Tessie longed for something to happen to vary the deadly monotony of life. Then she fell in love with Eddie Novak—and the underworld had her in its grip. A thrilling epic of grim courage.

"Not Always What You Think"—A good girl fighting alone against the world may have to choose between hunger and luxurious comfort "at a price." Read this girl's story about the choice she made.

Read Also In This Wonderful Issue:

"Flame of Love"
"Wasted Love"
"Wives At Auction"
"The Unwanted Woman"
"A Wife's Awakening"
And 8 Other Big Features

FIGURES ON AGE OF EARTH ARE REVISED

Billion and a Half Years Is New Estimate.

Austin, Texas.—Geologists generally have accepted the comparatively recent calculation of physicists that the age of the world is approximately 1,500,000,000 years, according to Dr. Charles Schuchert, professor emeritus of paleontology at Yale university, who is giving a special course in stratigraphic geology at the University of Texas this term.

"As for the age of the earth, our conceptions have been greatly altered by the work of the physicists during the last twenty years," Doctor Schuchert said. "The best calculation of the earth's age comes from the rate of disintegration of radium-bearing minerals and, on that basis, the age of the earth now is estimated to be not less than 1,500,000,000 years. Such a vast length of time is beyond our conception.

"A century ago it was almost universally held that the earth was about 5,600 years old. Through the rate of disintegration of radium-bearing minerals all of our older calculations have been greatly altered. Until this discovery was made and worked out geologists the world over held that the age of the earth was of the order of about 125,000,000 years.

Basis of Calculation.

"This calculation was based on the amount of salt in solution in the oceans and the present rate of new supplies yielded by the rivers flowing into them. The rivers today, however, are yielding a greater annual average of this salt than was the rate during the geologic ages, and geologists later began to think of the age of the earth as something like 300,000,000 years."

Doctor Schuchert said that recently it was widely believed that oil production would play out, or at least be vastly reduced during the next 25 years, but that many noted geologists now saw no fear of an immediate exhaustion of this natural wealth.

"A few years ago predictions were made by the best geologists that the peak of production had been reached," he continued. "As yet, however, no decline has set in, but of course, sooner or later the supply of liquid petroleum will be exhausted. Even so, there are vast amounts of shales holding oils which can be extracted through distillation.

"More modern methods have been adopted recently by which a greater quantity of oil is obtained from a given field than formerly," he said. "In Pennsylvania old wells which were believed exhausted have been revived by pumping water or air into the old holes or into newly driven ones, thus forcing up more of the oil reserves. It is widely held that only about 25 per cent of the oil of a given field is, so far, brought to the surface. Suppose that by the adoption of improved methods this could be increased to 50 per cent, it would mean an enormous addition to production.

Old Theories Discarded.

"With the progress of scientific research and discoveries some of the old theories as to the origin of petroleum have been placed in the discard. One of these is the old belief that the natural oils are of volcanic origin. It is now well known that petroleum is the end residium of once living things and chiefly of marine plants, although some of it is also of animal origin."

Doctor Schuchert evinced much interest in the information that has come to him of the possible potash wealth of Texas.

"I understand that in the oil explorations in the western part of Texas potash salts have been found over an extensive area," he said. "If potash is present in workable quantities it means a tremendous wealth to the state, even long after the oil is gone. Not only is potash in great demand as a fertilizer, but enormous quantities of it are used in the chemical industries. Nowhere in North America are the Permian beds better developed than in the semi-arid regions of western Texas and nowhere are there greater supplies of gypsum and table salts."

Air Passengers Sleep on London-Paris Trip

London.—Lulled by the ceaseless drone of engines, so high in the air that there is little sensation of speed and with landmarks of England and the continent far below, many air passengers, it is found, fall asleep while in planes between London and Paris.

To provide greater comfort for these mid-air nappers, a new armchair has been designed for giant air-express planes now being constructed.

Luxuriously upholstered, the new seats have high sloping backs and are fitted with softly-padded head rests. These will pillow the head of the traveler who wishes to contemplate how seasick he would have been in a cross channel steamer or will ease the agony of air-sick passengers sweeping along in the mists or sunshine high above land and sea.

Mayfair Makes Attics, Stables Into Homes

London.—Many of London's aristocracy are busy converting disused stables and attics in Mayfair into stylish maisonettes for their own use and the duke and duchess of York indirectly are responsible.

Since these members of the king's family settled in Mayfair there has been a stampede of those who wish to live near enough to bask in the royal smiles. Mayfair has, of course, long been the home of the elite. It is to London what Park avenue and Fifth avenue are to New York.

In the old days there were many mews filled with small buildings in which the blooded horses and the fine carriages of the aristocracy were housed. Since the automobile has come into such common use, however, the glossy steeds and the gorgeously uniformed lackeys have largely joined the other picturesque relics of the hey-day of blue blood. Now there are few mews in Mayfair these days which do not house distinguished families.

Russia is adding new air services.

H. C. L. FLOPS AS 1925 PRICE LIST IS CUT

SEVERE SLASHES

America Better Able to Compete With Others.

WASHINGTON — Excepting the United States and a few other countries the world price tendency was downward in 1925, according to statistics prepared by the Federal Reserve Board.

Price movements in Great Britain, Sweden, Switzerland and the Netherland—countries NOW on a gold standard—generally brought them to approximately the levels in the United States; each showed slight declines.

"For the other continental countries with few exceptions, the year's downward trend of prices has increased the difference between local price levels and those prevailing in the United States," the board said.

Thus the United States is in a better competitive situation with the four gold standard countries, but at an increased price disadvantage with others.

Severe Declines

The most severe price declines occurred in Norway, Denmark, and Hungary; important advances occurred in France and Italy. Except in Austria, Germany, the Netherlands, Switzerland and Sweden, prices in the European countries generally reflected to an appreciable extent the movement of their exchange, although in most instances there was a considerable lag between the movement in the exchange and the compensating adjustmen tin prices.

On the currency basis prices advanced 25 per cent in France and 12 per cent in Italy from December, 1924, to December, 1925. In Denmark the drop was 32 per cent.

Calculated on the gold basis prices rose in Norway 6.5 per cent and Italy 5 per cent. All other countries reported declines, the heaviest in Hungary at 19 per cent. Drops in other nations were:

England, 7 per cent; Austria, 13 per cent; Belgium, 9 per cent; France, 13 per cent.

The United States showed virtually no change on the gold basis. In Norway, it was stated, the rise in the exchange has more than compensated for the decline in prices. In Denmark, on the other hand, the price drop was greater than the advance in exchange.

Lower Money Rates.

From the financial viewpoint it was stated that changes in the official discount rates of European central banks were frequent in 1925. Countries reporting lower money rates were Austria, Danzig, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, Lithuania, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

"Three of these have returned to the gold standard, Sweden, Netherland and Switzerland," the board said. "Of the remainder, all except France, Denmark and Norway, have stabilized their currencies and are NOW operating on the gold exchange standard, and Denmark and Norway while they have not definitely stabilized their currencies, have been able, after a substantial appreciation in their exchange rates to narrow proportions.

"Six of the group, Austria, Danzig, Finland, Germany, Hungary and Lithuania—are countries whose currencies had been so disorganized as to necessitate either devaluation or the creation of new monetary units."

Women Like Variety!

Not alone in sweethearts, clothes, scenery and kisses, but ESPECIALLY in TOILETRIES. We found that out some years ago and since then we've made it a HABIT to always keep PLENTY of kinds, PLENTY of sizes of most everything in this line. Our leaders are Arden, Harriet Hubbard Ayers, Marinello, Melloglo, Garden Court, Hudnut's with numerous others.

Don't ARGUE With Me!

When I say to you that a clear, happy, smooth Alimentary tract is more important thatn WEALTH! ANY man with a bit of stick-to-itiveness can GET and KEEP himself in shape by the sensible use of Rhualo Tablets and it takes dern little money to accomplish it too.

Police and Fountain News!

You know yourself how they make you feel!
But the stomach handles them with ease,
So you can drink 'em fast as you please.

But if an Orange Flip you're drinking,
It jolts your bean, improves your thinking.
Your tummy seldom is interested;
There's nothing much to be digested!

Rieck's Brick Ice Cream!

It's not surprising the amount of brick Ice Cream we are selling these days for a brick of Rieck's Ice Cream is just packed full of goodness and you know that the purity is also there. And convenient serving. It's just like slicing a loaf of bread.

Base Ball!

The ball teams have gone South or West for training makes us all think that Spring is coming and of the good old summertime, but don't stop using Healing Balm yet. Keep Healing Balm on hand all the time and if you don't need it for chapped hands when summer comes you can use it to relieve the sting of sunburn later.

HABIT!

A SHORT SERMON

Habit is what makes you use your RIGHT hand for most of the work you DO with your hands. Habit makes you KICK with your RIGHT foot. Habit makes you EAT three times a day, walk on a certain side of the street, spit through your teeth, scratch the back of your ear, part your hair a certain way, keep pencils in a certain pocket, stir your coffee in your own peculiar manner and put your sox on—the WAY you do!

All of which leads up to the axe that I'VE got to grind!

If I had the power to GIVE you your habits, one of the very FIRST ones I'd inflict on you would be the deep-seated HABIT of SHOPPING IN THESE FAVORITE STORES! I might as well confess that I've been "working on you" for quite a spell as it is. I figgered that if we kept three places of ours reasonably INTERESTING to LOOK at, with folks back of the counters who were friendly LOOKING, friendly HEARTED and reasonably full of friendly CHAT, that if you came in ONCE you might come in TWICE and if you got that far, mebbe you'd GET THE HABIT!

You notice I'm not saying one word about goods or fair prices, don't you? I TAKE THAT FOR GRANTED! In fact, that's a HABIT that I ALREADY HAVE!

This is not written for OLD customers to read — They know already. t's the NEW ones I'm interested in having read this sermon.

John Carnahan

Shorty Says:

Looks to ME like Jack is trying to drum up new trade and that he's approaching the subject on the bias! Why don't he come RIGHT OUT and SAY so! I caught Jack reading a book called PSCHOANALYSIS the other day and I'll bet a suspender button that he's got this HABIT idea out of it. It's a cinch that Jack plans to SELL you something every now and then or else WHY would he want you hustling in the stores! Answer THAT once. He's a good boy and all that but there's times when I think he's figgerin on dying rich!

No Romance ? ? ?

The birthplaces of the hundreds of chemicals, herbs, essences and such that line the shelves "back of the Prescription Case," if used as an itinery for an automobile trip, would take you ALL AROUND THE WORLD! The few ingredients that go to make up an AVERAGE prescription may have each come from points thousands of miles apart. Yet they say there's no ROMANCE in drug storing!

A Woman's Glory! A Barber's Income!

HAIR is what we're referring to! The furniture man says "We begin where the preacher leaves off" but we're just a little bit ahead of the furniture man for we sell the stuff that causes the man to lead them up to the preacher. We have the shampoos, Bandolines, Brillantines, Tonics, etc. After the barber come to us.

Interestingness!

Do you sorta always associate certain INTERESTING people with a certain indefinable PERFUME! Ever notice that folks you really REMEMBER seem to have a certain INTERESTING and PLEASING odor? We have 98 different ODORS here in Perfumes for you to make your PERSONAL selection.

Melloglo Beauty Treatment!

Any girl can be pretty with the Melloglo treatment. Pores won't show. Makes the skin fair and lovely. Puts life in the face. Tones up the skin and makes the texture fine, smooth and firm. Gives you a beautiful pink wild rose complexion. Absolutely pure and costs only one dollar for each preparation.

SALESMAN FOR COPS' UNIFORMS GETS SELF ARRESTED TO CANVASS CHIEF

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—John E. Clare, of Waterloo, N. Y., is the ultra-ultra in these days of high pressure, go-get-'em, peppy salesmen. He got himself arrested in order to get an interview with a prospective customer—the chief of police. Though admiring his courage and initiative, officials did not give him an order, a poor climax for a day of tribulation for the undaunted salesman.

Clare sells cloth for police and firemen's uniforms. He had tried vainly to get the official ear and took the official air several times.

So he notified a taxicab driver that he was wanted for a crime committed in California. He said he wanted to give himself up. The taxicab driver said he would accommodate him and offered him a free ride to the police station, as a prisoner.

"Couldn't get in to see you any other way, so I thought I'd come in official capacity," Clare informed Chief of Police Cadin. "I'm selling cloth for uniforms and I want an order."

Chief Cadin, after assuring himself that Clare's story told the taxicab man was a subterfuge, remarked: "You've got plenty of nerve anyway and you deserve an order, but we don't need any cloth today. Close the door as you go out."

If there was only one head to a family, father wouldn't have to buy so many hats.—Zanesville Signal.

Builds Up Thin Sickly Children

Children that are weak, undernourished, backward in school, lack the energy to take a lively, normal interest in play and sports, gain ruddy health and vigor by taking Coco Cod, the pure cod liver oil strength-builder that tastes like chocolate.

Coco Cod is a nutritive system-builder of unequalled effectiveness. To the cod liver oil, which is recognized as the most concentrated nourishment known, is added the health-giving vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach. Coco Cod is flavored with pure cocoa, so that children with the most sensitive stomachs enjoy taking it.

Physicians everywhere recommend Coco Cod for its well-known value in the treatment of weakness in its various forms and because it is palatable. One physician writes: "Have given Coco Cod to a five-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition. Three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take it because it is palatable."

Begin today—build up the children's health with Coco Cod so they will have a fair and equal chance for success in life. All druggists.—Advertisement.

FOOT SUFFERERS

We Invite

Every man and woman here. Every person in this city and vicinity to try this wonderful foot medicine on our guarantee to give satisfactory results.

This is an invitation that no man or woman having corns, bunions, callouses, burning, aching, perspiring feet can afford to ignore. We will tell you why. We are going to give you a wonderful discovery that corrects foot troubles, so quickly, so pleasantly, so thoroughly that you will be amazed. How can ge do this? This way: Science has discovered a concentrated treatment that makes foot troubles disappear as if by magic. Corns shrivel up and drop off in a day or two; pain is banished from bunions with one application; perspiring feet are made cool and dry within two minutes by the watch.

This new foot medicine is called Dax. Don't forget the name D-A-X. Nothing like it has ever been heard of before. It is a liquid, clean, pleasant to use and applied right to the feet. It is a revelation to the man or woman who has tried everything and found nothing to give them foot comfort. It is a real medicine, giving permanent relief by correcting the action of the sweat glands of the feet. It is sure in its action; it is absolutely harmless; it cannot irritate the skin: it cannot stain; it cannot fail. Do you doubt it? Then make this test:

Take a pair of shoes that you find hard to wear and note how heavy and tired and warm they make your feet; note how they make your corns sting and burn. Then go to Jesse D. Holloway or any other good druggist and get a bottle of Dax for 50c, and use as directed. Then try the same shoes again. If your feet are not more comfortable, if perspiring doesn't stop and the ache and pain are not gone, go right back to the druggist and get your money back.

One man says: "Most wonderful preparation I ever used. Feet were terrible, corns a torture, perspiring so bad I had to change my hose twice or three times a day. I used Dax two days and feet feel fine; no more pain or aches, no more damp perspiring feet."

One woman says: "Am a clerk in a store. Stand on my feet all day. Feet swell, perspire and burn, corns most drive me mad. Two applications of Dax gave me real foot comfort. It's wonderful."

But don't take their word for it. Try it yourself and see. Remember if you are not satisfied your druggist will give your money back. Fair enough, isn't it? At Jesse D. Holloway's, or all other good druggists.

ODD WEDDING AND PASSPORT TANGLE CONFUSE COUPLE'S MARRIAGE STATUS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Elizabeth Arnold, 30, and James W. Swindells, 29, of Cambridge, were married in England more than two years ago.

When they tried to do it all over again here they got themselves into a ring of complexities.

In applying for a marriage license the couple claimed to be single. City Clerk Burke began his customary checking up and discovered in the Cambridge city directory a "Mr. and Mrs. James W. Swindells."

When the clerk questioned the couple, the woman told the following story:

"Jim and I met in our town in England in the summer of 1923. We married in the harvest time, and I had been trying for two years to come to the states.

"I got my passport to sail five days before my wedding. I had been twice disappointed in the emigrant quotas, so what was I to do?

"If I changed my passport to my new name it would have taken more time and red tape, so I sailed as Miss Elizabeth Arnold. Jim joined me here, and of course we lived as man and wife.

"Then we started up for our naturalization papers. Our passports named us as single, so we thought we'd get 'spliced' all over again."

Mrs. Swindells shows an English marriage certificate to prove her story, but Clerk Burke would not allow them to marry again until he further investigated their story.

England is considering the establishment of a national moving picture studio.

NIGHT COUGHS Due to throat and bronchial irritations, are stopped by one swallow of Thoxine. Unlike cough syrups Thoxine goes direct to the internal cause and corrects it at once. No chloroform or harmful drugs. 35c, 60c and $1.00

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Kidneys cause backache! No! Your backache is caused by lumbago, rheumatism or a strain and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a 35 cent bottle of St. Jacobs Oil from your druggist. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

In use for 65 years for lumbago, backache, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains. Absolutely harmless. Doesn't burn the skin.

TEST ALBERTA GAS, OIL AND COAL LANDS FOR FUTURE POSSIBILITIES

EDMONTON, Alta. — More than 80,000 square miles of land in Alberta have petroleum possibilities, according to Dr. John Allan, professor of geology in the University of Alberta, in an address here before the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

"Testing of fields has already established the existence of valuable petroleum deposits in the province," said Prof. Allan. "Gasoline of commercial quality is being produced at the rate of 500 barrels a day in one field near Calgary. Wells discovered at Fort Norman in Northern Alberta five years ago are said to be among the most extensive on the continent. Ninety-six oil wells have been drilled in Alberta up to the present time. Fifteen additional wells were under drill in 1925. Geological formations in the province are similar to those in Montana and Wyoming, where oil is found.

"Presence of vast deposits of natural gas and coal in Alberta, which occur almost invariably with petroleum make it seem likely that the province will be a great future source of oil supply. Alberta's coal reserve constitutes one-seventh of all the coal reserves in the world. Most of the rich farm land in the province is underlain with coal. Alberta has 72 per cent of all the known coal in the British Empire.

Airplanes on the new Rome Constantinople route will have a capacity of ten to twelve persons and two metric tons of freight.

O'Brien Boy Thin and Pale

In a Little Over Two Months Gained Eleven Pounds

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's vile, horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compounds Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent. better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Spokane, Wash.—When Willis Willey of this city put on a shirt recently the story went all over the United States. Millions of Americans put on shirts every day, but the fact is not mentioned by any of the big newspapers.

The writer begged Willey for permission to get a photograph of him with his shirt on, but Willis Willey declared he would never be so foolish as to stand before a camera with his clothes on.

It has been said by critics, who wished to give some one a "dirty dig," that anyone can become famous by walking up and down Broadway with his shirt off.

Has No Press Agent.

No one ever suspected that, if a man hid in the woods and took his clothes off, the world would beat a path to his door to see why he chose to be different.

That is just what the world is doing to Willis Willey. He has no press agent to shout his convictions to the world, but his mail comes from all parts of the nation. Why all of this fuss over one man putting on a shirt?

Some five years ago the sheriff began to receive frantic calls about a wild man. Sheriff Clarence Long, now warden of the state penitentiary at Walla Walla, and Secretary of the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police (an organization for the Pacific coast, including the Canadian provinces) sent after the wild man.

Women screamed at the sight of the stranger. All said he must not be of sound mind. Willey wore long whiskers, long hair and his wardrobe was a pair of trousers with the legs cut off just below the hips.

Courts were puzzled by his strange behavior and he was ordered to put on clothes. Willey folded his arms and declared he felt so comfortable he did not wish to do so. There was a childish smile on his face. He went back home and the sheriff continued to receive reports that Willey was running about the country in an automobile and did not wear clothing.

The more skeptical said: "You can bet he will do something terrible."

Began to Smile.

The officers finally began to smile. They appeared to feel pretty much like mother does when Jimmy, or Jennie, pull off their clothes and cavort in the nursery. Many persons talked to Willey and instead of the "wild man" they had pictured he was a good companion, a Quaker in his conduct and a child in simplicity.

Willey has been making his home a few miles from the city of Spokane and he has become so well known that he can go about the country without being disturbed. A few years ago he would have attracted as much attention as a moving picture actor away from Hollywood in his makeup.

It was between Christmas and New Years that Willey came to the courthouse for legal advice. A mortgage had been foreclosed on a tract owned by a relative where he lived and he wanted to be restored to his shack.

Willey was reminded by a deputy prosecutor that he had not obeyed the court order to wear clothes and he was told to go home and cover his nakedness. He wore some khaki trunks but that was all.

The next day Willey appeared at the courthouse and I was notified that it had happened. "Willey has on a shirt," was the news which spread through the corridors.

I went down and talked with Willey while he waited for a hearing, and found him looking through law books at the prosecutor's office.

"What are these?" asked Willey in his childish way. He was told that he had in his hands the laws of the state of New York and that in the cases were the laws of each state in the Union.

Not in the Books.

"When people have common sense I do not see why they need all this law," suggested Willey. He was told that some persons would not be safe unless others were restrained by law from doing them an injustice. He was told that some shrewd persons had been able to use the books for their own selfish gain.

"That is what they tried to do with me. They tried to make me wear clothes. They could not find it in the books or I would be wearing them all the time," continued Willey. He wore a shirt from which the sleeves had been cut four inches from the shoulders. The shirt was not buttoned, but spread open, disclosing a broad, hairy chest. He wore trunks or trousers, with the legs cut off just below the hips, and on his feet a pair of rubbers.

"Why do you not wear clothes?" Willey was asked.

"Just because I feel better without them."

"It is midwinter. Do you feel cold?"

"Not any colder than anyone wearing clothing."

Willey was asked if he liked the publicity. He declared he read but little about himself but that he had many friends who would tell him what was said. He was glad to know that some others had decided to abandon clothes.

His eyes became bright as he talked of the letters from all over the country from those who wanted to get rid of their clothes. He told of a California woman who was going to start out by wearing a bathing suit the year around.

Must Cover Feet.

Willey declared that he would like to discard all clothing for real comfort, but that nature intended one should wear some protection for the feet in winter. He said he had found by tests the feet will not endure frozen ground. A horse must have iron shoes to endure civilization, he said.

Willey said he would not permit himself to be photographed with his shirt on, as he had only put it on to get to talk to the prosecutor a moment. He said he would take it off forever after the interview.

A few seconds later Willey left the courthouse, pulled off his shirt, cranked his auto and went back to the life which he asserts he has learned from the Bible are the laws of nature and the laws of God.

There is an old saying that nothing succeeds like success and now that Willey has become recognized as a permanent institution he is not considered something to be treated lightly.

When a man says he doesn't smoke, drink, gamble, or swear, you could say he was perfect—if he wasn't such a liar.—Athens Messenger.

Catarrh is Caused Within the System

Many people are unwilling to believe that catarrh has fastened itself upon them and shown itself in some derangement or weakness within the system. Often there may be no apparent reason to suspect the existence of this insidious enemy to health, but nevertheless it gets in its work. Catarrh always comes from some cause within the system.

This disease must therefore be combatted by systemic treatment in order to eliminate it permanently. Local treatment in the nose and throat often bring quick relief but it can only be temporary. World's Tonic is so highly praised by catarrh sufferers because it is a systemic treatment for catarrh and not only brings relief from distress but conquers the catarrh within the system and is designed to rid the body entirely of the disease. World's Tonic almost at once relieves the dropping in the throat and discharge from the nose of the poisonous, offensive yellow or bloody pus, and it also quickly stops dryness, huskiness, soreness of nasal passages, pains in head, headaches and the like. At the same time World's Tonic completes its work within the system and has thus brought astonishing results in many cases.

If you suffer from catarrh, have a talk with the men at Carnahan's Drug Store, Brannum at Wellsville and all other first class drug stores.

She Could Never Have Done It With Piles!

Bless the American girl who has glorified all the sports! She makes a pretty picture in the water, and is a plucky swimmer, too. Piles are unthinkable for active women. If you have them, you ought to know this simple thing to do!

At any hour or moment that you have the least distress or discomfort from piles, use a simple Pyramid pile suppository—and go happily on your way! The worst hemorrhoids, even bleeding and badly protruding piles respond at once to the soothing suppository applied in perfect privacy. But bear the name in mind; Pyramid is the one every druggist has, usually the only one he will sell his patrons. Pyramid is marvelous. Why suffer another single half-hour with painful piles?

Sixty cents the box, the world around. But for proof, a free box plainly wrapped will be sent those who write Pyramid Drug Co., 200 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
